President Demands Square Deal.

Enthusiastic Greeting by People of New Hampshire Cities.

Makes Clear His Reasons for Opposition to Recall of Judiciary.

Defines Definitely His Attitude on Tariff and Hopes for Arbitration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONCORD, March 19.—"All that the administration wants is a square deal," said President Taft, speaking from the steps of the Concord (N. H.) Statehouse near the end of his two-days' New England tour.

During his stay in Boston and in New Hampshire the President spoke to audiences, stating definitely his attitude on the tariff, his reasons for opposing the recall of judges and his continued hope for arbitration.

Speechmaking activities today were confined to Nashua, Manchester and Concord, some of his most emphatic utterances on "progressive" measures being delivered from the portico of the Statehouse, with Gov. Robert P. Bass and Col. Roosevelt's most ardent supporters, as a respectful audience.

"The New Hampshire people have come to hear and hear the President," said a railroad square in Nashua was filled with mill hands of democratic politics as well as progressive doss."

SUMMARY.

was one epigram the President gave his hearers. He also gave a concise outline of his idea of the adoption of the principle of recall of judges and decisions.

"Adopt such measures," he said, "and you will have a government of special instances. You would have a Constitution that is to be applied at one time and not applied at another. That, my friends, is nothing but a government of special instances that has not the uniformity of law and constitution and is the most tyrannical form of government we can have.

"This question of a change in the judiciary means that we may recall judges that we do not like, if they happen to decide against us, or if they happen to decide a question one way we may submit it to popular election to decide whether the court decided right or not.

"I am in favor of the people, but I do not think the people are charged with the knowledge of the law as are the courts of New Hampshire or as is the Supreme Court of the United States.

"I believe in popular government, but I believe in popular government ordered by constitution and by law.

"You give up an independent judiciary and you might as well give up your Constitution. I know enough about the common sense of the American people to know that they will never give up the Constitution and they are not going to be honeyfogled out of it by being told that they are fit to interpret nice questions of constitutional law just as well as or better than judges.

"The American people are a great people, because they can stand having the truth told to them about themselves without getting mad about it, and without turning on the man who tells the truth."

Returning to Boston in the early evening President Taft made a brief call at the dinner of the New England Street Railway Club. He left at 8 p.m. for Washington, where he will arrive tomorrow morning.

The Goose Lake line was incorporated to build a road from Alturas to Anderson and Vina through the five counties named.

JAIL FOR MOTHER.

Seattle Woman Persists in Staying in Jail for Contempt to Protect Her Son.

SEATTLE, March 19.—Mother love, which sent Mrs. Lottie Kramer to jail yesterday upon her refusal to testify against her son, L. M. Kramer, who is on trial for stealing his mother's jewels, sent her back to her prison bed tonight. Mrs. Kramer, called into court today, again refused to answer questions.

"I do not mind imprisonment," she said. "I have a clean bed, the meals are fair, and the coffee is good."

Attorneys for the commonwealth said tonight they would take Mrs. Kramer into court every court day, and ask her the same questions, until her thirty-day sentence for contempt expires, or she proves tractable.

SHE INSISTS ON PAJAMAS.

DR. MARY WALKER, SERIOUSLY ILL, LEAVES HOSPITAL.

Cannot Stand Being Pampered by "A Lot of Female Nurses," and Breaks All Rules and Regulations by Balking at Nightdress—Famous Woman Dons Breeches.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Mary Walker, who for almost half a century has been the most famous woman in the world "in trousers," insisted on being removed from the Presbyterian Hospital today because she could not stand being pampered by "a lot of female nurses."

She was driven to the Gerard Hotel in a taxicab, accompanied by her friend and protector, Mrs. Nellie B. Van Slingerland, founder of the Betterment League. Notwithstanding her removal she is still in a critical condition, and physicians who attended her in the hospital fear that pneumonia will develop any moment.

Dr. Mary's troubles in the hospital began from the moment the nurses sought to envelop her tiny frame in a hospital nightdress.

"Take it away," she cried, "and bring me a suit of pajamas. I wouldn't wear that thing, hospital or no hospital."

The hospital rules prescribe that women patients shall be encased in nightdresses. There were no ladies' pajamas in the establishment. The house surgeons were called into conclave. They entered Dr. Mary's room and argued with her to yield to hospital rules.

"Never," she cried. "I wear nothing but pajamas. Find me a suit of pajamas or wrap me in a sheet. I know what I want to wear and I intend to wear it."

Another conference was held among the nurses and doctors, and after a terrific straining at red tape a way was found to provide the patient with pajamas. As soon as these enveloped her emaciated form she felt better and dropped off to sleep. But when she awoke this morning Dr. Mary would not allow female nurses to administer to her. She refused to take the diet prescribed and demanded bananas and cornmeal gruel. When this was not forthcoming she insisted that she be taken from the hospital.

OIL MAY BE SOLUTION.

Government Is Accordingly Cautious in Dealing With the Great Strike.

Since Being Put to Test the People Are Working Out Their Salvation.

Miners Begin to Fear They May Be Killing Their Own Industry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prudence is mentioned in all quarters today as the distinguishing quality of the government's policy in dealing with the miners' strike. The minimum wage bill, lacking, as it does, any compulsory feature, stops short of what was generally urged and expected. Yet the opinion seems general that it goes as far as the immediate crisis warrants.

Two considerations governed the Cabinet's action; first, the disinclination of both mine owners and mine workers to try the experiment of State-enforced arbitration; second, the belief that natural causes are steadily pushing the disputants toward an agreement. The owners realize that the public, beset by the inconveniences and dangers of a coal famine, is energetically tackling the problem of how to free itself to some extent from the despotism of coal. Railway managers, seeing petrol threatening largely to reduce the importance of steam for the transportation of the necessaries of life, are using their influences with the colliery owners to avoid emphasizing any more than may be inevitable the people's need of a substitute for coal.

Already huge schemes for underground petrol storage are being discussed. Motor road transit is daily coming into more general use and garages are accumulating emergency stocks of petrol, tires and spare parts of motor vehicles. Some of the locomotive builders are recommending an alternative system, having oil for fuel. The Great Eastern Railroad Company has had a number of its engines fitted for burning oil and the operators of the street car and subway lines are considering new petrol and electric systems.

MEANS LOSS OF POWER.

The comparative dwindling of coal as a primary necessity of industry and commerce also is having its effect on the miners. They realize that it means the loss of power on their part to hold the country to ransom. The result is a feeling of uneasiness among the men and a disposition to reach a voluntary settlement as soon as possible.

If the moral influence of a Parliament act as embodied in the minimum wage bill proves insufficient to start the mines within a reasonable time, further political action is contemplated. The government merely wishes to advance step by step, always hoping that before legal compulsory steps become necessary a settle-

BLIZZARD CHASES FLOODS ACROSS SUFFERING EAST.

Temperature Dropping Rapidly in Wave Sweeping from Northwest, Where Twenty-six Below Zero Is Reported—Towns in Illinois and Indiana Destroyed by Tornado and Water.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just as the country had been lulled into the belief that spring had finally broken through the three months' steady onslaught of winter comes the formal announcement that another blizzard, forming in the Northwest, is heading south.

Practically the entire country, including the uppermost Canadian points, has been enjoying two days of actual spring weather and great banks of snow, standing all winter, disappeared, leaving in their stead ponds of water. The ground is frozen to such depth that no water can be absorbed and floods are feared when the vast volume of melted snow gets into the streams.

Tonight the temperature is falling in Chicago and the Great Lakes region at the rate of four degrees an hour. Advices from the Northwest say the temperature there is as low as 26 below zero and that a rip-roaring blizzard is spreading to the Southwest. It will probably strike the Great Lakes region by daylight and sweep on through the Ohio valley by evening, unless sudden changes in the air currents shift its course or dissipate its force.

In lower Illinois the advance herald of the storm took on the form of a tornado, destroying Ripley, a town of 600 inhabitants. More than 100 persons were rendered homeless in Greenville and much damage was done in Smithboro, New Douglas and other towns. No lives were lost, but many persons were injured and the property loss is heavy.

At Logansport, Ind., a great ice gorge in Eel River has forced the channel into the business district of the city, sweeping down twenty residences and doing much property damage.

All the western Canadian stations show from 10 to 22 below zero and all of the Northwest is colder by approximately 30 degrees than last night. Snow is falling in Wyoming, Montana, Minnesota, North Dakota and Western Canada. Rain is falling in West Virginia, Florida, Lower Illinois, portions of the Ohio Valley, Lower Indiana, Arizona and the North Pacific Coast.

The official forecast tonight is for very much colder tomorrow, with snow in the Great Lakes region and rain or snow in the Middle Central States, continuing through Thursday, with cold wave.

MORGAN PLANS TO BRING NOTED RUINS TO AMERICA.

Reported to Be Negotiating for Temple of Philae, in Egypt, Which Is Threatened With Destruction by Nile—Cost of Removal Will Be More Than Eight Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—Following J. P. Morgan's long sojourn in Egypt this winter, reports have reached this city to the effect that he is negotiating for the purchase and removal to America of the famous ruins of the Temple of Philae.

The temple is threatened with destruction owing to the rise in the level of the upper Nile as a result of the enlargement of the Assuan dam.

The ancient edifice is already partly submerged, and the completion of the dam extension probably will obliterate the entire ruin.

The cost of the work which Mr. Morgan is said contemplate would be more than $8,000,000.

"SEGAL IS SQUIRMING."

Government Offers Letters Between Late President of Sugar "Trust" and Counsel at Trial.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—Correspondence between the late Henry O. Havemeyer, president of the American Sugar Refining Company, and John E. Parsons, counsel, who is charged with others as having acted criminally in closing up the rival Pennsylvania sugar refinery in 1905, was introduced by the government at the trial today.

"Segal is squirming," Parsons wrote to Havemeyer in June, 1904, according to one letter introduced, referring to Adolph Segal, president of the rival Pennsylvania refinery, and to the negotiation of the big loan to Segal, made by Gustave Kissel, acting, it is alleged, in behalf of the American Sugar Refining Company.

Letter after letter was read by Dist. Atty. Wise, trying to show that the loan to Segal was used by the American Sugar Refining Company as a club against a dangerous rival and that by it the "trust" finally got the other refinery into its own hands.

Central Aid Committee, at Last Permitted by Government, Issues Strong Appeal to World for Assistance for 31,000,000 People Who Are Suffering Acutely.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG (Russia) March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Full knowledge of the famine in Eastern and Southeastern Russia is beginning to reach the outer world. The first news of the calamity was cabled to the Los Angeles Times last November. At that time 10,000,000 people were affected; today it is officially admitted that 31,000,000 are suffering acutely.

The Central Aid Committee in St. Petersburg, which has finally been permitted by the government to make a collection, issues a strong appeal to the nation and to other countries. It announces that a great London newspaper has asked Prince Kropotkin to appeal to the British people and has agreed to receive contributions and forward them to the Imperial Society of Economics in this city.

People here are requested to give what they can even if it is only five kopeks (2½ cents) which will save a person from starvation one day. The public is responding with great generosity and in two days 181,000 rubles ($90,500) has been collected in St. Petersburg and its suburbs.

La Follette Scores Decisively Over Third Termer in North Dakota.

Many Precincts Give Two to One Majority for Wisconsin Senator.

Tryout of Presidential Primaries Is Disastrous to Chief Advocate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FARGO (N. D.) March 19.—Late tonight Frank Talcott, chairman of the Republican State Committee, and John F. Bass of Chicago, manager of the Roosevelt campaign in this State, notified Senator Dixon at Washington that in their opinion Senator La Follette had carried the North Dakota Presidential primaries.

Neither made a prediction as to La Follette's plurality.

Going over the figures from eighteen of the forty-nine counties in the State the Roosevelt men conceded ten of them to La Follette outright, listed two others as about even and claimed six counties for their candidate.

With these figures as a basis, it was decided that there were not enough Roosevelt votes on the western slope to balance the heavy poll for La Follette in the eastern portion of the State.

With Grand Forks, Valley City, Devil's Lake, Minot and other of the larger cities listed for La Follette, it seemed that the Wisconsin Senator's plurality would be large.

Leaders of the La Follette movement sent a telegram to Senator La Follette asserting that he had won the preference primary by from 15,000 to 20,000 votes.

President Taft did not figure prominently in the contest.

Because of the difficulty in securing accurate complete returns from many isolated quarters of the State, it is doubtful if the total vote in all the 1800 precincts will be known until late tomorrow.

The total vote was estimated at 50,000, but owing to the severe storm which swept the State today, it is probable that the vote cast probably was near 50,000.

The blizzard was much more severe in the western portion, which was considered Roosevelt territory, because of his residence near Medora for a number of years.

LA FOLLETTE GLAD HE GOT "COW COUNTRY."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—"That's better even than I expected," said Senator Robert M. La Follette, upon his arrival here tonight from Devil's Lake, N. D., when he was shown early returns from the North Dakota primary. "I am glad to see that the so-called 'cow country' returned the results it did. My friends in that State cannot be fooled by mere talk and North Dakota can't be shaken from its progressive trend."

"So, Mr. Bass said Roosevelt suffered because Democrats prevented the people from expressing their desires for the Presidential nomination, did he? In many of these precincts there aren't many Democrats. I suppose there they will have the cows voting for me, too, to override the will of the people. That's as good an explanation as the other and about as likely.

"Generally, I say now only what I have said all along, that people are considering principles in this contest and they are ignorant of all else than progressive principles. They consider men only in so far as the individuals by their past and present actions may be expected with most reason to carry out progressive ideas.

"I never have been President and hence have had no opportunity to handle the growing trend of big interests toward ignoring absolutely any consideration for the rights of the people. People, in voting, have had to consider me only from those things I have been able to do in lesser fields of opportunity.

"But there are those who have been President and who have had that opportunity. Indeed there were two of them on the ballots in North Dakota. May I say, with pardonable satisfaction, that the result as shown by these reports, then, are very encouraging to one who is making a fight for better things? I guess I don't need to say anything more."

SCARE IS SUBSIDING.

NEW YORK, March 19.—There was a subsidence of the anthracite strike scare today and in consequence there was a falling off in the pressing demand for hard coal from frightened consumers. The belief is gaining ground that an agreement will be reached and that if there is a suspension of work April 1, it will not last long.

The report from the West that President Taft might be asked to take a hand in the situation to avert a strike was read with interest, but there was no comment made by the operators. Local hotels, hospitals and transit lines are well stocked with coal in preparation for a long strike.

MAN HUNT IS KEEPING HOT.

But Allens Have So Far Outwitted Pursuers.

Posses, Reinforced, Scour the Hills for Assassins.

Leader's Wife Denies Knowing Where He Is.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HILLSVILLE (Va.) March 19.—Messengers from the posses guarding the roads in the mountains have reported the Carroll County Courthouse assassins at a point about five miles from Floyd Allen's home. Every available man in Hillsville has hurried up into the hills tonight in the hope of surrounding them before they get away.

Reports from Mt. Airy, N. C., received here late today, left serious doubt as to whether the outlaws had been surrounded at Squirrel's Spur, as had been reported last night.

Detectives have searched the roads and houses in this vicinity within a radius of fifteen miles and have been unable to find a clew to the present hiding places of the fugitives. Without facilities for camping the posse has not dared to spend a night in the mountains anywhere near the summit of the Blue Ridge, where the Allens are believed to be hiding.

Four members of the posse who accompanied Deputy Field Agent Steve Faddis of the revenue service to Floyd Allen's home to confiscate illicit stills and other paraphernalia, returned today. They brought with them four outfits and also about fifty gallons of moonshine whisky. A great quantity of the illicit whisky was poured out on the mountainside. Two stills were found at Sidna Edwards's house.

Hillsville regained its composure today, but the women remain indoors. There were few men who do not believe the Allens will make good their threat to kill Attorney Tompkins, Sheriff Edwards and James Early.

There was much excitement in the village today when Jasper (Jack) Allen, a brother of the fugitive outlaws, rode into town with a posse of detectives. His mission was to secure the services of an attorney to fight the attachments that are being levied by the county attorneys on the property of the Allens in connection with the civil suits by the relatives of those killed in the tragedy.

"Jack" Allen was not involved in the shooting. He said his brother Sidna and the others would fight to a finish.

Interest shifted from the Devil's Den vicinity to Squirrel's Spur late yesterday, when a large posse which has been scouring the mountains on the North Carolina side, barely missed catching Wesley Edwards, a nephew of the elder Allen, at his cabin eight miles east of Sidna Allen's home. Edwards escaped through a back door. His sister told the officers that Sidna, suffering from a severe wound, had been in the cabin Sunday and had told Wesley to meet him at Squirrel's Spur last night.

The posse followed Edwards to the rendezvous, arriving near the foot of the cliff about 10 o'clock. Not daring to do more in the darkness, the detectives placed themselves to prevent the possibility of an escape.

The belief is growing here that the fugitives, a full day ahead of their pursuers, have escaped and scattered. They would not be recognized after traveling 25 miles in any direction. If they have fled in pairs, perhaps to reunite somewhere in North Carolina, West Virginia or Tennessee, there is no possibility of early capture.

Capt. H. W. Davint of the State militia is believed to be anxious to surround the mountains with 200 men and peer into every nook and cranny day after day leaving strong guards on the principal highways to cut off any food supplies. At the same time every effort is being made to circulate descriptions of the Allens among the county authorities of all neighboring States.

Faith of many people here, however, still is placed in the ability of the mountaineers and detectives to locate the Allens. It is believed that by watching the activities of women members of the Allen clan, they may intercept some communication.

Mrs. Sidna Allen, at the home of Steven Williams, expressed regret when told that Floyd Allen was still alive.

"I have no idea where Sidna went when he left Thursday," she continued, "I only wish I did. I wish there never had been a gun made. I left our home the night this awful thing happened and my husband was still there. As I kissed him good-by, he told me to do everything I could for our two little children and be kind to his dog and cat."

Sidna Allen has two pretty children, both girls, Marguerite, aged 10, and Pauline, aged 5.

"I do not know if Sidna is lying wounded, perhaps starving to death," said Mrs. Allen. "Regardless of what he did in county court Thursday, I want to say that there never was a kinder or more loving husband and father. He has an awful temper. That was responsible for whatever he did. I do not believe Sid plotted to shoot the court officers.

"If I knew where he was I would go to him and nurse him. He is a good man with many virtues, and one fault — his ungovernable temper, which makes him a wild man when he is aroused."

Mrs. Allen inquired about the condition of Floyd Allen, now in jail at Roanoke. When told he was improving she remarked:

"Too bad he didn't die, don't you think?"

The opinion was expressed today that the members of the detective posse going in and out of Hillsville daily are being used as a blind to throw the Allens and their friends off their guard. It is known that Chief Tom Felts and at least a dozen of his men, all of whom are familiar with the mountain section here, have secreted themselves on hills and among the roadways over which they believe the outlaws are traveling on foot. The detectives say that none of the hunted men had a horse when he left home.

TO ASK FEDERAL AID.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) March 19.—A correspondent at Mt. Airy, N. C., wires that officers positively deny that the Allens are surrounded in the Squirrel's Gap section. They say that if the Allens had been located up to this time the officers on the Mt. Airy side know nothing of it.

It is reported that Detective Felts has gone to Washington to ask for Federal cavalrymen to aid in the search for the Allens. This is made possible, it is said, by the finding of illicit stills in the Allen homes.

GERMANY TO INVESTIGATE MEXICAN SUSPECTS' ESCAPE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 19.—The German minister, Baron von Hintz, will go to Pueblo tomorrow to investigate the escape five days ago of twenty suspects held for the murder and mutilation of four Germans at the Covadonga factory in Puebla.

The suspects escaped through a tunnel dug under the penitentiary walls. The German Minister is said to have stated to the Mexican Foreign Office his belief that it was the purpose of the State authorities to facilitate the escape of the men.

A report that a period of 36 hours had been fixed by the German government wherein Mexico was required to furnish ample satisfaction that the government was proceeding in good faith was denied by Minister von Hintz.

The Germans lived in quarters which were destroyed during a fight between rurales of the Diaz regime and Maderistas. In the ruins were found the bodies of Alfred Boer and his wife, Wilhelm Kuhlman and Peter Schultz. The woman had been tortured.

Emiliano Zapata having been driven out of the State of Morelos, has now transferred his activities to the State of Pueblo, where, at Petlaicingo, the so-called provisional capital, he has proclaimed Jesus Morales (alias Tuerto, or the one-eyed) Governor. Enfemio, a brother of Zapata, with 600 men, yesterday captured two towns.

Jesus Morales is a native of the State of Pueblo and its most notorious bandit, his naming as Governor counting for much in the support of Zapata's cause in that State. Haciendados are terrified and are asking for troops.

The railroad is open to traffic from here to Torreon. The condition near that city is reported greatly improved.

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) March 19.—Gen. Jose de la Luz Soto, commanding 500 rurales garrisoning the city of Parral, telegraphed to Gen. Orozco today that he and his men would join the revolution. His decision came speedily after Orozco had hinted at attacking him.

Felipe Guitierrez, the new revolutionary Governor of the State of Chihuahua, has drafted a bill to be urged before the Legislature to issue State bonds for a loan of $600,000 gold for the revolutionary army. A local bank is said to have agreed to furnish the money if the bonds are issued legally.

A railroad man who returned today from a point below Jiminez reported that a force of Federals is moving north from Torreon and has reached Bermejillo. The rebel outposts withdrew to Gen. Salazar's base at Jimirez.

POLICE SURGEON TRAPPED IN ELEVATOR BY OPERATOR

HELD a prisoner in the cage of the elevator of the Walter P. Story building by a special officer who displayed all the symptoms of being insane as the result of drink, Dr. Charles E. Zerfing, chief police surgeon, was threatened with instant death late last night when he attempted to alight from his narrow prison and but for the timely arrival of a regular police officer it is believed that Dr. Zerfing might have met death at the hands of the infuriated attendant.

After many minutes spent in coaxing his captor to release him from the elevator the well-known physician finally was rescued and at once made his way to police headquarters, where he entered formal complaint against the custodian of the building.

"I had been in my office on the tenth floor studying until after 11 o'clock and was ready to descend to the ground floor when I noticed that the elevator was somewhere in the basement," said Dr. Zerfing after he had been released from his temporary prison.

"I had signalled the elevator attendant and had been obliged to wait more than fifteen minutes when a man in the uniform of a special officer suddenly appeared in the car and demanded to know what I wanted.

"As we reached the bottom of the chute the man suddenly demanded to know my identity and when I refused to reveal my name he reversed the elevator and carried me upwards until the car had lodged between two floors. In this helpless position he menaced my life but finally released me when he found that a regular officer had entered the building."

The police department started an investigation but was unable to apprehend the culprit, but assurances were given by the officers that he would be in custody before morning.

FRENCH COAL STRIKE IS SPREADING WIDELY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENAIN (France) Mar. 19.—The strike which broke out yesterday among the coal miners here, is extending throughout the district. Of the 13,000 miners attached to the pits about seven thousand have quit. They demand an eight hour day and a pension of 40 cents a day at the conclusion of 25 years service.

GERMAN MINERS ARE LOSING THEIR FIGHT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN Mar. 19.—The leaders of the miners' unions decided during their session at Bochum today to terminate the coal strike in Westphalia, as they consider it futile.

The houses of three non-union miners near Dortmend were dynamited today. No one was hurt.

NAVY GETS UNEASY.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The possibilities of a coal strike are causing anxiety at the Navy Department, and Secretary Meyer will confer tomorrow with representatives of some of the bituminous coal companies which supply the navy.

Twenty-five foreign steamers in Hampton Roads waiting for bunker coal, are offering $1.50 a ton more than the navy pays. The Boston navy yard is short of coal and there is some apprehension that other yards soon will be affected, but the fleet is in better condition owing to the ability of the ships to select their coaling ports.

Another serious question soon may arise when it becomes necessary to replenish the stores of coal shipped from the Virginia mines to the insular possessions and the foreign stations of the American fleet. Indications are that the contracts which the navy soon will make for its coal supply for the next fiscal year will show a considerable increase in price.

GERMAN RULER ABANDONS TRIP.

Change in Plan Is Laid to Churchill's Speech.

Haldane's Negotiations Are All Up in the Air.

Press in Germany Angry at First Lord's Utterance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, March 19.—Emperor William has most unexpectedly postponed his departure for Vienna, Venice and Corfu, which was scheduled for March 22. The reason officially assigned is "difficulties in the sphere of international politics."

This explanation is so indefinite that it may refer either to the coal strike, or, as is more probable, to the conflict over the provision of finances to cover the increases in the army and navy recently decided upon and which caused the resignation of Adolph Wermuth, formerly secretary of the imperial treasury.

There is a strong disposition, however, to connect the Emperor's action with the speech delivered yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, in the British House of Commons. This view is strengthened by the fact that the Emperor in the course of the morning paid a long visit to Admiral Albert P. Von Tirpitz, secretary of the imperial navy, immediately after which leading officers of the admiralty staff assembled in conference, the object of which is not disclosed. The reason impelling the Emperor to change the plans of his foreign trip must be quite important as it will involve the embarrassment of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, whose arrangements for the meeting have been made.

Public opinion on the speech of Winston Spencer Churchill has not crystalized, but his references to Germany are regarded in many quarters as highly inopportune, in view of the attempts being made to reach an understanding between the two countries. The negotiations which followed on the trip to Berlin of Viscount Haldane, British Secretary of State for War, are being continued, but any big hopes of their success which may have been entertained are failing gradually. The negotiators would be satisfied, in all probability, if they could achieve no more than a simple removal of the sources of misunderstanding which hitherto have existed.

The Bourse was weak today, operators regarding Mr. Churchill's address as to a certain extent unfriendly to Germany, and the postponement of the Corfu trip of the Emperor giving birth to many rumors in regard to the internal and foreign situation. Government stocks were generally lower.

Misgivings aroused by the announcement of the change in the Emperor's plans were quickly allayed by another notification issued by the office of the court marshal, which states that the old arrangements for the Emperor's departure on Friday now will be carried out.

The Emperor, after visiting Admiral Von Tirpitz, with the ostensible object of offering him congratulations on his birthday anniversary, which occurred today, conferred with Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial Chancellor, for three-quarters of an hour.

The German Empress departs for Badnauheim on April 9 for eight weeks.

ADOPTS SHARP TONE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLOGNE (Germany) March 19.—In replying today to the speech made yesterday by Winston Spencer Churchill in the British House of Commons, the Cologne Gazette adopts an unusually sharp tone. It says in substance that Great Britain must decide from the standpoint of her own interests what increase of her fleet is necessary, and that Germany must do the same thing. It continues:

"Germany will hardly ever have a navy equal to that of Great Britain, but if Germany's navy is to be destroyed the victory must cost the enemy so heavily that England will hardly have any resources left to defend its great international interests."

GUARD AGAINST ANARCHISTS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, March 19.—Reports that a Swiss anarchist had threatened to make an attempt against the lives of the German and Italian monarchs during the approaching visit of Emperor William at Venice have caused extraordinary measures to be taken along the Italian frontier to ascertain the identity of suspected individuals.

HAS ONE MARRIAGE ANNULLED.

Man With a Multiplicity of Wives Loses One to Escape the Charge of Bigamy.

Roy Howard of San Diego, who divorced his wife without her knowledge, married an actress and was compelled to have the latter marriage annulled when the right Mrs. Howard had the decree set aside, was divorced in Judge Rives's court yesterday.

Howard did not put in an appearance, but he was represented by counsel. The charge was statutory. The deposition of a San Francisco hotel man was a clincher against him.

The Howards were married in San Diego February 19, 1902. Howard was manager of the Howard Iron Works. His father at one time was president of a bank. Differences arose and they separated, but became reconciled and finally Howard sent his wife to Detroit where she was to remain until he prepared a new home for her, ostensibly in Seattle or Portland.

Meantime, Mrs. Howard alleges, her husband slipped off to Reno and filed suit for divorce, stating that she was residing at the Van Nuys, this city. The summons was sent there and no service being shown, Howard obtained a decree and married Maud Armstrong in San Diego.

Friends in San Diego tipped off the astonishing news to the wife in Detroit and she returned, starting at once for Reno, where the decree was set aside on the ground of fraud. This proceeding made Howard a bigamist and to escape the consequence of a criminal charge, he obtained an annulment of his marriage to Maud Armstrong.

PRESIDENT IN TOUCH.

MANCHESTER (N. H.) March 19.—It became known today that while President Taft had not sought to interfere in the anthracite coal deadlock, he was keeping in close touch with both sides and would see John Mitchell this week.

OIL MAY SOLVE.

ment will be forced by the pressure of events and public opinion.

The eagerness of the government not to entangle manufacturers and trade in a web of laws, but to leave them as free as possible to work out their own destiny, is indicated by the fact that Premier Asquith's bill, as introduced today, is not only non-compulsory, but is limited to the existing emergency.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL GIVEN FIRST READING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 19.—The coal miners' minimum wage bill, designed to put an end to the coal strike, passed its first reading in the House of Commons tonight. The bill is backed by Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Grey, Chancellor Lloyd George and Sydney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade. It consists of six clauses and a schedule defining twenty-one districts, the country being divided for the purpose of the bill.

As outlined by the Prime Minister, the bill provides a "reasonable minimum wage" for the miners and safeguards for the owners, these to be arranged by district boards. The minimum will be paid from the date of resumption of work. The enactment is for three years.

An important clause provides that if within a fortnight any district lacks a recognized district board, the Board of Trade may appoint any person to act in place of the local body.

There is nothing in the bill to prevent a recurrence of the strike should the miners be dissatisfied with a district board decision.

District boards will frame regulations and conditions for assuring the regularity and efficiency of the work in the mines, and workmen failing to comply with those conditions and regulations are not to be entitled to the fixed minimum wage.

NO PENAL PROVISIONS.

The bill does not contain any penal provisions for either side and does not compel an owner to open his mine or the workmen to descend into the pit. Workmen who are paid less than the minimum wage will be able to recover in the courts.

Premier Asquith said that he introduced the bill with great reluctance, but that it is absolutely imperative in the interests of the country. The government only resorted to legislation when all hope of a settlement by agreement between the employers and the miners had disappeared. He believed that after the passage of the bill and the establishment of the principle of a minimum wage by law there would be no difficulty in settling the trouble.

BONAR LAW SKEPTICAL.

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the House, said he would await the publication of the text of the bill which Premier Asquith had promised would be available tonight, before committing the opposition for or against it. His mistrust of the policy of the bill, however, was strong and the remedy proposed by the government was conceivably far more serious than the disease.

The government's bill invited every other trade to ask for similar treatment.

The bill does not give promise of easy passage through Parliament. The opposition is dissatisfied with the absence of penal clauses or measures for compulsory arbitration, and will move amendments with a view to remedy this.

URGED AS AN EXPEDIENT.

Chancellor Lloyd George said the government was confronted by the necessity of speedily terminating the strike, but that recourse to drastic methods would create a perilous situation. The bill was far from revolutionary. It had been accepted by many owners, and to prevent a national calamity, which would result from prolongation of the strike, it was worth experimenting with. Even though the remedy provided was only temporary, it gave the nation time to devise a more permanent solution of the problem.

J. Ramsay McDonald, on behalf of the labor party, regretted the necessity for the bill, but said the labor members would give it all their support if it were amended in regard to safeguards.

"The inclusion of a workmen's schedule will be one of the amendments," he said. "There must be security that the district boards should have no power to reduce the existing rates of pay."

ALL COAL MINES MUST SUSPEND.

BITUMINOUS OPERATIONS WILL CEASE FIRST OF APRIL.

Miners and Operators Unable to Reach an Agreement, and Neither Willing to Work Without One. An Officer of Association Says Tie-up Is Only Way Open.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—Announcement was made to the Illinois Coal Operators' Association today that it would be practically impossible for miners and operators in the bituminous fields to reach a new agreement by April 1 and that a suspension on that date was certain.

It was said that even if the miners and operators of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, at their conference at Cleveland tomorrow reached an amicable arrangement it would be impossible to draw up the terms of a two-years' agreement by the first of the month and that a suspension of business, if not a strike, therefore was inevitable.

C. E. McLaughtin, secretary of the association, declared that 200,000 miners in the four States alone would be affected. As at least six other States—Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa and Michigan—use the agreement as the basis for their contracts, Mr. McLaughtin said, practically the entire bituminous coal field with 400,000 men involved, would face a suspension of business.

"Neither the miners nor the operators would be willing to operate without an agreement, even if the miners show a disposition not to strike. How long business will be stopped cannot be prophesied. In our district the miners affected will be: Illinois, 70,000; Indiana, 18,000; Ohio, 28,000, and the rest in Pennsylvania."

The above statement was made by H. M. Taylor president of the association, before leaving Chicago for Cleveland to attend the conference there. Mr. Taylor also said the union was asking for 10 per cent. increase in wages, with a reduction in working hours which would amount to another 10 per cent. increase in the wage cost. He said the operators were determinated not to yield to these demands.

ISSUE HANGING FIRE.

HALF-MILLION MEN WAITING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) March 19.—Whether there will be war or peace in the bituminous fields at the expiration of the present contracts on March 31 will be known, it was said today, by the end of the first session of the conference of operators and miners of Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois here tomorrow.

Three hundred and six thousand bituminous miners in the States and Canada will be the result of the conference. strike is called nearly will quit work on April was predicted the also will walk out.

Briefly stated, the The operators demand crease.

APPOINTMENT IS PROTESTED.

Arizona Legislature Lines Up Against ex-Gov. Sloane.

Adopts Resolution Attacking Him and His Record.

Asks Senate Not to Confirm President's Action.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 19.—A memorial resolution protesting against the confirmation of President Taft's appointment of ex-Gov. Richard E. Sloan as United States District Judge for Arizona and addresses to the United States Senate has been framed in the State Senate here, unanimously approved in caucus by Democratic Senators, and will be brought to the attention of the House of Representatives by a Senate Committee of three, appointed for that purpose, consisting of Senators Homer Wood, President; A. A. Worsley and John T. Hughes, Tucson.

It is probable that the House will choose a committee of three members to confer with the Senate Committee concerning the resolution, the framing of which is supposed to have been a direct result of the action of the Arizona Bar Association in endorsing Sloan yesterday. The Senate resolution is very positive in its condemnation of Sloan, refers to the alleged active part he took against the adoption of the State Constitution, and charges him with irregularities as former District Judge and Governor.

The sessions of both the State Senate and the House, which began at 1 o'clock this afternoon and lasted several hours, were occupied almost wholly with the organization of committees and other routine work. Twenty-four standing committees were provided for the Senate and twenty-three for the House. The two committees of three, appointed by the Senate and House, respectively to recommend changes in the Legislature, made a report providing twenty-five appointments in the House and nineteen in the Senate.

The appointment of attaches was made as recommended, and the compensation was fixed at $5 a day for all except the secretary of the Senate, who will receive $6.

Expressions of dissatisfaction over the large number of appointees in the House, were heard among the advocates of economy in legislative circles late this afternoon, as some had expected a radical change from the old regime in this respect.

Additional appointments of importance made in the House were W. F. Kramer, Maricopa county, sergeant-at-arms; Rev. W. R. Thornton, Maricopa county, chaplain; J. O. Baylor, Pima county, assistant chief clerk; J. Munch, Santa Cruz county, engrossing and engrossing clerk, and Mrs. Harriet Oliver, Yavapai county, journal clerk.

Among the important appointments in the Senate were Thomas H. Hennessey, Maricopa county, assistant secretary; Con Cronin, Santa Cruz county, enrolling and engrossing clerk; Joseph Wiley, Pima county, sergeant-at-arms.

The New States of Arizona and New Mexico exchanged telegraphic felicitations this afternoon.

The recall and equal suffrage amendments to the Constitution are expected to occupy most of the legislative sessions tomorrow afternoon.

OREGON PLATE STOLEN.

San Francisco "Stool Pigeons" Given Word City Is Guilty of Gross Breach of Hospitality.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—It was discovered early today that the bronze plate on the flag pole planted by the visiting Oregon delegation last week, to mark the site of the Oregon building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, had been stolen.

"Oregon is first," was the inscription on the plate.

The police were asked to inform the "stool pigeons" that "San Francisco has had been guilty of a gross breach of hospitality" and to circulate a request among members of the organization, asking for a return of the memorial. A telegram was dispatched to Gov. West stating that if Oregon would provide another plate the exposition company would supply some engraving rivets to fasten it to the staff.

MILD STRIKE IN NORTH.

THREADS; PLANTS ARE CLOSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ABERDEEN (Wash.) March 19.—The strike of lumber mill hands which originated in Hoquiam last week extended to this city today. Employees of the American mill went out and one hundred employees of the Slade Lumber Company, one of the largest plants in the Pacific Northwest, also struck today. The mill owners here are adopting the policy of closing their plants rather than enter into a controversy with the men.

"I AM A TRAITOR."

RUNAWAY CONVICT STORY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—"I am a traitor and an ingrate and have broken faith with the warden of the state penitentiary. My conscience troubles me and I want to go back and finish my sentence." Joseph McCord, convicted forger, who surrendered himself to the police here last night after running away from Salem (Or.) prison, made the above explanation today. McMillan will be released under the "honor system" after serving six months of his five-years' sentence.

GAS CONCERNS CHARTERED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office here today for two new gas and electric companies to operate in the vicinity of San Francisco, one with a capital of $5,000,000 and the other of $4,000,000. The Coast Valleys Gas and Electric Company and the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company. These two companies will reach to the Santa Cruz and Watsonville districts.

Posse Looking For Man Seen in Santa Cruz Mountains, Suspecting He is Wanted for Robbery.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA CRUZ (Cal.) March 19.—Following a clue given by a party of hunters, who reported that they had entertained a man carrying a dinner pail full of $20 golds pieces, a posse of San Francisco detectives entered the California Redwood park in Big Basin in search of the man they believe to be George Houghton, the chauffeur who held up the paymaster of a San Francisco, draying firm a week ago and robbed him of $2600 in cash.

The man told the hunters he was searching for botanical specimens and always carried his money with him, being afraid of banks.

The posse has guides who are thoroughly familiar with the park.

I. W. W., Thugs in North Say They'll Wipe Out Spanish War Veterans Because of Criticism.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Threats have been made by I. W. W., and Socialist leaders in this city that they were going to storm the headquarters of Scout Young Camp of the Spanish-American War Veterans next Friday night and wipe the organization out of existence because of the criticism the veterans have been making in regard to the disgraceful and un-American actions of the I. W. W., and Socialists on the streets of the city.

"One of the leaders of this gang telephoned to me last night and informed me that they were going to wipe our camp out of existence," said W. C. North, an officer of the Scout Young Camp. "He told me he would lead his crowd in an attack on our hall."

The veterans take the threat seriously and have purchased a supply of clubs to be used if the attack takes place.

Detectives Also Accused of Subornation of Perjury as Aftermath of Murder Trial.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

REDDING, March 19.—George W. Bush, counsel for the Southern Pacific Railroad and former Superior Court Judge, and E. G. Mundorf and J. J. Harrold, detectives employed by the road during the trial of Daniel Fleming, the Southern Pacific policeman recently convicted of the murder of George Vallier, were charged today, in an amended indictment, with attempted subornation of perjury. The men were brought into court for arraignment on the first indictment growing out of the Vallier trial, which charged attempt to bribe a witness. Counsel for the defendants objected to the changing of the indictment, contending that the new law permitting a district attorney to amend an indictment was unconstitutional. The court, however, admitted the amendment. The defendants did not enter pleas on their arraignment on the original indictment, and a further continuance to April 9 was granted to allow the defense time to prepare a second demurrer.

MASS MEETING OF HIGHWAY MEN AT POMONA TONIGHT.

Novel Noon-day Meeting, t he First of the Kind, to Be Held at El Monte Today—Divisions of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association to Be Formed and Pomona and Ontario Placed on the Good Roads Map.

MEN of the valley towns along the Banning route of the national highway are to form three divisions of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association today. Farmers and fruit-growers, merchants and motorists, are to be marched into line for a mighty movement toward the building of the proposed macadam highway from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Promptly at 12:30 today The Times pilot car will roll into El Monte and at a noon meeting a division of the parent highway association is to be formed. This is to be one of a series of like divisions to be organized in the valley towns.

Following the formation of the El Monte division The Times car will lead the procession of highway boosters into Pomona where another division will be born. The schedule calls for a third gathering at Ontario at 3:15 and the crew of the car will be there in time to witness the birth of a third division.

This is to be the record. Three regiments of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association in a day with President John S. Mitchell, president of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association in charge of affairs. A hot time is promised in every town.

With divisions in working order at El Monte, Pomona and Ontario, a monster mass-meeting is to be held at 8 o'clock tonight in Pomona. The chief speaker at this gathering will be President Mitchell, who will outline the plans for organizing divisions along the Santa Fe trail from Los Angeles to New York.

The Times car, with its good roads banners on the hood, will be placed on exhibition in Pomona where it will be kept preparatory to another big boost at Colton, Beaumont and Banning. Another big meeting has been planned for this coming week.

The hood of the car is to be pointed ever eastward. The pilot car will not return until every city between Los Angeles and New York has been brought into line. The meeting at Pomona tonight is only one of many more to be held before the car reaches the shores of the Atlantic Ocean.

Washington, Idaho and British Columbia Coming.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At least four special trains will move from points in the Northwest to the Imperial Council of the Mystic Shrine at Los Angeles early in May.

One train will be required to handle the Portland delegation alone. One each will come from Spokane, Seattle and Vancouver, B. C. The Portland special will accommodate Shriners from all parts of Oregon and Southwestern Washington. The members at Ashland, which has the only temple outside of Portland in the State, probably will join the Portland party. The Ashland Shriners will have two or three cars of their own. The Tacoma delegation will combine with the Seattle crowd, and North Yakima also will have a full carload which will be carried on the Seattle train.

The Vancouver (B. C.) train will accommodate the members from that city, Victoria and Calgary. From Spokane will come the fourth train, which will take care of the Walla Walla, Lewiston and other cities. Fully 1000 will attend. Each train will carry about 150 persons, including Shriners and members of their families.

FULL PARDON GRANTED.

MAKES GOOD ON PAROLE.

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Gov. Johnson today issued a pardon to John O'Neil, who in 1896, after having served four terms in the State penitentiary, was sentenced to thirty years in San Quentin for robbery committed in Sacramento. An interesting feature in the case is the fact that O'Neil robbed the jewelry store of H. Wachhorst and that the petition for a pardon was headed by Eugene Wachhorst, a member of that firm and now District Attorney of Sacramento county. In 1909, O'Neil obtained a parole and went to the southern part of the State. Since 1909 he has been steadily employed and has avoided all criminal associations. The members of the State Supreme Court also signed the petition asking the Governor to issue a pardon.

The capital stock of the institution will be $25,000. Anderson plans a State bank to do a savings and commercial business. There has been talk of such an establishment in Galt for several years. Recently, however, rapid growth in the colonies at Whitaker, Ray, Wilton, Herold, Sheldon and Clay have again shown the necessity.

YOUNG WOMAN WANTS DAMAGES IN LARGE AMOUNT.

Makes Dean of Women at University of Chicago Defendant in Hundred-Thousand-Dollar Action. Claims She Suffered Unjustly. Brother Resides in Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch. Devotees of fashion and culture crowded Judge Pomeroy's court today to listen to the examination of prospective jurors in the slander suit of Miss Esther Mercy, who asks $100,000 from Miss Marion Talbot, dean of women of the University of Chicago. Miss Mercy was attended by her mother, who lives in Tennessee, and her brother, Henry Mercy, of Los Angeles.

President Judson, Mrs. A. W. Small, wife of Dean Small, Mrs. A. W. Von Jahn and Miss Eva Robison were co-defendants, but all were eliminated from the case by court rulings.

"Are you acquainted with John D. Rockefeller, who has given many millions to the university?" was one of the questions put to each prospective juror. What significance there might be in the question was not disclosed.

Counsel for Miss Mercy in the opening statement declared that Dean Talbot had called Miss Mercy into her office and made slanderous accusations against her.

"We will prove," said the attorney, "that Miss Talbot made charges against our client that were untrue. Miss Mercy was accused of being immoral and an unfit character to harbor in the university. We will prove that the language used was slanderous, and we also will show that Miss Mercy lost a position because of the injustice done her by those connected with the university."

The suit is the sequel of a dispute between Miss Mercy and Mrs. Von Jahn, over the disappearance of a new spring bonnet nearly a year ago. On this hat were plumes and aigrettes valued at $300. The dispute was carried inside the walls of the university, and when Miss Mercy presented herself to register for the ensuing term she was informed that she was not welcome. She charged that she was likewise denied admission to the Northwestern University through influences exerted at the Midway institution.

University officials deny that any aspersions were cast on the character of Miss Mercy, and say she was not allowed to register because she was not a satisfactory student.

COMPANY GOT THE MONEY.

Witness Says Lewis Put Proceeds of Note Sales Into Treasury Instead of Buying Land.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—F. V. Putnam, former treasurer of the E. G. Lewis enterprises in University City, spent the entire day on the witness stand in the United States District Court here, testifying regarding the issue of six per cent. notes by the University Heights Realty and Development Company. The issue of the notes forms one of the allegations upon which Lewis now is being tried on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails.

Putnam testified that nearly all of the $1,100,000 raised by the sale of the notes on Lewis' representation that the money was desired for the purchase and improvement of land, went into the treasury of the Lewis Publishing Company.

E. G. Lewis in an interview said he would show that all his enterprises were working toward one common point—the building of a subway from the St. Louis business district to University City. If the Postoffice Department had not interfered, he said, the completion of the subway would have improved the value of the University City properties to such a figure that he could have paid off all indebtedness on his enterprises.

He said the defense would endeavor to have the jury taken to University City.

"UNAVOIDABLE" IS VERDICT.

Coroner's Jury Clears Car Crew of Blame for Accident in Which Young Girl Lost Her Life.

"Accidental and unavoidable" was the verdict returned by the Coroner's jury in the inquest held yesterday over the mutilated remains of Miss Louise E. Wichman, the victim of an automobile accident late Sunday afternoon.

The inquest was held at the Connell undertaking parlors. The evidence was to the effect that the driver of the auto, Charles W. Evans, attempted to cross the inbound tracks behind an outbound car at the intersection of Santa Barbara avenue and was struck by an inbound car which he could not see because of one in front.

The motorman did not see the auto until it ran out from behind the other car and he was almost upon it. The auto was thrown about thirty feet to the curbing. The occupants were thrown out, and Miss Wichman was cut in half. The other occupants of the car were more or less injured.

The funeral of Miss Wichman was held yesterday afternoon, the remains being cremated at Evergreen.

RECALL MENACES LIBERTY.

Cardinal O'Connell in Spirited Address Condemns Proposed Shattering of Judicial System.

BOSTON, March 19.—Cardinal O'Connell coupled a stirring tribute to President Taft and a denunciation of the judicial recall in an address at a St. Patrick's Day dinner here last night. He said:

"The very life of the people's liberties, religious and civic, is in danger when the foundations of law and the independence of judges, be they civil or ecclesiastical, are imperilled.

"Liberty, founded upon the eternal principles of divine justice, interpreted and applied in civil life by God-fearing magistrates, untrammelled and unfettered and unafraid of passing popular passion, that, in a word, is the guarantee of what alone has made this country great—perfect security of civil and religious liberty to all.

"No one has voiced these sacred principles more clearly, fearlessly, uncompromisingly than the big-hearted and cool-headed statesman who now presides over the destinies of the United States of America."

"I am not troubled with warts any more, because I have learned how to get rid of them," said a young lady when asked what had become of the unsightly warts that had disfigured the beauty of her hands. "It is very simple. Go to your druggist; get two drams of Traxit (triple strength.) Bathe the wart in warm water just before retiring, dip a wooden toothpick into the Traxit and touch the wart lightly. It will disappear entirely in less than three days."

New Mexico's Alleged Bribers Face About.

Declare They Were Striving to Get Other Fellow..

Refuse to Abide by Resignations Handed In.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) March 19.—The trap set by the Republican State Central Committee last week, in which four members of the House, Jose P. Lucero and Julian C. Trujillo of Rio Arriba county and Manuel Cordova and Luis R. Montoya of Taos county, were arrested, charged with accepting bribes to vote for certain Senatorial candidates, was declared today by the accused men to have been set by themselves to catch the "higher ups."

The resignations of the accused men, prepared last night, were presented to the House by State Chairman V. Jaramillo, A communication from the prisoners also presented to the House asserted that their resignations had been secured through coercion, that they would withdraw them and demand a thorough investigation.

Subsequently the House adopted a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of fifteen to investigate the alleged bribery charges.

As the hour for the Senatorial ballot approached the feeling in the House grew more bitter. A resolution to appoint former Supreme Judge E. R. Wright counsel for the bribery investigation committee was adopted twenty-six to twelve. Another resolution to remand the accused members to the custody of the sergeant-at-arms was offered and led to a verbal clash between Speaker Baca and Representative Toombs because the Speaker ordered the sergeant-at-arms to bring in all absent members before taking action on the resolution, which was adopted unanimously, and the four accused members were suspended.

According to State Chairman Jaramillo and other officials, Judge A. B. Fall, one of the candidates for United States Senator, last Saturday received word that the four accused Legislators desired to see him. An interview was arranged through Attorney Elfego Baca, at which Judge Rail assured the men he would be pleased to have their support and that, if the Spanish-Americans nominated an able man with a clean record, a number of Fall's supporters undoubtedly would vote for him for the second Senatorship.

After Fall left the conference room, Attorney Baca declares the four men gradually unfolded their plan. They promised to vote for Fall twice for $500 each, said Baca, or would stay with him through the contest for $1250 each. Baca claims he called their attention to the "nefariousness of their offer."

Arrangements were made ostensibly to close the bargain, and State Chairman Jaramillo was notified. Jaramillo, together with Supreme Court Clerk Jose D. Sena, and Mounted Policeman A. Sena, who made the arrests, were in an adjoining room at the hotel and claim they saw Attorney Baca count out the money to the four accused men.

PARSONS, (Kan.) March 19.—Fire today destroyed the passenger station and general offices of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad in the State of Kansas here. The loss was more than $300,000. A heavy item of loss was that of valuable papers and the records of the company. Several firemen were injured by falling walls.

GRAND JURY MAKES RECORD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—A new record for the number of cases disposed of in a single day was set here yesterday by the March grand jury. Evidence was taken in seventy-nine cases, all of which were finally passed on. Roy Fairbank, the assistant state's attorney aiding the grand jurors questioned 237 witnesses, an average of three to the case. It is not uncommon for three days to be consumed in hearing this number of cases.

LOCATES A BRAND NEW STAR.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—Prof. Philip Fox, astronomer of Dearborn observatory, Northwestern University, has located the new star discovered March 13, by Prof. Enebo in Norway. The the Gemini or Twins, above Castor star is located in the constellation of and Pollux, and is visible to the naked eye. It can be seen just after dark at the Meridian. Prof. Fox says that in his observations of the star's spectroscope he discovered hydrogen and helium in bright lines which would indicate gaseous body. There are two theories regarding the star. One is that it is a gaseous body which has collided with nebulae and has become fired, and the other that it represents two large gaseous envelopes both flaming.

Mr. Root will be the sole attendant of his sister, Miss Helen C. Root, at her marriage to James Barzilla Moore of Denver. SNOWBALLS FOR POKER CHIPS.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—Snowballs for poker chips, bed sheets for towels, vaudeville in the dining car and only two light meals a day were some of the things experienced by nearly two hundred snowbound passengers of a Union Pacific train that was stalled at Oakley, Kas., for more than a week. The train reached Kansas City late yesterday after having been on the road from Denver since Saturday, March 9. "The first few days were spent cheerfully, joking about our predicament," said one of the arrivals today, "but the situation was approaching desperation along toward the last. Anxiety and nervous strain made the passengers sullen. Food became scarce, and the coal supply so short that the cars became cold. Water, too, was scarce, and we depended largely on melted snow. Finally sanitary conditions became almost intolerable. A theatrical company among the passengers gave several performances that helped relieve the monotony."

CHICAGO REGISTRATION FIGURES.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—Two days revison of the registration of March 12 in Chicago has cut the vote down 93,826 and thousands more will be erased later, according to William H. Stuart, chief clerk of the election commissioners. The original registration was 538,735. It now is 444,910, which breaks the former record of 483,010, set in 1910.

EXCISE BILL PASSES HOUSE.

Measure to Tax All Incomes of $5000 a Year and Up Goes to Senate, Where Fate Is Guess.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The Democratic excise bill, virtually to tax everybody's income when it is $5000 or more a year, passed the House today, 256 to 40. The Democrats voted solidly for the bill and carried eighty Republican votes with them. Forty regular Republicans voted against the bill.

The bill goes to the Senate, where its fate is a guess. Many Senators said today that if they found the House measure would tax all classes of people alike, they would support it. Democratic Senators, with a few exceptions, are expected to vote for it, and aid is expected from progressive Republicans.

Republican leaders are depending upon the President's veto to check revenue revision bills from the House.

The excise bill, though primarily intended to produce anywhere from twenty million to sixty million dollars a year to make up for the losses on free sugar, also is expected to be one of the offsets to general pension legislation which seems sure to be enacted.

Democratic Leader Underwood held his majority intact through the passage of the bill. Not one Democratic vote was cast against it, and the measure was passed exactly as framed.

SUGAR CROP GROWS.

LARGE INCREASE SHOWN.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The world's production of sugar for the year 1910-11 was almost 2,000,000 tons greater than that of any of the past five years, the preliminary estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture, just announced, shows. The production of both cane and beet sugar in the United States was greater than any year of the five, being 311,000 tons of cane and 486,000 tons of beet. The world's production of cane sugar was 8,321,500 tons and of beet 8,097,000 tons, a total of 16,418,500 tons, compared with 14,524,450 tons in 1909-10. Hawaii produced 596,000 tons of cane sugar and Porto Rico 291,900 tons, making the total of cane sugar for the United States and insular possessions 1,108,900 tons.

STATES ARE RESPONSIBLE.

PLAN NOT APPROVED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Secretary of War Stimson has disapproved the recommendation of the National Militia Board that care-takers be employed for United States property in the possession of the organized militia. It was pointed out in an opinion by Judge Advocate General Crowder that while the property issued belongs to the United States, the custody and control is vested in the State Governors and the commanding general of the District of Columbia. The Secretary approved the board's recommendation that militia officers to whom public property is issued be required to file a corporate surety bond with the adjutants general of their States.

HELPING COTTON GROWERS.

NEW GRADING ADVISED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Dr. B. P. Galloway, chief of the Agricultural Department's bureau of plant industry, believes that to get a more scientific basis for grading cotton than the present one, which depends on the color and the length of the staple, the strength of the fiber and its spinning quality also should be taken into consideration. If a "community type" of cotton can be raised, the farmers of the South will get more money for their products, said Mr. Galloway today, and the Department of Agriculture, through its farmers' co-operative work, is planning to make extensive efforts to have groups of planters in various sections raise exactly the same grade of cotton. This would help them all, it is pointed out, because they could market their product together and get higher prices.

Bubble Bursts.

MAY KICK HAT OUT OF RING.

LOCAL LEADER THINKS ROOSEVELT WILL ABANDON RACE.

Chairman Stanton, in Charge of Campaign for the President, Issues an Optimistic Statement and Appoints Men to Look After Work in Various Southern Counties.

That Roosevelt realizes that he is out of the running in the Presidential race and in all probability will withdraw from the field before the Chicago convention is called, was the opinion expressed last night by Phil A. Stanton, in charge of the Taft organization campaign in Southern California.

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit to see Roosevelt kick his hat out of the ring," said Stanton, at the Taft headquarters in the Angelus Hotel. "Roosevelt realizes that he is not gathering any great strength throughout the country by reason of his return to the political arena, and I honestly believe that he will quit cold after several of the State Presidential preference primary elections.

"Roosevelt had pretty easy sailing up to the time he announced his candidacy for a third term. Now that he has a fight on his hands I look for him to turn tail and lay down.

"He practically admits in recent speeches that he hasn't a chance to win unless primary elections are held in all of the States. Roosevelt thought La Follette would abjectly surrender to the Roosevelt forces when the Oyster Bay man tossed his sombrero into the ring. The fact that La Follette is waging a strenuous campaign thereby causing a split in the progressive ranks has made the cowboy aspirant for the Presidency sit up and take notice.

"In all my experience in politics I never have seen a campaign start out with better and brighter prospects for success than this one. Every day brings fresh evidence that the Republicans of Southern California are lining up for the President. Clubs are being formed in every town in the State by admirers of the real progressive leader."

Chairman Stanton yesterday appointed the following Executive Committee to look after the Taft organization work in the nine counties in Southern California:

Ventura county—W. H. Barnes, Ventura; Guy L. Hardison, Santa Paula; J. P. Newby, Ventura, O. J. Stowe, Fillmore; I. W. Stewart, Oxnard.

Apparently in his usual state of health, Wilson opened several weeks ago with the Bijou production, playing one of the principal parts. Just before the rise of the curtain last Thursday night he was seized with a fainting spell. He played his part, however. At the conclusion of the performance he was taken to his apartment in the Hotel Gerard, where he continued to fail. Death was due to tuberculosis. Besides playing under Frohman management, he was for several years one of Mrs. Leslie Carter's chief supporters and he played in the original "Jimmy Valentine" company. Two Boys Arrested at San Bernardino Charged With Stealing From Employers are in Jail.

Charged with having stolen two valuable motorcycles, Oscar Carliste and his brother, Edward, were brought from San Bernardino last night and locked up in the City Jail pending a full investigation which promises to prove that both young men had started out on an international tour on stolen machines.

The information lodged with the police department seems to indicate that the boys had been employed by the Los Angeles Motorcycle Company at No. 843 South Spring street and disappeared simultaneously with two new motorcycles.

As soon as the loss of the motorcycles was discovered, police in all of the surrounding country were notified, with the result that they were caught at San Bernardino. Detective E. C. King was detailed to go to San Bernardino and bring the prisoners back. Upon their arrival here they refused to discuss their arrest. The case probably will be taken to the Superior Court owing to the value of the two machines stolen.

BIG REVERSAL IN SENTIMENT

Roosevelt Strength in Middle West Exaggerated.

Republicans Switch to Support of President.

Loyal Party Men Look for Bolt by Radicals.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a statement issued today from the Taft Bureau the claim is made that there has been a notable change in sentiment in Illinois and the Middle West among Republicans in their Presidential preference. The statement declares that the strength of Roosevelt sentiment in the Middle West has been very greatly exaggerated.

"This is not a mere matter of assertion," the statement continues, "but is clearly manifest to one who has an opportunity of going over the ground. It is, moreover, certain that such Roosevelt sentiment which did exist is now on the wane, and opposition to the re-nomination of President Taft has been made to appear more formidable than it really is by the activity of Roosevelt managers in the Middle West, by clamor for which they and their immediate supporters and not the general public, are responsible, and by the policy they pursue of making contests—in a great majority of cases without a shadow of reason or hope of success against the election in various districts of Taft delegates to the national convention in Chicago next June.

"So marked has been the policy of Roosevelt leaders in this respect that many loyal party men have become imbued with the idea that the radical element contemplates a bolt from the convention and setting up of an independent ticket.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT MEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

POPLAR BLUFFS (Mo.) March 19.—After an uproar, Taft supporters withdrew from the Fourteenth Congressional District convention here today, leaving the Roosevelt adherents in possession. Each faction named delegates to the national convention. Roosevelt men were in a majority and could have controlled the situation by force of numbers. At the afternoon session the Cape Girardeau delegation cast twenty-three votes for the Taft delegates. They then withdrew. Resolutions commending Col. Roosevelt as the greatest living statesman, the statesmanship of President Taft and the administration of Gov. Hadley were passed. The morning session was a continual uproar with two sets of officers trying to transact business of the two factions. The Roosevelt faction claimed 113 delegates to the Congressional convention and the Taft followers 89.

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Betting on the result of the primaries next Tuesday was in favor of the Taft forces today. Odds are offered that Roosevelt will not get six delegates in Greater New York and will not have ten out of the forty in the State. Even money is offered that the Roosevelt nominees for delegates to the Chicago convention will not receive votes equal in number to the names signed to the nomination petitions. It is estimated that the petitions contain about 9000 signatures, or 10 per cent. of the entire Republican vote.

A New Stomach

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Restore Lifeless Organs to Normal Condition.

A Trial Package Free.

Many a sufferer from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and kindred ailments of the digestive organs carries around an absolutely useless stomach—a dead load, and a cesspool for ever-increasing disorders. The muscles are seemingly worn out, the mucous lining has lost its secretive power, and food taken into the stomach lies there and ferments, causing sour eructations, belchings, heartburn, dizziness and other distressing conditions. Many sufferers have given up in despair until they have been induced by some interested friend to try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

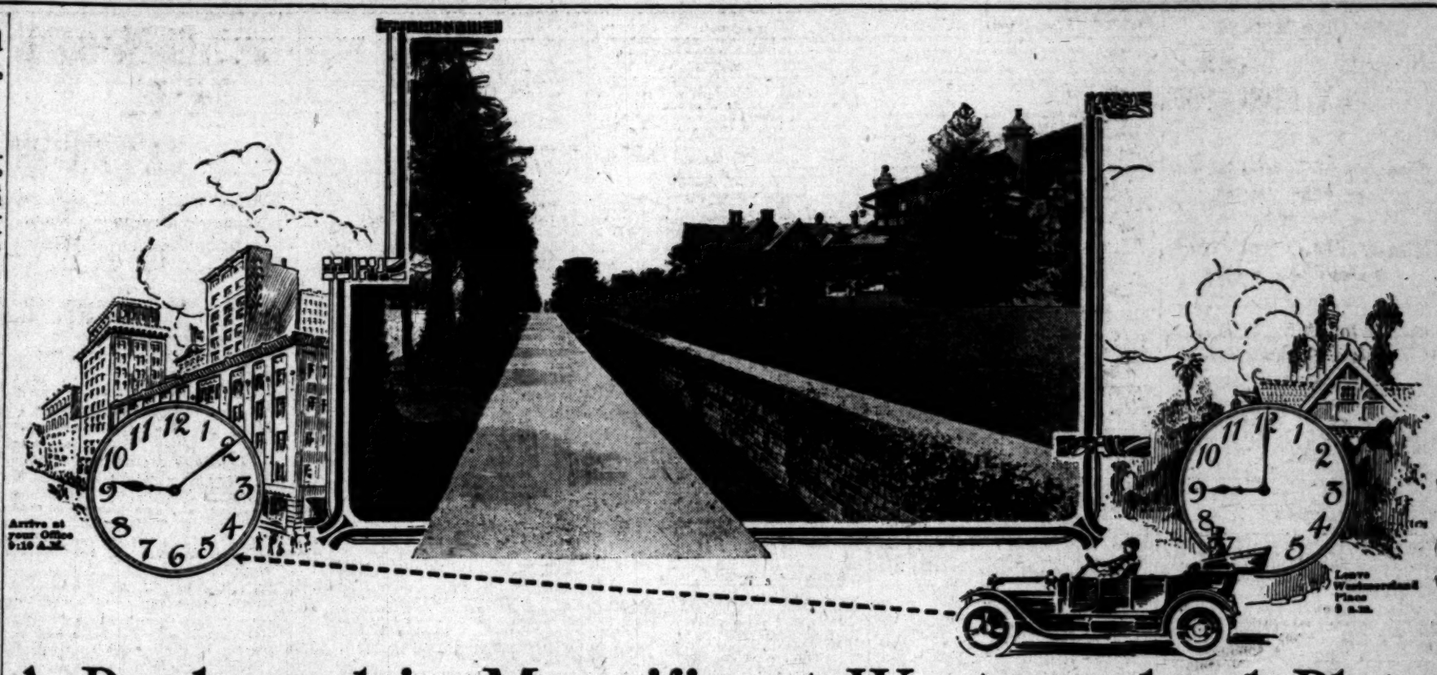
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dyspeptic's hope. They are a natural restorative of healthy action to the stomach and small intestines, because they supply the elements that the weak stomach lacks—pepsin, golden seal and other digestives.

If you are afflicted with any of the symptoms above described, be assured that your digestive organs are losing power,—they need help, and there is no more sensible help to be given them than to supply elements which will do the work of digestion for them.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been found by test to have digestive powers, one grain of the active principle of these tablets being sufficient to digest 3000 grains of ordinary food. It is plain that no matter what the condition of your stomach, or how far your disease has progressed, one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken at meal time will do the work—give your stomach an opportunity to regain its lost powers, the muscles will be strengthened, the glands invigorated, and you will be a new man.

It costs nothing to prove the effectiveness of this cure. Send for a free sample package today. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at 50 cents a box.



A Boulevard in Magnificent Westmoreland Place

A Quiet, Restful, Sequested Residential Park, Ten Minutes Auto Distance From Broadway's Skyscrapers.

The phenomenal extension of the suburbs of Los Angeles almost to the prohibitive distance in point of time consumed in reaching them—is now reacting in a well-defined movement toward the more desirable close-in residence property.

This movement is conspicuous in the present increasing demand for such splendid property as Westmoreland Place.

It would require no stretch of the imagination to say that Westmoreland Place is the unchallenged "beauty spot of Los Angeles." It provides every element of natural beauty and exclusiveness that the most remote district could offer, and yet, it is only ten minutes from the heart of the business district.

Westmoreland Place, therefore, offers the ideal dwelling place where one may enjoy every comfort and exclusive feature, and yet, live so near the business center as to reduce to a minimum the time spent in transit.

Westmoreland Place is a private residential park of 40 acres, occupying high, sightly ground, in the very heart of Los Angeles' most exclusive residence section. The improvements, both utility and private, are all exceptionally high class. Adequate building restrictions protect the property from everything that is undesirable, and insure a class of residences in harmony with character of property.

A noteworthy feature of Westmoreland Place is the wealth of beautiful trees and rare shrubbery, which were set out years ago, and have now attained mature growth. These impart to the place an atmosphere of exclusiveness and charming home-likeness so conspicuous by their absence in many of the newer districts of the city.

In Westmoreland Place, every art of the landscape gardener has been lavished. Here wealth and are working hand-in-hand with nature have created a beauty spot that is the marvel of world travelers.

All building sites have been laid out with the view of giving every opportunity for individual architectural expression. The inside lots are 100x200 feet, and corners are 150x200 feet.

Such desirable close-in property as Westmoreland Place is naturally extremely limited—and the present increasing demand for, and recognition of its supreme advantage—are rendering it daily more valuable.

The present low prices at which Westmoreland property is offered, make it extremely desirable for investment or for those seeking a homesite where every feature is of the highest possible character.

JURY OUTWITS SUN PROPHET.

Federal Body Indicts Hanish in Chicago.

Accused of Sending Improper Literature.

Rumored that His Adherents Will Also Answer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Outwitting Otoman Zar-Adusht Hanish and a corps of counsel who were vainly petitioning the State courts to quash the search warrant upon which the Sun Cult prophet was arrested, the Federal grand jury late this afternoon returned two indictments against him.

The shrewd move of the butcher boy, little master of the strange cult, would have compelled the government to have turned over the great quantity of immoral literature confiscated in the raid on the Mazdasnan Temple. While attorneys were wrangling in Municipal Judge Goodnow's court over the question, the Federal inquisitorial body walked into United States Judge K. M. Landis's courtroom with two indictments against Hanish, charging him with having sent indecent literature by express and through the mails.

Hanish will be arraigned at an early date and the government will demand that his bond be increased.

The book—"Inner Secrets"—dealing with sex problems, and which is the catechism "for advanced pupils only, disclosing means unto a pure, healthy and perfect life, terrestrial and celestial," is made the basis for the government's charges. In addition, a monthly publication called "The Mazdaznan," and edited by Hanish, is claimed to contain matter of an immoral nature.

The indictment of Hanish came after a rigid inquiry into the Mazdaznan ritual. It is authoritatively said that the investigation by the government into the Sun Cult affairs will not halt with the indictment of Hanish, and hints of perjury action against a number of his devotees who attempted to shield their leader when questioned before the grand jury, have been strongly made. In the mass of evidence concerning the strange practices in the Sun Temple, and the alleged inhuman rules which Hanish forced his followers to obey, is said to have been testimony upon which several of Hanish's close advisers may be indicted.

Before voting the indictments today the jury heard the story of Henry Keats, a former temple boy, and organist in the Sun Temple. He is now 24 years old and left the temple six years ago, after a misunderstanding with Hanish, with whom he had for several years been a great favorite. He is said to have given important evidence.

SICK; HANGS HIMSELF.

AGED MAN IS A SUICIDE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALAMEDA, March 19. — Leroy Badger, former employee of the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself in the basement of his home, No. 1150 Park avenue. He fixed a noose about his neck and dropped from the rafters of the basement ceiling and was found dead by his 19-year-old daughter. Badger had been in ill health for the past few months and it is supposed this was the cause of the act. He was 70 years of age.

JAP STATESMAN SEES INSULT.

Count Hattori Condemns Dillingham Bill and Opposes Nipponese Exhibit at Panama Exposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, March 19.—Count Hattori, a member of the opposition today, in the Japanese House of Representatives, condemned Senator Dillingham's bill amending the immigration laws of the United States as an insufferable insult to Japan.

The Japanese government's willingness to participate in the Panama Exposition, he said, was contradictory to Japan's honor and interest.

No reply was made from the government side. One of the members of the Cabinet promised that a written response would be given later.

Senator Dillingham's bill provided for the exclusion of laborers and artisans of races ineligible for American naturalization. It was understood that this meant both Japanese and Chinese and later on the suggestion of Senator Lodge, the clause was amended so that the Japanese would not be offended.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARMEL (Cal.) March 19.—The body of Miss Helen Vestal, principal of the High School here, was found on the beach near a bathhouse by two boys, late today. The Coroner took charge of the remains.

Miss Vestal disappeared about midnight Sunday, and is supposed to have gone directly to the ocean and drowned herself. It is thought she became suddenly insane. Her sister was sent to an insane asylum at Agnew about a year ago, and this had preyed on Miss Vestal's mind.

Miss Vestal was the daughter of C. D. Vestal of San Jose, and was 23 years old. She was a graduate of the San Jose Normal School and had taught at Carmel for two years. She was popular and was considered beautiful.

Last Sunday Miss Vestal dined with friends and returned late in the evening to the cottage which she occupied with Miss Gladys Brook. They sat up talking until midnight, Miss Vestal being in fine spirits.

Soon after she had retired. Miss Brook heard the door of Miss Vestal's room opened and closed, but attached no significance to the fact until at 7 she entered Miss Vestal's room and found that the bed had not been occupied. Miss Vestal evidently had left the house hurriedly. She had left her hat, jacket and glasses.

MINING FRAUD CHARGED.

Victor N. Weil on Trial in Boston Accused of Selling Stock in Nevada Prospects.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 19.—Victor N. Weil was placed on trial in the United States District Court on an indictment charging fraudulent use of the mails in promoting mining companes in Nevada and Massachusetts. Weil who was president of the Inter-trust Security Company, was arrested by postal authorities in January, 1911.

In his opening address, Associate District Attorney Sullivan said the government would show that the Inter-Trust Security Company, as transfer agent, sold more than $69,000 worth of shares in the Goldfield-Boston Consolidated Mining Company, which had three claims east of Goldfield, Nev.

Mr. Sullivan said that no development work other than the assessment work necessary to hold the claims was done on these mines in 1907 and 1908, the years when, the government asserted, Weil committed fraud by representing through letters and advertisements that the mines were being developed.

SMUGGLES GEMS; FORFEITS THEM.

SAN FRANCISCO WOMAN AFOUL OF CUSTOMS OFFICERS.

Detected Trying to Give Undervaluation and Admits She Has Already Passed Large Collection Through—Sees Twenty Thousand Dollar Purchases Disappear.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Blanche M. Carson, a widow, who in August last started from her home in San Francisco on a journey around the world, was held up by the customs men on Monday on her arrival at Hoboken from Europe.

On her own admission that she had attempted to smuggle about $10,000 worth of pearls and other gems bought in India, she was held in $2000 bail today by United States Commissioner Carpenter for examination on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Carson had declared a package of unstrung pearls, which pay a duty of 10 per cent. She said she paid $800 for the pearls. The government appraiser estimated their value to be about $7500. The pearls were taken from her.

Mrs. Carson engaged lawyer Harrison Osborne, formerly solicitor to Collector Stranahan, and when she appeared at the customs house today she not only admitted she had undervalued the pearls, but said she had in her suite in the Hotel Wolcott many more pearls that she had concealed on her person and that she also had sewed in the lining of her hat diamond earrings worth several thousand dollars. She declared she could not feel happy again until she had given up everything she had attempted to smuggle. She gave up all the jewelry she had smuggled in.

PACKERS PLEAD FOR "REASON."

Chicago Meat Men Make Supreme Court's Rule in Other Trust Cases Basis of Argument.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—The "rule of reason" laid down by the United States Supreme Court in the tobacco and Standard Oil cases was made the basis of the indicted meat packers' plea today to the jury trying them for criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

"The Supreme Court says restraint must be unreasonable and injurious to the public; the government has set up no such charge against the packers; they should be freed," argued Attorney Buckingham, representing the Swift group of defendants.

"Profit of the packers at 8 per cent. or less than a cent a pound for meat, certainly is not unreasonable," he added, and quoted government statistics calculated to show that the packers sold less than a third of the nation's fresh meat supply.

The procession from the Episcopal residence to Sacred Heart Cathedral was a brilliant pageant. Among the church notables present were the Marquis Edward J. LACKAWANNA IS FINED.

Railroad Found Guilty in Federal Court of Violating Hepburn Act by Shipping Hay Free.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) March 19.—The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad was found guilty in United States District Court of violating the commodities clause of the Hepburn act and was fined $2000. The company was indicted on twenty counts and faced a maximum penalty of $100,000, the charge being that it shipped free from Buffalo to Scranton, Pa., a quantity of hay to be used in feeding mules in the mines.

An appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court to test the constitutionality of the penal feature of the commodities clause.

BRING MAINE VICTIMS' BODIES.

DEMOCRATS TACKLE WOOL.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—With the free sugar bill and excise tax bills out of the way, Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee are free to tackle again the wool schedule, which is considered the knottiest problem they have to deal with this session of Congress. The committee will begin work with the free raw wool sentiment strong. Chairman Underwood is known to be opposed to a free wool bill because he thinks the revenue lost from raw wool approximately $21,000,000, could not be raised by putting a duty on raw silk and raw rubber.

GOOD ADVICE FOR LOS ANGELES PEOPLE

People in Los Angeles who have constipation, sour stomach or gas on the stomach, should use simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as compounded in Adler-i-ka, the new German appendicitis remedy. A SINGLE DOSE brings relief almost INSTANTLY because this simple mixture antiseptic izes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities. The Dean Drug Co., 314 So. Spring St.

Clean bathroom tub, pipes, and sink with

GOLD DUST

To keep bath tub and lavatory snow white—to keep metal pipes, fixtures and taps brightly burnished—to purify metal bowl—there's nothing on earth like Gold Dust. Gold Dust is the great sanitary cleanser, because it sterilizes while it cleans, and drives out every germ and hidden impurity.

Other products may clean the surface—Gold Dust cleanses to the bottom.

Add a heaping teaspoonful of Gold Dust to a pail of water and you are ready to prove these claims.

Do not use borax, soap, naphtha, soda, ammonia or kerosene with GOLD DUST. GOLD DUST has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

FOR SALE—

LANKERSHIM LAND.

$300 and up per acre.

2½, 5 and 10-acre tracts.

IRRIGATION AND DOMESTIC WATER DEED FREE WITH THE LAND.

The time will surely come, and not far distant, when this irrigated land will be anxiously sought at values so far beyond those quoted now that present prices will seem a joke.

Plant potatoes now and they will net you $200 per acre, and then the fall crop will not the same. This will pay for your land, build a house and a good bit besides.

J. Kleinham purchased 5 acres of us and planted potatoes August 14th, and harvested them December 15th. He received 130 sacks per acre, which he sold at $3, or $480 per acre for one crop.

CHICKENS—Do you know of anything that will work harder for you ever day in the year? Chickens alone will pay for your land.

Consider all that nature has done for this land, furnishing good deep loam soil and flowing mountain water, the improvements, paved roads, transportation and water pipes under pressure.

Think of having all this and owning land so near the city and close to everything really worth while.

LISTEN TO THIS.

This is the only tract of land in the San Fernando Valley with gravity water piped for irrigation and domestic use.

This water flows into our big reservoir by gravity and is piped over the land in six, eight and ten-inch mains.

See this "close-in" land before you think of putting a dollar into land anywhere else.

BUSINESS INVESTMENTS—

FOR
in the Peerless Brick and Artificial Stone Co. as the stock that was sold for $5 per share up to March has advanced to $6.25 per share, and will go to $7 per share on April the 2nd. Remember, that this stock started selling at $5 per share on January 15, 1912.
Now we have erected our factories and have them in operation, and have acquired assets of more than the value of the money received from the sale of stock.
We are manufacturing a brick that has anything of the kind beat to every way possible, our brick stands many times the crushing weight of the clay product, is fire-proof, as much air can be made of concrete, (our product is concrete) is absolutely waterproof, and can be manufactured in any color that may be desired, and any design.
This makes a grand line for this section of the country, as every house has a mantel, some of them two, most all porches have artistic brick pillars, and the city of Los Angeles, has always wanted a non-absorbent brick, to do away with the dampness in the rainy season, that seems to invade the clay brick structures.
These are only a few of the main features of the company.
We manufacture this brick at a great reduction in price, when compared to the clay product, either pressed brick or common red brick.
And still we have a fine profit.
You may say that we will have competition; of course, we will have competition, we expect it, but they cannot duplicate our goods, and we are the pioneers in the field, and you know, what that means, when the pioneers make an article that stands the test.
Our company is made up of men of standing in the city of Los Angeles and successful men at that.
The men who have invested in this company are SATISFIED STOCKHOLDERS AND ARE ASKING FOR MORE STOCK.
THOSE WHO CAN AFFORD IT ARE INVESTING MORE MONEY.
COME IN AND TALK TO THESE MEN.
REMEMBER, NO PROMOTION STOCK OR SALARIES TO OFFICERS OR DIRECTORS.
OUR STOCK BOOKS, MINUTE BOOKS, BY-LAWS, CHECK BOOK, AND EVERYTHING IS OPEN FOR INSPECTION.
WE WILL ARRANGE TO GUARANTEE YOUR STOCK IF YOU CARE TO PAY FAR VALUE FOR THE STOCK.
WE NEED SOME GOOD MEN TO ASSOCIATE THEMSELVES WITH US, AND INVESTMENT AT THE SAME TIME. YOU MAY BE THE MAN.
COME IN AND INVESTIGATE THIS AT ANY RATE. WE LIKE TO SHOW OUR PRODUCT, OUR BUSINESS, ETC., TO ANY ONE INTERESTED ENOUGH TO CALL.
DO NOT WAIT UNTIL ANOTHER RAISE IN THE PRICE OF STOCK.
AND, REMEMBER, THAT THERE IS 70 per cent. of the stock still in the Treasury.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

OLD QUESTION TO THE FRONT.

Pasadena Officials Consider the Matter of Water.

Owens River Aqueduct Will Be Looked Over.

Many Entries Made for Coming Poultry Show.

[Office of The Times, No. 57 S. Fair Oaks Ave.]

PASADENA, March 20.—Although not all of the inventories of the Pasadena water companies are complete, and many inquiries remain to be made the question of the city's water supply has again come up for further discussion, and a meeting of the City Water Commission will be held at the rooms of the Board of Trade tomorrow night. The session will be for members of the commission, only, and various matters of importance will be talked of.

This will be the first meeting of the commission to be held for several months.

Mayor Thum stated last night that the proposed trip around the Owens River system has not been abandoned, although it was indefinitely delayed.

"Before we come to consider Owens water at all," he said last night, "the aqueduct will be inspected by men who are competent to judge, and their report will be gone over carefully. I cannot say now just when this trip will be made, or who will make it."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Committees from the First Spiritualist and the Progressive Spiritualist churches attended yesterday's session of the City Council to protest against the recently-enacted ordinance prohibiting the practice of necromancy and fortune-telling. The protestants maintained that a strict enforcement of the ordinance would interfere with the customs of their worship and that such action on the part of the city is unconstitutional.

The matter was finally referred to the City Attorney, who will seek to find a way of eliminating the spiritualist churches from the provisions of the ordinance without at the same time relaxing any in the attitude the city has taken toward the fortune-tellers.

The protestants numbered about thirty in all. Dr. H. C. W. Johnson, pastor of the Progressive Spiritualist Church; Dr. Jabez Haight, pastor of the First Spiritualist Church, and others, spoke.

C. W. Koiner, general manager of the municipal lighting plant, made a report for February, which was received with satisfaction by the Council.

The Council authorized Mayor Thum to purchase for the city two lots of the San Pascual tract, for not more than $1000, which sum is to be charged to the Arroyo Park land development and general fund.

The petition of property owners for the grading and improving with gutters of Lincoln avenue, from the intersection of Forest avenue north to the city limits, was granted. The work will be done under the terms of the ten-year bond act.

Residents along the street plan to make it one of the attractive thoroughfares of the city. The roadbed will probably be fifty-five feet or sixty feet in width, and there is talk of constructing it with five-foot parkings adjoining the property, the sidewalks between these parkings and the roadway. This, they say, would make it a distinctive and beautiful avenue.

An ordinance introduced yesterday by Councilman Chaffee contains a sweeping order to the railway companies to station flagmen and install bells at numerous crossings in the city. There was some opposition and the proposed ordinance was finally referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys.

Another proposed ordinance introduced yesterday is one establishing a City Planning Commission, similar to the one in Los Angeles. If the ordinance is passed as it stands the commission will be composed of three members, to be appointed by Mayor Thum.

In a report submitted to the Council yesterday Assistant City Attorney Munger suggests that the city accept the employers' liability act. The matter was referred to a special committee for further consideration.

The petition for a bond election for the construction of a municipal railway, which was circulated in the city recently, will not be presented to the Council. The scheme yesterday was abandoned by its originators.

Frank C. Weir, of No. 249 Cypress avenue, made application for a restaurant liquor license at No. 120 North Fair Oaks avenue. The request was referred to the liquor committee.

ENJOYABLE LUNCHEON.

The reciprocity luncheon of the Shakespeare Club yesterday was one of the chief society events of the winter. Officers and prominent members of women's clubs throughout Southern California were guests. There were over 200 present and luncheon was served in the auditorium of the clubhouse.

The tables were decorated with pansies, which flower is the emblem of the club. Yellow daffodils, jonquils and wreaths of white bridal roses also were used. The interior of the clubhouse was transformed into a veritable bower of ferns and sweet-scented blossoms.

TAKES ANOTHER TURN.

The announcement of Mayor Thum that he would not accept the resignation of Dr. Stanley P. Black, city health officer, has stirred up excitement in the ranks of the anti-vaccinationists. It was through the activity of these persons, who called two mass meetings recently and protested against the order of Dr. Black that children be excluded from some of the public schools until vaccinated, following a smallpox scare, which proved to be without foundation, that Dr. Black tendered his resignation.

The anti-vaccinationists and others opposed to Dr. Black's incumbency have declared that they will seek to induce the Mayor to change his mind.

CITY BRIEFS.

Residents of the northwest part of the city have determined to ask the Pasadena Board of Education to establish a summer playground at the Grover Cleveland school, on West Washington street. A delegation of citizens will probably attend the next meeting of the board to set forth reasons why such an improvement should be made.

City Attorney Carr is expected home from Washington, D. C., the last of this week.

Thomas D. Nestor, president of the Pasadena Merchants' Association, left yesterday for Sioux City, Iowa, upon receiving word of the illness of a brother, Edward Nestor, who lives in that city. The latter visited Pasadena three years ago.

Twenty-five delegates to represent the city of Pasadena at the convention to be held in Los Angeles May 14, for the purpose of naming freeholders to draft a proposed charter for Los Angeles county, were appointed yesterday by the Board of Trade and the Merchants' Association.

The delegates will meet at the rooms of the Board of Trade at 4 o'clock this afternoon to organize.

Hotel Vista del Arroyo, Pasadena.
Choice rooms with board at El Morera, 158 N. Euclid.
Artists' materials at Wadsworth's.
Times dictionaries now on sale at the Pasadena branch, No. 52 South Fair Oaks.
More beautiful gray Navajo rugs just received at Grace Nicholson's Famous Shop, 46 Los Robles.

The people of Pasadena are looking forward with great interest to the next number in the Throop Institute lecture course. The Rev. Robert J. Burdette will speak on "Rainbow Chasers" at the Shakespeare Clubhouse, Thursday evening. Tickets, 50 cents.

Santa Monica.

CORPORATIONS REFUSE TO PAY LICENSE TAXES.

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—Telephone, gas, electric and other corporations have refused to pay their municipal licenses, contending that the adoption by the voters of the State of the constitutional amendment transferring taxation direct to the corporations had rendered them immune from the payment of license taxes in municipalities.

The matter has been referred by Council to the City Attorney, who will take no action pending the decision of the Supreme Court in a suit brought by a northern city. Exactly the same questions are involved in that suit as are embraced in the dispute here and the attempt to collect license here will be pigeon holed until the higher court interprets the situation as developed under the new law.

STREET PAVING.

Taking advantage for the first time if the 1911 law, the City Council has instructed the Street Superintendent to give the Pacific Electric trolley line notice to proceed at once with the paving of its portion of Ocean avenue. The alternative under this law is that if the company fails to act within a stated number of days the city has authority to do the work and charge the expense to the electric road. Ocean avenue, the main north and south thoroughfare through the city, has been blockaded for many moons by reason of the dilatory tactics of the trolley road. The city early last fall paved its portion of the street with asphalt and has been waiting patiently ever since for the Pacific Electric to complete its paving between and alongside the tracks.

WANT OLD COACHES.

For the second time in as many weeks the Council has ordered that a demand be made upon the Pacific Electric to return to the western division of the trolley line the large new passenger coaches which have been in operation on other divisions since the present road took over the Los Angeles Pacific. The contention on the part of the Council is that the old cars which were substituted on the beach run are so slow that they are unable to make the schedules. Frequently the main line trains are as much as thirty minutes late on a trip that is ordinarily made in considerably less than an hour. When the objection was first raised the managers of the road said the cars would be returned; but they failed to demonstrate their ability to come back and the Council is asking the railroad people to make good their promise.

TO OPEN STREET.

The Council has failed to give favorable consideration to the petition of Hill street property owners for the vacation of a ten-foot strip on either side of the street and the order has been renewed to the Street Superintendent to clear the highway of all fences, bulkheads, etc. This general clearance will perhaps be followed by a request for the opening of the street from the sand section of the trolley tracks, thus affording a desirable route for automobile parties coming to tide water.

NEWS BRIEFS.

James Graham of Los Angeles and Monrovia has been employed by the architects of the Santa Monica High School as superintendent of construction, succeeding H. C. Hollwedel. The appointment was approved by the Board of Education. The board has nothing to do with the selection of a superintendent.

Five burglaries have been reported to the police since Saturday night and among the things reported as having been stolen were jewelry and articles worth in all more than $500. One man, a stranger, has been arrested and is being held under suspicion, while several others who are believed to know something about it are being closely watched. The expeditions ranged all the way from Westgate to the dance hall on the pier. From the latter a time-worn violin manufactured by one of the old masters was taken. A room in the Oceanview rooming-house was entered and a silver watch was taken. From a room in the Savoy considerable jewelry was stolen. No. 141 Ashland avenue lost a couple of small savings banks.

The Sunday-school classmates and the public school friends of little Lillian Karle, aged 12, who died this morning, following a brief illness, will attend her funeral in a body at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Karle of No. 1533 Third street.

Society now at Hotel del Coronado.

Long Beach.

POLICE STILL ON THE TRAIL.

Long Beach Officers Seek Slayer of Borden.

Daughter of Minister Disappears During Night.

Revision of City Charter Is Planned by Citizens.

LONG BEACH, March 19.—The search for the murderer of Police Officer Thomas C. Borden has abated not a jot, and every clew is followed to its lead. One of the most promising developed today and led to Los Angeles. The suspect in this instance so closely resembles the description of E. R. Rowett and two women who saw the murderer that a warrant for his arrest on a minor charge was issued and he will be brought here as soon as he is located. The police claim that a dozen people have asserted that the suspect answers the description in every way.

William Davies and Thomas Monahan are still in custody, but Monahan, whose only fault seems to be a love of drink, will probably be released as he answers only in a general way the description. Young Davies has established an apparent alibi, but the officers say that his witnesses are not noted for veracity and in view of the fact that Mrs. Borden is still positive in her identification, he will be held on the theory that he had an accomplice in the elder man, who was chased by the neighbors.

Circulars have been sent broadcast offering $1000 reward for information relative to the man described by Rowett and it is regarded as significant that this description tallies with that sent out a few days ago of one of the thugs who assaulted W. H. Alston.

This morning the police commission increased the force by the addition of several plain clothes men, some of whom come from the Los Angeles force on leave of absence and will be kept on duty for several days. The commission also discussed bloodhounds, but took no official action. Efforts to secure dogs from different Sheriffs proved unavailing, it being said the prevalence of oiled roads in this section have made the dogs comparatively valueless as trailers. Walter E. Brown, for several years a patrolman, was promoted to the mounted squad, to fill Borden's place.

Coroner Heartwell will hold an inquest on the murdered man tomorrow morning, at which time the widow of the deceased will make her first sworn testimony and upon which will rest the future disposition of young Davies. Mrs. Borden, although still suffering from the shock, is much improved today and able to talk calmly of the tragedy. According to present arrangements the funeral of the murdered officer will be held Thursday.

A call from Zaferia that a tramp had appeared at a house and threatened to kill the woman unless he got something to eat, sent three auto loads of citizens to the gum grove east of town, but the fellow had made his escape.

GIRL DISAPPEARS.

Miss Bessie Lincoln, daughter of Rev. T. W. Lincoln, disappeared from home yesterday, eluding her nurse, and has not been located. She was seen to board a San Pedro car for Wilmington, where she formerly lived; but was not seen there. Miss Lincoln is a pretty woman, 21 years of age, five feet, eight inches tall and weighs 130 pounds. She has been ill for several months, due to overstudy as a student at the college of music, U.S.C. Her father, because of her condition, fears that some harm has befallen her.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE.

To keep the skin soft and lovely, gently massage the face, neck and arms daily with a solution made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. This is better than powder, for it gives a more natural appearance and will not rub off, although it makes the complexion smooth, white and satinlike.

To cleanse and refresh the scalp and hair, use a dry shampoo powder made by mixing a cupful of cornmeal with a small original package of therox. Sprinkle on the head and brush out thoroughly. Too much water makes the hair harsh, dry and faded. Therox strengthens thin and weak hair and produces thick and luxuriant, brilliant tresses.

Pain and worry give one an anxious, harried look. Many women have told me that Mother's Salve gave them relief from headache, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia and other common afflictions. It is easy to use, quick to act, and should be in every home.

Superfluous hair is a most annoying and embarrassing disfigurement. Ladies can easily and quickly remove wild hairs from face and forearms, by an application of delatone paste. Just mix powdered delatone with enough water to cover the hairy surface; apply and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

DYNAMITE IS IN MAGAZINE.

San Diego Official Denies the Printed Reports.

Attorney Has Been Indicted on Perjury Charge.

Health Department to Regulate Fish Markets.

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—Theories and reports advanced by the police that alleged dynamite plotters had hooked into the city magazines and stolen dynamite in sufficient quantities to blow up several big buildings is dispelled by statements made this morning by Superintendent of Sewers A. E. Dodson, in whose department the explosive is kept and used by Purchasing Agent J. Murray Loop, of the finance department. Both deny that any quantity of explosive has been missed from the city storage house. Superintendent Dodson, however, admitted that attempts to break into powder boxes had been made and foiled.

"In the first place the city owns no dynamite," said Superintendent Dodson. "Those in City Park are owned by the Western Metal & Supply Company from whom the city makes its purchases. That used by the city is kept in charge of Fred H. Lockwood, engineer of the sewer construction. Small amounts to be used each day are given to the shot firers daily, according to the amount to be used. The powder is bought by weight and is given to the men to be used by weight. In this manner the amount given out and that left on hand is checked up and every stick accounted for.

About a week ago Engineer Lockwood found out of 100 pounds a discrepancy of about ten sticks. This is accounted for from the fact that frequently in making up the weights the amount given to one man is overweighted. That every stick given out or taken used or returned there is no doubt and every man connected with the sewer department to whom the explosive is given for use is a trusted employee. There was a time when attempts were made to steal the powder. This was some time ago. It was discovered first that by means of a false key one of the locks of one of the powder boxes had been opened. The box was empty, however. The next night an attempt was made to break the lock on another box, but this was unsuccessful. Since then we have kept guards on duty all night and of the powder stations and magazines. There could be no possible way in which the explosive could have been stolen."

INDICTED LAWYER.

Attorney R. E. Kirk, counsel for defendants in the conspiracy cases, was arraigned before Judge W. A. Sloane in Superior Court this morning to answer to an indictment charging him with perjury. Kirk was represented by Frank Owers, as counsel. Owers asked the court for forty-eight hours time in which to plead, which was granted.

While it is Kirk's desire to have a speedy trial in order that this matter may come to a termination he wishes to have time to look over the indictment before pleading," said his counsel. Kirk was indicted on charges of making false affidavits for registration.

Kirk's arraignment to plead was set for Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SANITARY MEASURE.

The Board of Health will shortly take action on a pure food campaign. The wagons, fish markets, hot tamale stands, lunch wagons and cheap restaurants, according to report, are to be placed under the ban.

At the last meeting the board auditorium Dr. F. H. Mead, health officer, and Meat Inspector Dr. I. W. Hellman, to investigate conditions. For some time past these officials have conducted a personal investigation of the purity of supply of fish, tamales and other meats. According to statements made by the officials the result so far has been unhealthy conditions and at the next meeting it will be recommended that wholesale fish markets along the water front are in a state of uncleanliness exceeding to statements by health officials who recently started an investigation tour.

"In one place we found that one of the fish box, where fish are kept moist as a part of a stall where the fish is kept," said one of the officials.

"The entire place smelled of rotten fish and was so disgusting that it was difficult to continue the inspection. It was also discovered that fish-heads and decayed fish are dumped promiscuously in the bay, breeding disease.

The Board of Health will shortly begin on a pure food campaign. Dirty fish markets, hot tamale stands, lunch wagons, cheap restaurants, according to rules are to be placed under the ban.

At the last meeting the board authorized Dr. F. H. Mead, health officer, and Meat Inspector Dr. I. W. Cox to investigate conditions. For the past few days these officials have conducted a personal investigation of the quality of fish, tamales and meats. According to statements by the officials the result so far obtained in unsanitary conditions and a number will be recommended.

Certain fish markets along the bay front are in a state of uncleanliness, according to statements by the officials who recently started an investigation.

In some places we found that one fish box, where fish are displayed as a part of a stall where they are kept," said one of the officials.

"In one place smelled of rotten fish was so disgusting that it was difficult to continue the inspection. We also discovered that fish-cleaners and decayed fish are dumped directly in the bay, breeding disease."

AUTO TURNS TURTLE.

Machine Strikes Cart, Throwing Occupant Twenty Feet in the Air.

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—An automobile accident today on the Thompson road in this city came near resulting in at least three deaths. As it is all were considerably injured and their escape from death is considered as miraculous. Dr. Farwell, who was returning from a visit, turned the machine over. In the auto with Dr. Farwell. There was a heavy load on the road and on account of the fact, it is stated, the driver did not noticing a cart in front of him, who was driving in a cart. The big wheels of the cart, then swerved the machine to the bank at the side of the road when it turned turtle, throwing the occupants of the car between the wheels. When Sifford's rig was overturned went straight up in the air. He figures that he was thrown fifty feet, for while he was in the air he saw his horse and cart three times. The cart was loaded with wood and Sifford's shoes knocked off his four shoes knocked off.

Both his legs and arms were broken and his clothes were torn to shreds. He was so angered at the accident that he forgot his injuries for many, and started off to hunt up and whip the man who had run into him. When he got to the automobile he helped pull the men from under it. Neither of them were hurt, but the big machine caught fire and the flames had to be extinguished by throwing dirt on them. The auto suffered considerably.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Dried Fruit Growers' Association of this county, which has had its headquarters here, will locate at Santa Paula, where it has purchased the Castle Brothers packing-house. The association is made up of apricot growers. H. Zander becomes manager of the association, vice Jewell, resigned.

According to the manager of the Lima Bean Growers' Association, there will be a bigger acreage in Lima beans this year than ever before. In San Diego and Orange and Los Angeles counties the acreage will be materially increased, while in this county all the land which was not put into beets early in the season will this year go into Lima beans, materially increasing the acreage. The manager figures that the rains have benefited this county to the extent of $3,000,000.

The big Saticoy bridge across the Santa Clara River at Saticoy will be ready to turn over to the county early in April, when a big celebration of the opening of the bridge will be held.

One hundred San Francisco business men have notified Secretary Sheridan of the local Chamber of Commerce that they will visit this city on April 27 to make the acquaintance of the people of this city. The citizens will make extensive arrangements to entertain the business hunting people from the Bay City.

SEEK TO SAVE THE BOND ISSUE.

SANTA ANA CITY ATTORNEY TAKES PRELIMINARY STEPS.

Attorneys Will File Petition for Writ of Mandate and Seek to Establish the Validity of Two Hundred Thousand Dollar Issue—Man Assists Cupid Effectively.

SANTA ANA, March 19.—The preliminary steps to make a fight in the Appellate Court to save the $200,000 High School bonds were taken today by City Attorney Heathman and Attorney R. Y. Williams. The bonds were rejected three weeks ago by J. H. Adams & Co. of Los Angeles, on the advice of the company's attorneys that the bonds were illegal in that the procedure was not according to law. In rejecting the bonds, the company stated that if the Appellate Court holds that they are good, the company will take them.

Williams and Heathman, as attorneys for the Board of Education, had some of the High School bonds printed, and this morning they demanded that T. B. Talbert, as chairman of the Board of Supervisors, sign them. As was expected, Talbert refused. The attorneys will now file a petition for a writ of mandate in the Appellate Court in Los Angeles, and seek to establish the validity of the issue.

A great deal depends upon the outcome of this move. The Board of Education has selected a site for the Polytechnic High School, proposed to be bought, and with the usual differences of opinion over a site to meet it is doubtful if the bonds can be again voted, if the court holds that the present issue is invalid.

AID TO CUPID.

Robert Squires took the place of Cupid last night in making arrangements for the marriage of a couple from Los Angeles, John B. Husser, 23, and Lucy Snydish, 18. The couple arrived here late at night, determined to get married at once. On stepping from the car they met Squires and inquired of him if it were possible to get a license for a wedding. Squires has an automobile, and he took the lovers into it, rode to the home of County Clerk Williams, got him, and then provided a minister in the person of Rev. J. H. Scott, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The City Trustees have instructed City Attorney Heathman to prepare an ordinance doing away with a license of $6 per year upon real estate agents. This was done on the petition of agents who have offices. They declared that there are dozens of curbstone brokers who escape the license, who stand around until they see some regular agent showing prospective customers around and then grab the customer and sell him something. The agents said that they objected to paying a license when the curbstoners escaped. The City Trustees take that view of the matter.

Marriage licenses: Michael J. Langhnone, 32, and Frances L. Krogel, 33; Walter R. McLeod, 22, and Ethel M. Collard, 21; John B. Husser, 23, and Lucy Snydish, 18, all of Los Angeles.

CATHOLIC CHURCH BURNED.

Fire of Mysterious Origin Completely Destroys St. Mary's Church at Whittier—Women Achieve Victory.

WHITTIER, March 19.—Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the building and furniture of St. Mary's Catholic Church at an early hour this morning, causing a loss estimated at $6000 and covered by but $2000 insurance.

Like the bronze eagle on the Times Building, the crosses on the front of the structure stood through the fire and the belfry and steeple were the only parts of the building that remained standing.

Rev. Father Antel, the priest in charge, says the origin of the fire is a mystery, but that there were matches in the building and a light burning at the altar. His theory is that the fire was started by mice gnawing at the matches.

The fire was not noticed and the alarm turned in until shortly before 2 o'clock this morning and by the time the fire department reached the scene the flames had gained such headway that their efforts to save the church were useless and their attention was turned to saving the parsonage. The fact that the doors and windows of the church were all found locked is sufficient evidence that the fire was not caused by an incendiary.

Father Antel stated that no plans have been made for a temporary place of worship, but that a tent will probably be erected until a new building can be built.

DEFERENCE TO WOMEN.

In accordance with the several requests made and the threats of the ladies to shun the polls on election day unless women were selected to serve on the election boards, the City Council last night revised the list of election officers for the several precincts and the names of five ladies were placed on the list.

So far as is known this is the first city to have women serving on the election boards and this brings up the question of conflict between two of the State laws. Election officers are forced to work from twelve to twenty-four hours in a day, while there is a law preventing women from working more than eight hours. Grave fears are entertained that our City Councilmen might have to face a term in prison. Nevertheless the women are bound to serve on the boards.

WEALTHY MAN DIES.

Henry F. Griffin, a wealthy retired rancher and a pioneer resident of this city, died at the Long Beach Sanatorium at 6:30 o'clock this morning after an illness of several weeks. His home was at No. 912 South Painter avenue, where he has resided for more than twenty years.

Funeral services will be conducted from Plymouth Congregational Church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. Wilson J. Marsh. At Whittier cemetery, where the remains will be buried, the services will be in charge of the Rosecrans Post, G.A.R., of which the deceased was a member.

CAUSE LOVE GOD TO SUSPEND.

Los Angeles Youth Marries a University Student at Redlands—Dictum against Lovemaking Follows.

REDLANDS, March 19.—Leonard S. Fowler, a student of the University of Redlands, whose marriage to Miss Beatrice Fessenden of San Bernardino, another student of the Baptist institution, caused the faculty to place a ban on love-making among the students of the university, has given up his course and will enter the employ of the Golden Gate Canning Company of Ontario. Mrs. Fowler will continue her course in music at the university and will join her husband later.

The young man is the son of W. H. Fowler of Los Angeles, a trustee of the university, while his wife is the daughter of Rev. Mr. Fessenden, a pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Bernardino. The happy romance had its inception and culmination during their stay at the university and when they were married, caused quite a stir among the members of the faculty. As a result, resolutions were passed a short time afterwards by which it was laid down that lovemaking among students of the institution is to be discouraged and the possession of serious intentions was sufficient grounds for expulsion.

The young man's father recently purchased an interest in the canning company and he will go to take his father's place in the management of the plant. However, the members of the faculty of the Baptist college couldn't refrain today from telling the other students of the institution "I told you so."

LAUNDRY STOPS UP SEWER MAINS.

SAN BERNARDINO SHIRT SHORTAGE ENDS IN TROUBLE.

Plumbers Find that Various Articles of Wearing Apparel Are Responsible for Trouble Charged to Other Sources—Judge Bledsoe to Give Dinner to Alumni Friends.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 19.—Claiming that the sewer line along Court street holds a large quantity of laundry lost during the past years, the property owners along the street refuse to be taxed by the City Council for repairs to the sewer line. It is declared that all sorts of laundry missing from the establishments has been fished out of the sewer by plumbers seeking the cause of a gradual stoppage of the sewer line. The laundrymen are said to have identified much of that recovered as articles for which they paid when the laundry turned up missing.

TO GIVE DINNER.

Judge B. F. Bledsoe, as president of the Stanford Alumni, has issued a call for a meeting of the members in this section for Thursday night at 7:30, at which plans will be started to arrange for a inner to be given about April 5, in honor of President David Starr Jordan of Stanford. Dennis Searles, chairman of the advisory board, and J. E. McDowell, secretary of the Alumni Association. These gentlemen are to undertake a tour of the South, stopping in Los Angeles, San Diego and Riverside.

RETAINED BY COUNCIL.

J. E. Barker, an expert accountant of Los Angeles, has been retained by the City Council to expert the books of the two gas companies here, with a view of ascertaining whether the cosporations should be permitted to increase the rate over the dollar limit. Both companies have been requested to submit an itemized statement covering the years from 1910, showing the amount of gas generated and the amount consumed.

WILL BE MARRIED.

Marriage licenses were issued today to Walter E. Savage, native of New York, age 58, and Anna M. Shephardson, native of Kentucky, age 49, residents of Los Angeles; and Daniel Robert Palen, native of California, age 29, and Hulda Caroline Meaves, native of Nebraska, age 29, residents of Los Angeles.

PREPARING FOR THE HARVEST.

El Centro Planters Are Making Arrangements to Care for Next Season's Cotton Crop.

EL CENTRO, March 19.—The warehousing of the next cotton crop of Imperial Valley is one of the problems upon which the officers of the California Cotton Growers' Association is now engaged, in connection with financing the crop, for which plans have been well matured. It will be necessary to provide for warehousing the cotton, as the cotton exchange cannot itself be the custodian of the property upon which it is borrowing the money for the financing of the crop. This probably means that there will be large warehouses erected at several of the valley towns before the beginning of cotton picking next August. The cotton association is also taking up the matter of providing pickers and other labor for the planters.

NEW ROUTE.

A. F. Gray is trying out a new route—really by way of an old trail—from Holtville to Yuma. He has made a trip over this route and says that it will be practicable to use it and thereby shorten the distance between Holtville and Yuma to forty-five miles. If this should prove to be a route that can be well maintained, it will change the situation in regard to the Imperial Valley section of the proposed transcontinental automobile highway.

MANY TRANSFERS.

The proof that many newcomers are securing Imperial Valley lands and that the larger holdings are being subdivided is given in the constantly-growing list of deeds recorded. During the past two months this business has constantly grown. Among the buyers of the past few weeks have been some of the most prominent stock-raisers of the Southern California Coast districts, who have been attracted here by the unfailing supply of water and abundance of green feed during the entire year. Buyers also include several large sheep-raisers of Arizona and New Mexico, who have found in Imperial Valley a highly-desirable location for their business. They declare that lambing here is with less loss than in any other place with which they are familiar.

SEELEY IS HOST.

Today the people of Seeley, one of the new towns on the San Diego and Arizona Railroad, are entertaining the ranchers of Water District No. 13 at a turkey barbecue and general reunion. An interesting programme of vital valley topics is to be presented.

CHILD CHARGES BRUTALITY.

Fullerton Woman Alleged to Have Abused Little Daughter Is Taken to the County Jail.

FULLERTON, March 19.—Charged with having cruelly beaten her 7-year-old daughter Mrs. Ramirez of this city, was taken to the County Jail last night.

The little girl, while on the street, told a story of mistreatment that aroused the indignation of all who heard it. She said her mother had whipped her with a horseship, and examination of the girl's blistered and bruised back proved her story to be true. She went to the house of Mr. Good and pleaded to be permitted to remain there for the present, saying if she went home her mother would kill her. The mother denies having whipped the child.

NEWS BRIEFS.

At a mass meeting of local business men, held last night, E. S. Richman and Gus Stern were indorsed for City Trustees. C. A. Giles was also indorsed for City Clerk. The Socialists also have up a full ticket and claim they will pool about 150 votes. It is estimated there are now between 800 and 900 voters in the city.

The Taft Club of Fullerton is now well organized, starting out with over 100 active members. Hon. C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, A. S. Bradford of Placentia, and many other leading residents of this part of the county are for Taft. Arrangements have been made for Dist.-Atty. Fredericks of Los Angeles to address the club here soon.

Mrs. Carrie E. Ford, who announced recently that she would be a candidate for City Trustee, this afternoon filed a withdrawal notice with the City Clerk, having decided not to stay in the race.

Cabbages are now beginning to move from this section in large quantities. There will be an average crop and very good prices are being realized.

RIALTO.

RIALTO, March 19.—An important deal just closed here is that by which the Fontana Company transfers to a trio of San Bernardino men forty-five acres of unimproved land lying along the terrace above Lytle Creek, to the north of this city. W. H. Ham, W. E. Keir and Shirley Bright are the members of the syndicate. The price paid is $150 per acre, which will be divided among the owners for improvement. No water goes with the deal. The buyers expect to procure Lytle Creek water, and later have in view a possible project for the development of water on the property. The land will be set out to citrus fruit, it being one of the choice portions of the tract, the past season having demonstrated the fact that the orchards in that vicinity were practically immune from frost.

New Lingerie Dresses
The assortment is complete and embraces every new fabric and combination. You will be charmed with the dainty elegance of these garments.
Voiles, marquisettes, batistes and sheer muslins, combined in every conceivable way with heavy embroideries, and Cluny, Macrame and Valenciennes laces. A hem of black silk gives character to some, and others show the newest foot frills and peplum. In fact, the dresses featured at this showing are unusually attractive and rarely priced as low as Does seem a little inappropriate, doesn't it. Something like the mushroom tailors, without knowledge of tailoring, without price in their work, who start shops and advertise "$50 suits for $16." Only consolation is that such tailors don't last long; and that he who is once bitten is seldom bitten twice.

Next suit he buys, he comes where good, plain, printed figures mark the price on every bolt of goods, and where he knows he gets, always, the most for his money.

"I'll Drive Your Blues Away"
—DR. RING

Yes, and I'll drive away those black and red spots that may dance before your eyes at times. Nothing but bright, clear, clean sunlight should shine into your life. That's just what I am here for. I am here to help you if you will but realize the importance of every weak or ailing moment you allow your eyes to suffer.
I am not merely here to subscribe and sell you glasses. I am here to make your eyes well. I am here to drive the gloom away. I am here to do just that for your eyes which they need. I am here to do the work myself. I give you personal attention.
And then I have people with me who are experts on the grinding of lenses if lenses be necessary, and to fit frames and mounting when needed.
Dr. Edward C. Bull, formerly of 4 Rue-de-la Paix, Paris, and later manager for the celebrated Oculist and Optician, C. Dixie of London, England, who has for years been "Optician to the King"—this gentleman is now associated with me, and personally superintends a great deal of the mechanical work required.
You are Dealing with a Doctor Here Not an Eye-Glass Peddler.
I hold diplomas by examination—not merely by card of commission—both from the California Board of Examiners in Optometry and California Board of Medical Examiners.
My Prices are no Higher than you will find Reasonable.

TORCHBEARER TO PAGAN JUNGLES.

Explorer to Lead Civilizing Army Into Africa.

Six Hundred Picked Experts for Giant's Work.

Would Bare Vast Resources of Dark Continent.

Taking with him into the heart of the Dark Continent 600 picked engineers, physicians, teachers and agricultural experts gathered from all parts of this country and England, Dr. Karl Kumm, perhaps the greatest African explorer of modern times, announced yesterday at his temporary home in Huntington Beach his intention of returning immediately to his chosen field of endeavor, there to open Central Africa to the light of modern civilization.

Seven times Dr. Kumm has traversed portions of mid-Africa never touched by another white man's foot. It is his avowed intention to make his eighth the point of departure for a reclamation of that little-known world which will mean more for it than any other expedition since the days of Stanley and Livingston. While he believes that the first step in the civilization of the wild tribes of the Ironstone Plateau will be their Christianizing, it is not evangelists, but the most skilled of professional experts which he will take with him. At first three men—a doctor, a teacher and an engineer—will be assigned to each of the 200 tribes. Later it is expected to centralize the work with the formation of modern cities where now are nothing but trackless jungles.

Dr. Kumm has had this project in mind for years and it was with it in mind that he returned from Africa by way of San Francisco in February. His projection was delayed by an attack of appendicitis, from the effects of which he has only now recovered. He will leave for the East within ten days to begin the work of selecting his army of enlightenment invasion. He expects this to consume several months, but will sail for Africa in the fall.

The distinguished traveler is the head of the United Soudan Missions, an organization having branches in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa and in this country. Its membership includes Premier Asquith, the moderators of the churches of Scotland and Ireland, and other prominent European churchmen.

WORK OF YEARS.

The pagan tribes are not to be Europeanized or denationalized but only to be directed in the paths of progress in harmony with their capabilities and environment. Dr. Kumm believes that this can be accomplished within a generation. Since the cessation of the wars which have lasted in Central Africa for 500 years, advancing commerce has opened the rivers to navigation, built and improved roads and made possible exploration of the hitherto comparatively unknown portion of the continent.

The Mohammedan religion, brought to them by the fanatical devotees of that faith, is now almost universal among the tribes of the Ironstone Plateau and this fact has created problems for the solution of Europeans which neither military conquest nor political movements can solve. Only Christianity, says Dr. Kumm, can satisfactorily solve the problems.

His explorations have carried him 800 miles farther north than the section visited by Stanley and in his travels he has encountered natives of weird and striking appearance—the Shilluk and Dinkas tribes, the tallest men on earth, the pygmies of the Itura forest and the Sara-Kabba tribe, physically, perhaps, the strangest of human beings, their lips artificially distended to frightful proportions.

GREAT WEALTH WAITS.

He terms Africa as the "continent of contradictions" richest of the five in natural resources, yet inhabited by thousands too poor even to afford clothing. It has, he says, the greatest mineral deposits, the greatest natural riches, the most magnificent commercial possibilities of any land on earth —a continent the great central portion of which is awaiting the development of the white man and ready to repay him with fabulous wealth of iron and copper and coal, of ivory and diamonds and gold.

Federated State and Provincial Organizations Launch a $900,000 Building Project and Will Push It.

At the annual meeting of the Federation of State and Provincial Organizations of Southern California held last night in Mammoth Hall No. 3, a project was launched for the building of a ten-story $900,000 home for the thirty-five State and provincial societies affiliated.

M. M. Davidson of the Iowa Society was designated by resolution as the agent of the Federation in securing the necessary funds to build. Davison states that he has $100,000 already promised by wealthy residents of Los Angeles. The incorporation of the Federation Building Company will soon be asked for. It is planned to lease the basement and first floors and give over the second, third and tenth floor and roof garden to halls, a cafe, banquet hall and offices and clubrooms for the various societies. Davison states that an option has been secured on a lot near Seventh and Broadway to cost $400,000, the building to cost half a million dollars more.

The following officers were elected: President, R. M. Richardson, city, member Nebraska Society; first vice-president, M. A. Fleming, city, Texas Society; second vice-president, Miss Bertha M. Campbell, Pasadena, Tennessee Society; secretary, C. H. Parsons, Artesia, Iowa Society; treasurer, M. M. Davison, city, Wisconsin Society.

The picnic of the society will be held September 9, at a place yet to be selected.

SURPRISE THEMSELVES AND EVERYBODY ELSE.

Mrs. Richard A. Dunnigan,
Who was Charlotte Riley of Chicago.

RICHARD A. DUNNIGAN, a prominent Los Angeles attorney, and Miss Charlotte Riley, a Chicago belle and heiress, had the time of their lives yesterday finding some one to marry them.

They obtained the precious license early in the afternoon, spent several hours skimming about in a taxi searching for a priest to tie the marital knot —and failed.

Their disappointment was short, however, for Dunnigan headed the glad wagon toward the residence of Justice of the Peace Summerfield, one of Cupid's old standbys, and the ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock last night, with Deputy Constable Jack Adams as witness.

She is just 21 and a graduate of the Chicago Musical College. She has wealthy relatives living in Pasadena, and is a daughter of Homer Riley, former high official of the Michigan Central Railroad.

Dunnigan is a member of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and several other civic and fraternal organizations. He is the son of the late Judge Dunnigan.

"Where are you going on your honeymoon?"

"We may go to Europe and then again we may go to Arrowhead," said Mrs. Dunnigan with a laugh.

THE CITY'S HARBOR PLANS RECEIVE GREAT IMPETUS.

United States Engineer for This District Is Asked by Board of Engineers at Washington to Make Preliminary Report that May Result in Deeper Basin—City Council Employs Expert Consulting Engineer.

TWO events in the development of the city's harbor occurred yesterday that promise to be of the utmost importance and benefit and are expected to result in the construction of a harbor that will shelter the world's greatest ships.

The Board of Engineers at Washington requested Maj. McKinstry, United States engineer for this district, to make a preliminary report on the advisability of changing the Stokey bill for dredging the Los Angeles outer harbor to read thirty-six feet instead of thirty feet depth.

The City Council authorized the Harbor Commission to expend $6000 for the employment of E. P. Goodrich as consulting engineer of the harbor.

Both these actions are of the most far-reaching importance. It is believed that McKinstry will comply with a request to hasten a report on the deeper dredging proposition, and that his recommendation will favor the change.

The Harbor Commission will rely on Goodrich, as an expert harbor engineer, to induce Congress to provide for the deeper harbor.

Additional orders must be received by Maj. McKinstry before surveying is done, but it is intimated that the necessary instructions will follow soon after the preliminary report, and that a bill to appropriate $750,000 for deepening the outer harbor to thirty-six feet will be passed by Congress during the present session.

A telegram from Congressman Stephens to the secretary of the Harbor Commission forecasts the official wire to Maj. McKinstry. In his telegram Stephens told the commission that after visiting the War Department he obtained favorable action and that the local engineer would be directed by telegraph yesterday to make a report immediately.

ENGINEER'S GREAT HELP.

Great assistance in the present crisis has come from Maj. McKinstry in an unofficial capacity, it is declared by members of the Citizens' Advisory Harbor Committee. The government engineer has given the committee the benefit of his advice and researches regarding the preparation of the harbor for the rush of shipping which is to come with the opening of the Panama Canal, and especially regarding the proposed deepening.

Willis H. Booth, chairman of the Advisory Committee, is confident that the receipt of the orders by Maj. McKinstry for a preliminary report is but the initial step in the changing of the bill for the dredging of the harbor to thirty-six feet instead of thirty, as now provided.

Upon receipt of the engineer's preliminary report, which will show that neither the docks at the outer harbor nor the inner harbor may be reached by the largest ocean-going vessels with freight from the Atlantic freighters draw thirty-two feet, the Board of Engineers will forward the report to the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

This body will grant Congressman Stephens and the local committee of four a hearing within a short time, and is expected to order a resurvey of the harbor district in order to determine the cost of the extra dredging. It is probable that the Rivers and Harbors Committee will act favorably and increase the appropriation to provide for the deeper dredging.

The news of the telegram received by Maj. McKinstry from the Board of Engineers came as a surprise to the Council and was told that body during

How the Generous Surplus Will Be Delivered.

Chief Aqueduct Engineer Gives Whole Plan.

Pipe System Devised for a Principality.

The plans of Chief Engineer Mulholland of the Los Angeles Aqueduct for the distribution of the surplus Owens River water were submitted to the Board of Public Service yesterday and approved by it, to be presented to the City Council at a special session this afternoon. The district for which the chief engineer has provided, for the use of the surplus not needed by the city, contains 195,000 acres and is bounded on the north by the Sierra Madres, on the east by the easterly boundary of Pasadena prolonged from the base of the mountains southerly to the southerly boundary of the San Antonio ranch, thence running westerly along this southerly boundary of that ranch and Manhattan avenue, thence southerly and westerly along the south city limits to the Shoestring strip, and westerly to the ocean.

Part of this district must depend on the recovery of the waters used, but this recovery, the chief engineer declares, will appear in a few years after the Owens River water shall have come into universal use, provided the water is taken to water sheds to which the city will have access and provided, too, that ample facilities shall be afforded for impounding the winter flow of the aqueduct. The 195,000 acres does not include the area of the city, for, Mulholland explains, this city will already have been afforded an ample supply when the 2000 miners inches of aqueduct water recommended in the engineers' former report is added to that at present available, and because part of the area, such as that covered by Pasadena, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Santa Monica, Venice and smaller communities, has now at least a partial supply.

Engineer Mulholland has planned pipe lines for the new settlements in the San Fernando Valley, including the Van Nuys and Owensmouth districts.

LARGE ARABLE AREA.

"Of the area of 195,000 acres," the report says, 'about 170,000 are arable. As it was stated in the report of the Board of Engineers on the distribution of surplus water that 18,000 inches will serve 135,000 acres, 25,000 acres would have to be supplied by return waters, which at the same rate of one inch to seven and a half acres, would require about 4700 inches, if no credit were given for the supplies already available, and I feel quite confident that about that amount will be recoverable within a few years after the aqueduct water is put to general and complete use, provided the area for this purpose is wisely chosen."

Pasadena has been considered, but that city, the chief engineer points out, has made extensive surveys of its own for the use of the aqueduct water, and hence he has not covered it. Owing to the fact that the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers supply the district amply that lies southeast of the city, no plans have been made in that direction, either, and he points out that the supply to this territory

HE CARRIES A LOAD.

And Detective Who Follows Man Finds More Than Hundred Pieces of Jewelry—Held as Burglar.

Caught while trying to get away with a suitcase loaded with more than 100 pieces of jewelry, in addition to a miscellaneous assortment of revolvers, opera glasses and jewelry, Charles Baxter, recently from St. Louis, was arrested early yesterday charged with having committed burglary at the home of H. W. Mellen, No. 938 South Vermont avenue.

Detective Zeigler saw Baxter going into his room at No. 239 South Spring street and followed out of curiosity to see what the young man carried in his suitcase. When Zeigler arrested him Baxter became indignant and declared that a police "outrage" was perpetrated, but when his grip was opened in the presence of the officers it was found filled with articles for which he could not account.

An examination of the police reports showed that a large amount of solid silverware answering the description of that found in possession of Baxter had been stolen from the home of Mellen.

Seven gold rings also were found in a secret compartment of the suitcase, but the police are not certain as to the ownership of this particular property. Baxter was locked up pending further investigation.

CONDUCTOR INJURED.

Admitting that his motorman had started up at an unusual speed, E. C. Thompson, a conductor employed by the Los Angeles Railway, was thrown to the pavement last night at Twenty-ninth and Hoover streets as he was about to get on the moving car after having signalled it across the tracks at that point. When picked up after his fall, Thompson was removed to the Receiving Hospital, where it was found that his right arm had been severely sprained, in addition to a number of contusions on the body. Dr. Gage, the assistant police surgeon, treated the patient and later permitted him to go to his home at No. 747 Central avenue.

POPULAR MAN GONE BEYOND.

DEATH STRIKES EX-CORONER, LONG A SUFFERER.

Dr. Trout, With Enviable Record as Official, Business Man and Citizen, Expires in His Glendale Home; Pioneer Los Angeles Drug Merchant and Sun Company Founder.

John Henry Trout, M.D., one of the pioneer drug merchants of this city, and who was Coroner for the term beginning in 1902, died at his home, No. 913 San Rafael street, Glendale, last night at 8:10 o'clock. He had suffered from tuberculosis for two years and had been five months confined to his bed.

Dr. Trout was one of the founders of the Sun Drug Company. He was vice-president up to a year ago, when he was obliged to relinquish all business because of failing health. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, a Knight Templar, and belonged to Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, B.P.O.E.

As a public official, business man and private citizen alike, he was one of the most popular men in the county. He made an enviable record as Coroner.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but they will be in charge of brother Elks.

Dr. Trout was 51 years of age. He was born in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, attended the home school there until 17, then pursued a course in medicine at Annville College, Lebanon. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania School of Pharmacy in 1884 and from the medical branch of the same institution in 1887.

Dr. Trout came to Los Angeles in 1888. He established a drug business in October, 1891, at Sixth and Broadway. For eighteen years he was successful at that corner and won a host of friends.

Dr. Trout leaves a widow, Effie Petre Trout, two brothers, Jacob W. Trout of Landisville, Pa., and George M. Trout of Memphis; one sister, Mrs. Annie Lerr of Landisville.

ENTERTAINMENT AND DEBATE.

The Public Speaking Club of the Young Men's Christian Association will give an open entertainment and debate in the association auditorium this evening. The question for debate is: "Resolved, That the judiciary should be excluded from the recall." The affirmative will be supported by Paul Sampsell and G. W. Burrill; the negative, by W. C. Stryker and R. Speed. The club is under the direction of Leonard G. Nattkemper of the School of Oratory of the University of Southern California. The programme will include readings by E. G. Boyle, John Lundin, Alex MacKeigan, A. F. Henry, C. R. Norberg, R. G. Whitlock, O. P. Heyman and Paul Sampsell. The entertainment will be free and is open to both ladies and gentlemen.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

A plan to place the Reed model franchise on the ballot to the exclusion of all others at a special election on referendum ordinances set for May 17 was balked in the City Council yesterday.

In refusing to annul a marriage on the application of a husband, a Superior Court judge arraigned the man severely yesterday and declared he will grant the wife a divorce if she applies for one.

MODEL FRANCHISE IS NOT WELCOME.

SCHEME TO PLACE REED'S LAW ON BALLOT BALKED.

Legislation Committee of Council Called Upon to Perform What Member Pronounces Impossible Task—Special Elections on Ordinance Are Called for Three Days After Primary.

A clever little scheme to get the Reed plan for a model franchise ordinance placed on the special election ballot to the exclusion of the Works-Public Utility Board plan, was nipped i' the bud yesterday afternoon in the Council after oodles of oratory had been indulged in, and during the course of the debate there was some difficulty in finding out how any one of the so-called "model" franchises had been placed before the City Council.

Yesterday, the question of the special election was up before the Council and it was decided to hold it on the tuberculin test ordinance, the public railway fare ordinance and on the sale of the City Hall, on May 17. Then Reed moved that the Reed ordinance go on the ballot. Works participated in this discussion, and Councilman Andrews fired the first shot, declaring that, since a committee had prepared the Works ordinance it was ridiculous to ask the Council to place on the ballot an ordinance prepared by a private person—meaning Reed. Whitten, who has been through all these discussions and is really heartily tired of the waste of time, thought to settle it be referring all the ordinances, including that drawn by City Attorney Shenk and which the city is now working under, to the City Attorney to re-draft into one. Then it came out that theoretically the ordinance ought to be in the Legislation Committee still, as it never had been reorted out.

Betkouski wanted to know what the ordinance was and where is was and which it was. He said he would like to know what he was asked to vote on and he confessed that in the maze of ordinances he had become lost on this model franchise question. Langdon wanted the Council to continue to discuss Reed's ordinance without putting it on the ballot. He said this would be only fair to Reed and he was opposed to discussing the Works ordinance until Reed's had been disposed of. Whitten insisted on his motion, which led Lusk to ask how anyone was going to make the three antagonistic ordinances fit in a re-draft. Andrews declared it was necessary to take time. "I don't believe we can ever get an ordinance that will fit all cases. It is absurd," he said.

"Send Reed's ordinance with the other to the Legislation Committee," said Topham, "and let that committee revise it and get something into shape for us. That's the best way, it seems to me."

Reed objected that this would mean going over the same old ground again, but after a few more words the motion to put his ordinance on the ballot was lost sight of and it was sent to the Legislation Committee, as Topham proposed.

The special election question was itself the cause of some sharp argument in the Council in the morning. Betkouski said he could not see what good would be gained for the people by rushing it. Topham replied that the questions should be submitted and McKenzie said that if the people did not want these elections, no matter what they cost, they would turn the petitions down and would refuse to sign them. Whitten urged delay until all the questions now being raised might be submitted at the same time, although he said there was no question whatever of finally submitting them—that must be done. Lusk favored a short delay and sharply corrected a statement of Reed by declaring that the ordinance with regard to fares was not for the purpose of enabling the city to get at the books of the company, but to fix fares and nothing else.

In the afternoon, City Clerk Handley addressed the Council with an explanation of the advantages of holding the special elections immediately after the Presidential primary on May 14, as it would save much money in view of the re-arrangements of precincts. His idea was favorably received and after Chief Deputy City Attorney Howard Robertson had explained the law, the Council set May 17 as the date of the special election.

COUNCIL VERSUS POLICE.

EAGLE ROCK'S COMPLAINT.

The City Council took up the fight of the Eagle Rock Valley residents for a 5-cent fare with a vengeance, yesterday afternoon, and in communications through the City Clerk it will descend today on the Police Commission and on the Board of Public Utilities with a troop of question marks. It wants to know why.

A large delegation of Eagle Rock people was present, and with Foster C. Wright as spokesman, detailed to the Council a list of the conditions that they demanded should be corrected at once. The matter of a 5-cent fare was referred to the Board of Public Utilities, and also the question of the right of the Los Angeles Railway Company to cross certain streets for which the corporation is alleged to have no franchise.

Then the question was raised of the right of the company to charge a 10-cent fare to any part of the city, including the annexed districts. It was contended that this was clearly illegal. The City Attorney was directed to look into the whole subject and make a report to the Council, next Tuesday.

The most serious charge, in the opinion of the Councilmen who took part in the debate, was that against the police department. The railway company admitted that it had asked for police in view of possible trouble. Wright told the Council that one man had been held up by a policeman and had been threatened with arrest if he did not pay 10 cents. He wanted to pay a nickel. Other cases of intimidation, Wright said, would be detailed if desired. The Police Commission will be asked by what authority police were sent to Eagle Rock Valley, and will be asked also to investigate the intimidation charges.

Small Shortage Found.

Auditor Myers yesterday submitted his report of the examination he has just completed of the street and engineering departments, from November 1, 1904, to November 1, 1911. A small shortage in the street department is found to have occurred some years ago, but the responsible employee is dead, and the city cannot hope to recover. In the street department there are small credit balances amounting to $900, and in the engineering department, of $1000, which the Auditor says should be turned into a reserve account, as the money will never be called for probably. He recommends some changes in the method of keeping the trust fund accounts in the engineering department.

Better Fire Service.

Better fire service for the annexed districts was urged by Councilman Reed yesterday in the Council meeting, when the question of buying another auto fire-truck came up. The matter went to the Committee on Fire and Police.

City Hall Notes.

The City Council has rescinded its resolution asking the Harbor Commission to enter into negotiations for utilizing the city concession from the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company on the Miner fill.

Commissioner Warner of the Board of Public Utilities returned yesterday from his trip to the aqueduct as a member of the Aqueduct Investigating Committee, and will attend a meeting of the board today. Special Counsel Leslie R. Hewitt has prepared a draft of the proposed ordinance granting freight and express franchises to the street railway companies, and this will come before the board.

The City Council sent on their passage yesterday, eighty-two ordinances fixing street grades and ordering paving, grading and sidewalks.

E. W. C. F. Schmidt, recently dismissed as building inspector, has filed a statement with the City Council, declaring that he has not received fair play from Building Inspector Backus, or the Civil Service Commission. He asks for assistance in getting a hearing before the civil service department and insists that his work has been good, and that if he did not make as many inspections as other inspectors, it was because his work was thorough. He also says that Backus sent him to widely separated districts, thus preventing him from getting around as rapidly as the others.

SCORES HUSBAND. DITTO ATTORNEY.

REFUSES TO ANNUL MARRIAGE, BUT BEFRIENDS BRIDE.

Judge Declares Desertion Is Cold-blooded and Says He Will Be Pleased to Grant a Divorce on Grounds of Desertion if Wife Asks. It—Her Sickness His Plea.

In denying the annulment of the marriage of Ralph A. Wilhoite, sought on the ground of fraud, in that his wife had deceived him as to the true state of her health, Judge Monroe yesterday administered a stinging rebuke to Wilhoite for a cold-blooded desertion, and verbally rapped his attorney over the knuckles for bringing the suit.

The case was pathetic and unusual. Wilhoite seemed genuinely moved, and looked worn and tired. The evidence summed up was that believing his betrothed was concealing from him ill health which would interfere with their future married happiness, Wilhoite wrote, breaking off the engagement. This occurred three times, reconciliations being effected, and in each instance the girl did not complain.

They were married in 1909, she being 19 and he 22. According to Mrs. Wilhoite's testimony, he was all devotion. The marriage was unusually happy. He was trying to buy a small home and she was a faithful helpmeet. Then there came a time when he told her he did not love her and refused to allow her to caress him.

The court found that while he was making up his mind to leave her, the domestic relations were not interrupted; also, that Mrs. Wilhoite never learned from the doctors who examined her what the true state of her health was.

The court stated further that if Mrs. Wilhoite asks for divorce on a cross-complaint, he will certainly grant it on the ground of desertion.

CAN'T FIRE WIFE.

SHE WINS FIRST ROUND.

If Mrs. Kathleen Adams is a nagging woman, her aspect as she sat with her 2-year-old baby in Judge Monroe's courtroom yesterday did not indicate it. She appeared to be more of a spectator than a principal in the divorce proceedings brought by Thomas G. Adams, chief owner and head master of the Yale English and Classical School at No. 209 North Union avenue.

The curtain raiser in the divorce act was an order to show cause why Mrs. Adams should not be removed from the premises for alleged disorderly conduct. Adams related various incidents in which his wife is alleged to have participated, such as calling after him in the presence of others: "Tom got stung," and interfering with the routine of the school, all of which was billed as mental cruelty.

The court, however, decided the evidence was insufficient, but in disposing of the order, wished it understood that it did not indicate his decision in the divorce suit to follow. Attorney Milton K. Young represented Mrs. Adams.

MAY MEAN WEALTH.

CONTEST IN PROBATE COURT

The patents which John T. Harris left as practically all of his assets are the basis of a warm fight in the Probate Department of the Superior Court.

Former Judge Pope, representing the widow, is contesting the appointment of Alma C. Thompson, a trained nurse, as guardian of Mrs. Harris. He is also seeking to show the court that August C. Hepp of New York, to whom the widow turned over certain patents, is a reputable engineer who has virtually provided her with an income for life and a tentative offer of one-fifth of the profits, if the patents to be handled by a company shall turn out profitably.

The attempt has been made to show that Mrs. Harris is not capable of conducting business and for that reason should have a guardian. Her answer is that in view of the profitable arrangement made for her with Hepp, the patents are in safe hands and a guardian is not necessary.

One of Harris's most valuable patents is the electrical treatment of sewage, which is being tested at Santa Monica.

CITY PREPARES APPEAL.

SIXTEENTH-STREET CASE.

The city is preparing to appeal from the decision of Judge Bordwell in the Sixteenth-street assessment district, in which he found that the proceedings are illegal on the ground that proof of posting was not made. Thousands of dollars have been collected by the city for this improvement, and this money will have to be returned and the work covering four years done over again, if the decision is upheld.

In Judge Finlayson's court five property owners are seeking to set aside the assessment for the improvement of Twelfth street between Figueroa and Sentous streets on the ground of defects in the description of boundaries and failure to post notices.

The assessments of these lots range from $90 to $1097, which is considered high. The parties bringing suit are Ida May Shaffer, Elizabeth A. Long, Belle Cramer, Mrs. A. G. Van Pelt and Willard H. Babcock. They are represented by Attorney Robert Young.

COURT HOLDS CLINIC.

DOCTORS EXAMINE LIMB.

An impromptu clinic was held in Extra Sessions One yesterday during the trial of the $76,555 damage suit of Miss Nettie B. Rice, principal of the Santa Monica public schools, against the Pacific Electric for injuries received in a collision at Sixteenth and Oxford streets June 26, last. It was at her own request that she offered herself as a subject.

The wheel chair in which she is confined was rolled in front of the jury box, and the doctors called as experts on both sides, examined the limb injured in the accident. After the ordeal, Miss Rice lay with closed eyes, apparently oblivious of the testimony that followed. The experts who participated in the clinic were Drs. Magowan and Bryan for the railway, and Drs. Peck, Brainerd, Smith and Norton for Miss Rice.

JUST CAN'T HELP IT.

LAD'S PECULIAR MANIA.

Hyman Globerfelt, a bright appearing boy of 13, who has a mania for stealing rigs and taking joy rides, is a puzzle to the Juvenile Court. This is his fifth offense and his fourth trip to the Detention Home.

A horse and buggy unguarded is as much of a temptation to him as a fat pocketbook is to a dip. He has made one soulful trip to San Bernardino, two to Pasadena and Monday he got as far as Newhall with Milton Myers, a lad of his own age, before he was found. The lads had staked the stolen horse out and were wandering in Newhall looking for an opportunity to spend 10 cents on a meal for two.

SCRAP OVER CONTRACT.

COURT HOLDS UP AWARD.

An order to show cause why the City of Pasadena should not be enjoined from carrying out its contract with A. F. Childs to collect and haul garbage was granted by Judge Craig yesterday returnable in Department One on Monday. The application was made by Attorney Bull, representing J. W. Ritzman, who figured on the contract.

Ritzman alleges that Childs had not complied with the law which required him to deposit a certified check for 10 per cent. of the amount of the bid, and further that the specifications were worded so that they were not intelligible to an ordinary person and called for bids higher than they should have been, resulting in a waste of the taxpayers' money. Retzman bid 55 cents an hour while Childs's bid was 56 cents.

Incorporations.

The following incorporation papers were filed yesterday: Bronzart Manufacturing Company, incorporators, D. M. Potter, Andrew Switzer, Fred Fette, W. W. Bearman, W. C. Thompson, capital stock, $100,000, subscribed, $5. Freeman Myers & Co., incorporators, George K. Freeman, V. S. Freeman, C. R. Myers, capital stock, $5000, subscribed $500. Pacific Coast Fruit Auction Company, incorporators, Anthony Schaub, W. P. Yett, Kenneth MacRae, L. A. Banks, R. M. Irving, capital stock, $100,000 subscribed, $50.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Man Accused of Wife-Beating is Indignant and Says His Mother-in-Law Must be Responsible.

F. Rosos expressed himself as being both a much surprised and disgusted individual when arraigned before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday on a complaint charging him with having beaten his wife.

"Well, what have you got to say about it?" asked the court.

"I never hit her," replied Rosos, with a wave of his hand in the direction of his wife.

"That's what they all say," remarked the court.

"It's a fact," continued Rosos. "I never hit my wife. I don't know anything about it. I don't even know why I should be arrested. I do know that my mother-in-law does not like me, and I guess she had me arrested."

The case was continued until today, when the mother-in-law will be given an opportunity to present her version.

Change of Mind Saves Time.

Joe Rubio added fifteen days to his almost expired sixty-day sentence when he escaped from the chain gang a few days ago. He was quickly recaptured, and when taken into the Police Court, pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial.

Rubio appeared before Police Judge Chambers yesterday and pleaded guilty. If he had still demanded a jury trial he would have been forced to remain in jail until June. He did not relish that idea, as he only had a couple of days yet to serve on his original sentence.

Union Squabblers In Court.

Charles P. Trainor, secretary of the local Brewery Bottlers' Union, who lives on South Avenue 20, was arraigned before Police Judge Chambers yesterday on a complaint charging him with having committed an assault with a deadly weapon upon Laurence Brunner, No. 814 Park drive, another member of the same organization. The defense was not ready to proceed, and a continuance was secured until the 26th inst.

The cutting was the result of a quarrel between the two men on the floor of the lodge meeting last Thursday night. Brunner was fined by Trainor for taking the floor and opposing him (Trainor) for re-election as secretary. Brunner sought the nomination. The stabbing occurred on the street in front of the Labor Temple. Trainor escaped and was not captured until the next morning.

Cop's Words Lack Honey.

C. E. Sutherland was before Police Judge Fredericksen on a charge of having violated traffic regulations at Seventh and Broadway yesterday. The defendant complained of the manner and language in which he was addressed by the traffic patrolman.

"What do you want the patrolman to say to you?" asked the court. "'Oh, please my dear sir, stop?' The patrolmen have to look four ways at once and don't have time for that kind of language."

Both sides were given until this morning to produce additional witnesses in their behalf.

Mother Complains of Son.

The usual spectacle of a mother appearing in the Police Court as the complaining witness against her son and daughter-in-law was viewed by Judge Fredericksen yesterday.

Mrs. M. E. Moore accused C. G. Moore and his wife of having disturbed her peace. She testified that during her absence the couple forced their way into her apartments, No. 861 South Hill street, indulged in liquor and refused to depart when she returned. The mother also accused the defendants of having thrown into the street some clothing belonging to a male roomer whom they did not like, but whom Mrs. M. E. Moore does like.

The son and daughter were fined $5 or five days. While they were being lead back to jail the mother walked proudly out of the courtroom. The man who lost his clothes was not present.

No Excuse for Assault.

J. D. Cook, who sought to collect a wage claim by pounding his employer over the head with a hammer and then reaching for a hatchet to make further impressions upon the man's anatomy, was sent to jail for thirty days yesterday by Police Judge Chambers. John Doran, a contractor, appeared in court with his head all bandaged up as the complaining witness.

"There was no earthly excuse for hitting that man with that hammer," said the judge, as he imposed sentence.

FALLS FAR, HITS HARD.

But Colored Fireman Isn't Seriously Hurt, for He Tumbles Into a Net. His Foot Slips.

E. W. Walker, a colored fireman connected with Engine Company No. 4, who lives at No. 1108 East Pico street, fell sixty feet yesterday and only sustained a slight sprain of the right foot.

He would have been instantly killed had he not dropped into a net which had been spread for just such an emergency. Walker, with other members of the fire department, were practicing on the drill tower on North Broadway. He was attempting to slide down a rope about seventy-five feet long when one of his feet slipped after he had descended a fifth of the distance. Walker shot downward, screaming with fright, and struck the net stretched at the base of the tower. He landed in an upright position. The rebound was sufficient to hurl him twenty feet into the air again.

Walker was quickly rescued by his companions and rushed to the Receiving Hospital. It was feared he had been injured internally. The surgeons found only a slightly sprained foot, upon which the most of the man's weight fell when he struck the net the first time.

MINERAL SUITS SOON.

The taking of testimony in the suits already instituted by the government against the Southern Pacific to vacate patents to lands in Kern county alleged to be mineral in character, will be begun in the United States Circuit Court, April 16. The defendant corporation will be represented by Charles L. Lewers of San Francisco, and Willis N. Mills, Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, who filed the cases in December, 1910, will appear for the government.

JURY SERVICE BY MAIL.

United States Marshal Youngworth received orders yesterday from the Attorney-General doing away with the necessity of making personal service upon Federal veniremen. To jurors living outside the city a copy of the venire will be sent by registered letter and its receipt will be legal service. In Fresno the new rule will do away with a great deal of labor in connection with summoning jurors, as more than half of those summoned live outside of Fresno and long trips are sometimes necessary to secure personal service.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"EVIDENCE SLIM;" CASES DROPPED.

CITY PROSECUTOR TO LET ALLEGED GAMBLERS GO.

States He Is Unwilling to Subject "Prominent Citizen," Caught in Suspected Place, to Publicity of Court Proceedings When "Conviction Is Impossible."

The City Prosecutor does not intend to press the cases against G. A. Boren, W. H. McCarthy, P. Brennan and Al Zeigler, the quartette of alleged gamblers whose establishments at Nos. 224 and 426 South Spring street were raided by members of the Metropolitan Squad the latter part of last October. The complaints were sworn to by Mrs. Lottie M. Talley of Covina, who makes the assertion that in those places her husband lost about $40,000.

The cases against the four will not be pressed because the evidence against the men is now considered "very slim," because only two of the dozen or so witnesses can be located and for the further reason that the City Prosecutor says he "can see no good reason for bringing one of these witnesses, a very prominent citizen, into court and exposing him to unnecessary publicity and notoriety, when there would be nothing gained because conviction is impossible."

The case against Boren and McCarthy will be called in Police Judge Rose's court at 10 o'clock this morning. The men have demanded a jury trial. A venire of fifty will report to the court this morning. When the case is called the prosecution will ask that the charges be dismissed and that the defendants be released from further attendance upon the court.

The case against Zeigler is on Judge Rose's calendar for tomorrow. He operated at No. 426 South Spring street. His case will not be prosecuted, either. On Friday the Brennan case is down for jury trial. A motion to dismiss will also be made in it when called.

Boren and McCarthy operated their alleged gambling rooms under the name of the El Dorado Club, in the Germain building. After a time complaints were filed with the authorities against Brennan and Zeigler. Among the complainants was Mrs. Talley, who said her husband had lost a fortune in those and other places. A watch was kept on the places for a while and the raid followed.

These cases have come up for trial upon several occasions, but have always been continued. The following is the list of witnesses:

The Oil Industry.

CALIFORNIA OIL MOVES FORWARD

Some Important Changes of Past Few Weeks.

Increase in Price Gives Impetus to Industry.

Oil News of Interest from Fields of State.

The California oil industry has witnessed some important changes within the past few weeks, and the pessimists are beginning to hunt their holes. Predictions made months ago that better things were already in sight for the oil producers of the State were hooted at in some quarters, and the long, bony finger was pointed toward the 42,000,000 barrels of oil in storage in California as the harbinger of evil things.

This same oil in storage was the means of securing big and continuing contracts from unexpected sources, thus giving a decided impetus to the industry. For months the production has not increased appreciably, but the consumption of California oil is increasing from month to month, the output of the wells is moving toward the seawater through the nine lines, the refineries are busy turning out the finished products, and the price of crude oil at the wells has gone up.

The great coal strikes in England and Germany and the threatened strike in this country have served to call attention as nothing else could to the absolute necessity of having a fuel other than coal, especially for the use on ships of the sea. Only recently an English expert, in a lengthy article published in a London paper, pointed out the advantages of using oil as a fuel, drawing his inspiration from the present industrial conditions existing in England. The use of crude oil is fast becoming more general throughout the world, and in the United States, even in the mountainous region between the Cascades and the Rockies, the railroads are discussing their locomotives to burn oil.

At the same time the old oil fields in the eastern portion of the United States are falling from grace, and California and the Tampico region of Mexico are the great oil-producing regions of the Western Hemisphere. These conditions, pointing toward a common center, have served to turn the pendulum the other way, and from now on the California producers of crude oil will garner the profits of better prices.

Attention has already been called in this column to the recent advance in the price of California oil, announced by the Standard Oil Company, following upon the heels of the move made to the Independent Oil producers' Agency by the Union Oil Company of 35 cents a barrel for the 30,000,000 barrels of oil held in storage by the members of the organization. The Standard and the Union dominate the local oil market, and all the purchasers of crude oil must get their supply from their wells.

The action of these two marketing agencies in advancing the price of their product to the extent of $2,000,000 has been added to the value of the oil above ground in California in the past two weeks, and there is no good reason why the price should linger long at the present minimum. Added to the conditions set forth above, the building of the great pipe lines now in contemplation will further broaden the market for oil and the other product of the wells—natural gas.

The bringing of oil and gas to Los Angeles by the cheapest means of transportation known should have a direct effect upon the industries of this city, and further, the movement of the coming more manufacturing enterprises for Southern California. Cheap power in the battle cry of factory enterprise, and the recent pipe-line awakening will find Los Angeles waiting with outstretched hands.

Listing of Securities.

The imminence of the listing of the securities of the Mexican Petroleum Company, including stocks and bonds on the New York Stock Exchange, is a matter of interest to the stockholders in this State. All the conditions have been complied with, and the matter is now in the hands of the Listing Committee of the exchange.

Columbus Midway Well.

The information comes from Fellows to the effect that the Columbus Midway Oil Company, operating on Section 33, 31-22, Midway field, had completed the other day and the oil flowed over the top of the derrick. The gas pressure was very strong, and the workmen were endeavoring to strangulate the 4½-inch casing. Superintendent W. H. Van Ochsner is in charge of the work on the well.

Meeting Is Continued.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Buick Oil Company, which was to be held Monday morning, was concluded yesterday afternoon. Aside from declaring a second dividend of over $127,000 to the stockholders did little of interest to the public. Benjamin F. Buick of Chicago, one of the big stockholders, will remain in Southern California several days. He is interested in Mexican oil propositions as well as those from his California investments.

Barber Slashes Porter With Razor, Leaving His Trademark in Man's Face—Police Judge a Witness.

William Owens, a barber, is in jail awaiting arraignment on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder, preferred by William D. Perry is at his home, 1764 Ceres avenue, with slashes across his back a foot long. He is not dangerously wounded.

The cutting occurred yesterday at the Colorado Barber Shop No. 2, at 315 West Fifth street, where both men were employed.

Perry was one of the porters. Judge Chesebro of the San Pedro Police Court, who witnessed the cutting, notified the Central Police Station that he would be there to sign the complaint.

Perry and Owens engaged in a fist fight and the former went to his room to change his shirt. On his return to the shop while passing Owens's chair, Owens slashed him twice down the face with a razor. One cut is more than a foot long and the other about six inches. The porter was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Arizona.

RADICALS WIN; BREACH OCCURS.

Hostility Exists in Ranks of Arizona Democrats.

Gov. Hunt Appoints a Large Number of Officers.

Protest Filed Against Proposed Telegraph Raise.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 18.—The first State Legislature of Arizona convened at noon today and organized promptly without contest, by the election of M. G. Cunliff of Prescott, to be President of the Senate and of Sam Bradner of Benson to be Speaker of the House. There had been a spirited contest for the latter position, but the more radical element, supported by Gov. Hunt, won out at an informal caucus Sunday afternoon. So all seemed serene on the surface, though bitter antagonism exists between the two wings of the Democratic majority. The galleries of both houses were crowded all day, the crowd remaining till the close of the reading of Gov. Hunt's lengthy message, late in the afternoon. The session must be a lengthy one, as the constitutional convention placed upon the first Legislature the enactment in laws of scores of phases of so-called progressive legislation.

GOVERNOR'S APPOINTMENTS.

Gov. Hunt has appointed most of the new State officials, whose tenure is held from the executive office. Upon the board of regents of the University of Arizona have been appointed Albert L. Waters of Tucson, to be chancellor; Frank H. Hereford of Tucson, the Rev. Logan Wheatley of Tucson, and Dr. L. D. Ricketts of Globe. On the Board of Education at the National School at Tempe, will be Dr. B. B. Moeur of Tempe and C. F. Leonard of Phoenix, a third member, ex-officio, being State Superintendent of Schools Case. Something of an exception was announced in the reappointment of H. E. Campbell of Flagstaff upon the State Fair Commission, with him being named, J. J. Keegan of Globe and J. R. Henderson of Bisbee. The explanation of Mr. Campbell's appointment lies in the fact that he is rated as a Democrat. John Hennessy of Flagstaff also has been reappointed to membership on the State Sheep Sanitary Board, the other members to be William Morgan of Navajo county and Fred T. Coalter of Apache county.

INCREASE OPPOSED.

The new Corporation Commission has completed organization by the election of W. P. Geary as chairman and A. W. Cole as secretary. The first work of the commission will be upon a protest filed by the Democrat and Gazette, the two afternoon papers of Phoenix, against a tariff raise made by the Western Union Telegraph Company of about 100 per cent. for press service. It is claimed that the Western Union has not filed the new tariff with the Interstate Commerce Commission as demanded by law. There is some doubt concerning the powers of the commission and its members are busy in preparing bills to be put before the Legislature defining the commission's status and giving it authority for the enforcement of its decrees.

In Phoenix is being held a session of the Arizona Mining Code Commission, consisting of Will L. Clark of Jerome, Thomas Armstrong, Jr., of Phoenix, P. J. Hipple of Globe, W. F. Staunton of Tombstone, and Charles Kimball of Crown King. Within a few days, the report of the commission will be presented to Gov. Hunt in the shape of a bill which will be placed before the Legislature.

An immense amount of trouble and expense has been caused by the necessary change of all legal blanks within Arizona, most of the old stock becoming valueless under Statehood.

PLANTING OLIVE TREES.

Gov. Hunt has concluded that the penitentiary grounds at Florence are eminently well suited for the growth of olives and an order has been sent to a California nursery for 100 trees to be shipped at once. It is believed that the making of olive oil will be an industry at which the prisoners could be given employment profitable to the State.

The labor organizations of Arizona are forming a compact central body, claimed to represent about 11,000 men, the greater number employed as miners. At a late meeting of the Phoenix trades council, there was discussion of a project for building a labor temple in this city, as headquarters for the central organization.

Postal robbers have been active in Arizona, mail depredations having been reported from Navajo, Miami and Clifton. At Clifton a pouch containing valuable registered matter was stolen in transit. At Miami the postoffice was broken into and some registered and ordinary mail carried off. An attempt to break open the safe failed and the loss is not material.

BANKER IS SENTENCED.

Frank S. Westfall, former president of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Phoenix has been sentenced in Oklahoma to one year's imprisonment and to a fine of $100 for making false statements to the Oklahoma banking department concerning the condition of the Creek Bank and Trust Company of Sapulpa, Okla. Judgments have also been granted against Westfall and his brother on notes which were taken up by the State of Oklahoma under its peculiar banking laws.

At Superior, E. J. Hinkley was killed last Sunday in a drift of the Magma mine, crushed under a falling slab of ore.

Late measurement has disclosed the fact that Phoenix has fifty-three miles of cement sidewalks, while building is progressing at the rate of more than one completed structure a day.

The Phoenix Lodge of Elks is preparing to erect a new lodge building, at a cost of at least $100,000. The lodge now owns the Elks' theater, with which lodge rooms and clubrooms are combined, but the quarters afforded are insufficient.

The Phoenix National Bank has just been granted a new charter, after twenty years of prosperous existence. The bank now has deposits of $1,800,000.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be give, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Distress" writes: "My hair is so oily and straggling I wish you could tell me something to make it soft, and fluffy. It makes me positively homely. I also have a great deal of dandruff."

Answer: Many women would be more beautiful if they had soft, fluffy hair. I can tell you a very simple remedy, one that will make your hair soft and fluffy. It will cure dandruff, itching scalp and lustreless and falling hair. Ask your druggist for a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow mirnyol and use according to directions, and you will be surprised to note the difference in your hair.

"Fred W." writes: "I suffer with headache, indigestion, nervous debility and am also thin almost to the danger point. What can be done for me?"

Answer: You can very readily overcome these difficulties by using three-grain hyponuclane tablets. They are put up in sealed cartons with full directions. These are highly recommended by physicians and if used according to directions you will soon be rid of headache, your indigestion will be gone and you will gain from 10 to 30 pounds. These tablets should be taken regularly for several months, and you can depend on gaining flesh.

"Lee" writes: "I have tried so many remedies for rheumatism that I am almost afraid to try any more, but if you can tell me a sure cure I will, try it."

Answer: Do not be disheartened because you have not been able to find something that would cure your rheumatism for you can be cured if you will take what I tell you. Get from the drug store: Iodide of potassium, 2 drams; sodium salicylate 4 drams; wine of colchicum, one-half oz.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz.; and syrup sarsaparilla, 5 ozs. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

"Fern" writes: "I have suffered with a bad cough for some time and I am also weak and tired most of the time, which I think is due to the severe coughing. Can you give me a remedy?"

Answer: Yes, your weakness is due to the coughing, but you can be cured by using the following: Get a 2½ oz. package of essence metho-laxene and make according to directions on the bottle, then take a teaspoonful every hour or two until the cough is cured. This makes a full pint of the very best and safest cough syrup. If your druggist does not have metho-laxene have him order it for you of the wholesale firms.

Doctor: "What can I take for a bad case of indigestion. I have suffered with it for many years and nothing I take helps at all. I am also bothered with constipation."

Answer: You should not neglect indigestion and constipation as it leads to more serious trouble, very frequently appendicitis is caused by this neglect. Begin at once and take tablets triopeptine. These are packed in sealed cartons with full directions for taking.

"Laura S." writes: "I am so tired and nervous all the time that I can scarcely drag one foot after the other. It is very hard for me as I have to work. My appetite is also very poor."

Answer: What you need is a good tonic restorative treatment. Take the tonic prescribed below and you will soon be strong and healthy and will not have that tired feeling. Your work will become a pleasure to you. Syrup of hypophosphites comp. 8 ozs., tincture cadomene, 1 oz., mix, and take a teaspoonful before each meal. This should be continued for several weeks until you feel perfectly strong.

"Martha" writes: "If you know of a safe, harmless but effective remedy for reducing weight, please advise."

Answer: Purchase these two ingredients at the drug store and take a teaspoonful after each meal for three days, then double the dose, continuing for several weeks or as long as necessary: Aromatic elixir, 5 ozs.; glycol arbolene, 1 oz. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and always shake before using. It is well to purchase these separately to avoid substitution.

"Anna R." writes: "I have taken medicine from several doctors for liver and kidney trouble and constipation, but it does not seem to help me at all. My skin is sallow I have constant headache, and dizzy spells. What shall I do?"

Answer: The best remedy that I know for your trouble is three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets.) These are packed in sealed tubes with full directions. Most of the remedies only relieve but if you take the sulpherb tablets regularly for a few weeks you will be cured. This will purify the bood and your skin will lose that salow look.

"Busy Mother"—Bedwetting can be easily cured in children by giving them the following: Tincture cubebs 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic drams and comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz. Give from 10 to 15 drops in water an hour before each meal.

Doctor: "I have a very bad case of catarrh of the head and my stomach, bowels and blood are affected. I suffer greatly and would like a cure."

A. G.:—Local treatment should be used as follows: Get 2 ozs. of antiseptic Vilane powder. Use a half teaspoonful to a pint of warm water; snuff the water from the palm of the hand through the nostrils two or three times a day. Then make a catarrh balm by mixing a level teaspoonful of Vilane powder with one ounce of vaseline or lard and apply to the nostrils as far up as possible. Also take a teaspoonful four times daily of the following: Syrup sarsaparilla comp. 4 ozs.; comp. fluid balmwort 1 oz.; fluid ext. buchu 1 oz. Mix and shake well.

CARPINTERIA.

CARPINTERIA, March 18.—At the bond election yesterday, held in the Aliso, Carpinteria and Rincon school districts, it was decided to purchase a site and erect a new union grammar school building at Carpinteria. The three districts are united in the new district. The vote was light because no opposition had developed. Out of the hundred ballots cast in the three districts, only two were against the bonds. The site comprises an entire city block and is one of the best in the city. The new building will cost upwards of $25,000. The trustees have adopted the plans presented by J. C. Pool of Santa Barbara, who recently won wide fame by solving the seemingly impossible acoustic problem in the Christian Science Temple at Los Angeles. Work will begin as soon as the Supervisors formally and officially establish the District by the required ordinance.

EXTREMELY SO.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York says that militant suffragists of America will use shotguns instead of bricks if it ever becomes necessary for them to resort to sterner methods than political log rolling. This sounds sadly like practical politics.

MORE BUNGALOWS.

Another Los Angeles firm has issued a bungalow book. The California bungalow book sells all over the world and the bungalow is becoming popular in many cities, but Los Angeles continues to do three-fourths of the bungalow building which is done in the United States.

THE MAINE.

Six hundred fathoms of the sea now roll over the shattered Maine, but her flag in spirit flies above Cuba brought to liberty, mantles Porto Rico in its silken folds and weaves for the Philippines eagles of mercy and brassards of might. The heart of the world is warmer because the Maine went down.

A MOUNTEBANK.

Testimony in the trial of E. G. Lewis, who organized some sort of institution for the separation of women from their earnings, shows that the alleged St. Louis faker had a novel method of book-keeping. If the probe goes deep enough an entire collection of novel methods in the Lewis scheme of high finance is likely to be exposed.

UNNECESSARY EXPENSE.

A large expense is about to be incurred in an effort to bring elk from the Jackson Hole country of Wyoming to restock California. As far as Los Angeles is concerned this is certainly entirely unnecessary. Southern California overflows with elk. Every other man one meets in the streets is wearing antlers.

WHAT HE NEEDS.

What man wants and what a man needs are not always one and the same thing. A local man says that he wants to marry an heiress so that he can live a life of ease. Unless a friendly workhouse would adopt him, or he could be induced to ornament the city's chain gang, he would be an excellent subject for the shanghai agent of some seagoing vessel.

AN AWKWARD TRICK.

By always being careful to cross his knees the moment he takes a seat in a street car, a man will thrust one foot at an angle which is certain to trip everybody who attempts to pass him. This is especially pleasant to women passengers, particularly if they have an armful of bundles, or if the projected boot is thoroughly muddy.

EASY BUT UNWISE.

A Portland woman easily recovered a valuable collection of jewelry by treating with the thief on a compromise basis. This was doubtless the line of least resistance, but compromises of this kind are entirely unfair to society. Individuals are often called upon to do the hard thing and to make the great sacrifice for the protection of public safety and the support of the common law.

THE PITY OF IT.

While dying at San Bernardino one party to a fight pleaded for mercy for the man who had stabbed him. "Neither of us," he whispered, "is much good anyway." The law neither hates nor punishes the sinner, but seeks to eradicate the sin. Crime in high or in low places is the enemy from which the law seeks to protect humanity at large. The courts deal with principles rather than with persons and the prayer of this humble victim of folly cannot be answered by granting freedom to the slayer.

BEATING THE GAME.

An expedition is being organized from San Bernardino to seek treasure on San Clemente Island. A previous effort in this direction resulted in the death of one of the seekers. There is something prodigal in the make-up of humanity. A man will buy a five-cent pair of shoe-strings which are too short for him to save five cents on comfortable laces, and will bet $50 that same day on a horse race. He will walk ten blocks to save car fare and spend $2 at the first bar for a round of drinks for his friends. He will turn down a proposition to buy lots in a good townsite where his money cannot be lost and will spend twice the sum in search of a lost treasure which cannot be found.

SHOOTING FIRST.

Good and wise men are often divided in judgment between the doctrine of non-resistance and that of self-protection. Everything, from wars between nations to capital punishment for murderers, seems to fall between these two attitudes. The only difference between the two lines of possible conduct is that the doctrine of non-resistance has never been tried and, in our opinion, it never will be until the whole race approaches it through individual freedom from selfish and base motives. The officers at Hillsville left their rifles at home and were murdered by the Allen family in the courtroom. A Long Beach mounted policeman did not instantly fire upon the burglar he found in his home and the burglar shot and killed him. It is a tragic waste to submit to criminal imposition. The life of the criminal is worth nothing to society. The man whose life the criminal takes is the backbone of society. There are no methods of compromise in facing fiends gone mad.

TAWNEY ON ROOSEVELT.

Congressman Tawney of Minnesota, who was chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations during President Roosevelt's second term, and who was in close touch with T. R. and knows the ins and outs of him as well as any man in the country, stated, in an interview with a representative of the Winona Republican-Herald, that the ex-President believed in, and, so far as possible, practiced "government by executive choice" instead of a government of law. Whenever the law did not suit the ex-President and he could not obtain its repeal he evaded and disobeyed and defied it.

Congressman Tawney, as chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, initiated and put through a law intended to prevent illegal diversion of the public funds by executive order. This aroused the ire of Col. Roosevelt against Tawney. He went into Tawney's district during the last campaign and made speeches against him. He denounced the Congressman's law to prevent executive diversion of public moneys, and denounced the man who framed the law. "Had I been President at that time," said Roosevelt, "I would not have obeyed the law."

Mr. Tawney in the interview explained what he meant by "government by executive choice."

"Perhaps," said Mr. Tawney, "I can make my meaning clearer by citing a few instances of government by executive choice that occurred during Mr. Roosevelt's second term. When the great union station was built in Washington and the Pennsylvania railroad station, which cost a quarter of a million dollars, became the property of the government, Congress authorized its use by the War Department, with the idea of saving thousands of dollars a year previously paid for rented quarters. But before the department could get possession, President Roosevelt, for some reason or other, decided not to obey the law. He gave written directions to the army engineer in charge of buildings and grounds in Washington that the big station be wrecked and the material removed. This was done. The government received $1000 for the $250,000 building. That is a sample of government by executive choice.

"Here is another instance. Congress authorized the construction of a new building to house the Department of Agriculture. The law specifically directed the construction of a single building on a certain site within a fixed limit of cost. The President, however, changed the location of the structure by executive order and, ignoring the law in every particular, directed the erection of two wings of a building which has not been completed to this day. These wings now stand on the mall in the national capital as an unsightly monument to government by executive choice.

"Or again, when President Roosevelt concluded that the orthography of Noah Webster was no longer suited for use in official correspondence or public documents, he issued his well-known 'simplified spelling' order, which remained in force only until his term expired.

"Or, when he concluded that the inscription 'In God We Trust' on the coin of the realm was out of date, he directed its removal, and Congress, taken unawares, was forced to enact special legislation for its restoration.

"Again, when Congress refused to authorize the appointment of commissions for all sorts of purposes on President Roosevelt's recommendation, he created them anyhow, without authority of law. Not being able to obtain appropriations for their maintentance, he, by executive order, deliberately diverted appropriations previously made by Congress. To do this he detailed a large number of department employees to these commissions and paid them from the department funds in defiance of the law and the will of Congress. And when Congress enacted legislation specifically making illegal such diversion of appropriations and prohibiting government auditors from approving payments of this sort, Mr. Roosevelt, in the presence of 10,000 people in St. Paul, in September, 1910, not only criticised the provision of the law and the man who drew it, but made the emphatic declaration that 'had I continued as President of the United States I would not have obeyed the law.'

"These instances are but a few of the many of precisely the same sort that could be cited. They illustrate what I mean when I say that the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt for a third term and the candidacy of Mr. Taft for the second term afford to the Republicans of this country an opportunity to choose between a government by executive choice and government by law."

These instances of the disposition of Roosevelt to usurp powers with which the Constitution does not clothe him nor the statutes invest him, coupled with his intense egotism, make him unfit for the Presidential office. The campaign he is pursuing against President Taft is a campaign of an agitator against a statesman, of a wrecker against an officer of the life-savings service, of a hot-headed man who is crazed with ambition and inebriated with an exalted opinion of himself, against a clear-headed sane patriotic lawyer who obeys the laws and forces other people to obey them. California Republicans—insurgents or otherwise—will make a mistake if they suffer a Roosevelt delegation to go to Chicago.

NOT HOGS, BUT AN INCINERATOR.

Under no circumstances, whether of profit or convenience, will our clean-minded and clean-feeding citizens consent to stand for the dangerous and dirty practice of fattening hogs for human consumption with garbage and refuse. The conditions revealed in the swine farm at Covina are a disgrace to those responsible for supplying the filth, as well as to the owners of the scrofulous hogs, whose unwholesome flesh is converted into human food.

The business is a menace to every man, woman and child in Southern California. Whoever cooks a rasher of bacon for breakfast or devours a ham sandwich for a quick lunch may be inoculating himself with deadly germs. For these disease-fed hogs on the Covina farm are raised and fattened for home consumption. The law wouldn't allow such stuff to be packed or shipped into any eastern city. Yet the danger from canned meat or vegetables is never so serious as that from fresh (?) trichina-infested pork.

As might be expected, when animals are fed on garbage the stench from which can poison the atmosphere for miles around, tuberculosis has been found to be very prevalent in this unideal Covina farm.

Burn HIM Up!

Many of the animals are covered with sores and scabs. Seeing that these unfortunate creatures probably suffer under such conditions as severely as do horses and dogs and cattle, humanity toward the hogs as well as the safeguarding of the public health cries out against so horrible a state of things. The noxious odors from this plague spot spread from Covina to El Monte and taint one of the fairest spots on God's green earth.

The necessity for health and cleanliness is sufficient in itself to condemn the use of garbage to form food stuffs intended for human beings. In addition to this these hogs fed on our city refuse are inflicting an injury on our farmers. Such cheap and nasty feeding makes it impossible for those who are raising clean corn, grain and grass fed pigs to sell at a fair product their sweet and wholesome stock. The local market is demoralized. A ruinous cut-throat competition ensues in favor of swill. Naturally a hog fattened on cheap refuse can undersell one raised on proper and more expensive diet. Unfortunately the consumer cannot detect at a glance the difference between the good and bad fed pork, while the butcher naturally buys in the cheapest market. The consumer has to wait till some inexplicable malady seizes him, or till his wife or children begin to sicken, to discover the difference.

So while he unconsciously buys the unhealthy product, our honest and industrious farmers are threatened with a loss, and receive undeserved discouragement in their efforts to supply the meat market with the genuine article.

The garbage-fed hog farm near Covina cannot be done away with any too quickly, even if its teeming inhabitants have to be slaughtered and dumped far out in the Pacific Ocean. An incinerator, not the hog's stomach, is the proper receptacle for offensive city garbage. It should be destroyed, not perpetuated. It should be consumed by fire, not as pork or bacon on the dining-room table. This business of turning it into meat is bad for the general health, demoralizing to those who tend the sick hogs, unfair to honest farming and cruel to the animals themselves.

This garbage question has vexed Los Angeles quite long enough. Let some one with executive ability take hold of it and settle it for good and all along hygienic lines. Let us have a whopping big incinerator to make a fit end of this burning question.

THE BRITISH CONSTITUTION.

"The waddly bird sat on the jingo tree
And this was his song—ah me! ah me!
Ah me, ah me, it's too absurd,
But there's no such thing as the waddly bird.
It's too absurd, ah me, ah me!
But there's no such thing as the jingo tree."

English literature, historical and otherwise, is filled with references to the British Constitution. Yet the fact is that Great Britain never had a constitution in the sense that Americans understand that term. The British Constitution—so-called—consists of maxims which have no binding force except upon the conscience of the legislator. "Every man's house is his castle." "The right of trial by jury." "The writ of habeas corpus." "No barbarous or unusual punishments." "Excessive bail not to be required." "No taxes without consent of Parliament." "Freedom of election." "No confiscation of estates before conviction." "No seizure of private property for public uses." "The right of subjects to petition." "The right of the Legislature to freedom of debate." All these principles have existed, not in written organic law, but in acts of Parliament and in the thoughts and actions and customs of the English people ever since the Great Charter was won from King John by the united exertions of Saxon and Norman barons. Macaulay says that the history of the English nation commenced with Magna Charta. He says: "Then first appeared with distinctness that Constitution which has ever since, through all changes, preserved its identity; that Constitution of which all the other free constitutions in the world are copies, and which, in despite of some defects, deserves to be regarded as the best under which any great society has ever yet existed during many ages."

The Constitution of England existed then, and has existed ever since, and still exists only in parole. It was never reduced to writing. It was never submitted to popular vote. It was never enacted into organic law by any deliberative body. The nearest approach to such enactment was in 1688, hundreds of years after Magna Charta, when, at the time that William and Mary were invited to accept the throne which the Stuarts had forfeited, a Declaration of Rights was framed and approved by the Commons and assented to by the Lords.

Yet this Declaration of Rights was made only as against the crown. It was inoperative against Parliament. The houses of Parliament could then, and can now, enact statutes abolishing trial by jury, abolishing habeas corpus, permitting barbarous and unusual punishments, requiring excessive bail, establishing unequal taxation, providing for confiscation of estates, doing away with freedom of elections, impairing the obligation of contracts, refusing the right of petition and restricting the freedom of debate. The power of Parliament is imperial, despotic and unrestricted. No court in the kingdom can question its acts or declare them void because violative of the unwritten Constitution of Great Britain. The King has a theoretical power of veto in some cases, but it is a power that has not been exercised by any sovereign for hundreds of years, and an attempt to exercise it would probably shake the throne to its foundation.

The British Constitution—so-called—affords to British subjects no protection to life or property against any law that Parliament may choose to pass. Parliament may enact a law attainting subjects who are obnoxious to it, confiscating their property and ordering them to be executed without trial. It has the power in the present exigency to "commandeer" the railroads and coal mines, and seize the factories and furnaces of England without compensating their owners. It may double the salary of officials or reduce them to a starvation basis. It could declare the throne vacant, strip King George of his crown and turn his palace into a hotel.

Of course it never would do any of these things. The British Parliament is one of the most upright, free, patriotic and just legislative bodies in all the world. But a legislature must be judged, even as a law is judged, not by what has been done but by what might be done by it or under it.

Our fathers adopted a Federal Constitution and they and their descendants framed written State constitutions, in which the principles of the so-called British Constitution are adopted, and neither Congress nor State legislatures can enact laws in violation of those principles without such laws being promptly overturned by the courts.

Our written constitutions protect a minority against the wrongful acts of a majority which might chance to gain possession of a legislature.

And now come Roosevelt, and Gompers, and Tveitmoe, and Johnson, and Pinchot, and Heney, and say, "Away with the work of the fathers. Away with the rule of courts. Let the minority of the people enjoy the advantages of Rooseveltian theories of government and hold their title to liberty and property subject to no law but the will of the majority secretly expressed at the polls."

UNCLE WALT.

The Post Philosopher.

I would explain, in forceful terms that digging up fat angle-worms is healthful exercise; it makes a lad's lung action right, it bolsters up his appetite, improves his ears and eyes. But pulling weeds or planting peas is hard upon the neck and knees —it's not like digging bait; if they'd enjoy abounding health—which is a better thing than wealth—boys must discriminate. To play a frequent game of ball will make you handsome, strong and tall, a vision for sore eyes; but sawing wood will warp your back and put your inwards out of whack—avoid that exercise. If you'd acquire fine poise and style, each day you ought to swim a mile in some convenient creek, but do not paint the garden fence—such exercise is too intense, and it may make you sick. To walk ten leagues with hound and gun on rabbit's trail is splendid fun, that makes the muscles throb; but splitting kindling is a chore that makes the nervous system sore—let father do that job. In short, my dear, delightful lads, the jobs appointed by your dads are jobs the wise eschew; your dads can labor in the sun while you're enjoying wholesome fun that

MEN AND THINGS ACROSS THE SEA.

The only member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, outside of a few Socialists, who voted against the annexation of Tripoli to the Italian kingdom was the Prince di Teano, and since then there has apparently been no more unpopular man in Italy. Letters and telegrams of vilification arrive in his mail every day. Demonstrations have taken place under his windows, when the mildest epithet hurled at him is "Abbassol la giraffa!" ("Down with the giraffe!") an allusion to his long neck and person. His constituents are wild with anger and are trying to make him resign.

The Prince di Teano has traveled very much in Africa and Asia, has studied deeply the Arab world and the Mahommedan question, and has written several voluminous works on the subject. His knowledge of the Islamic problem has convinced him that it was a mistake that Italy should make war against Turkey for the occupation of Tripoli and the desert around about, and his action was thus in accord with his studies, but it was very much out of accord with the prevailing sentiment in Italy. The Prince is of an illustrious noble family, the history of which goes back before the year 1000, is 43 years of age, and is united through his wife with the princely house of Colonna, the head of which is an hereditary officer at the Vatican.

Liang-Chang, the Americanized Chinese Minister at Berlin, who was graduated from Amherst College thirty years ago when he was the star pitcher on the varsity nine, has given prompt evidence of his recognition of the new state of things in Peking.

He not only appeared last week minus his pigtail but was clad in a European costume instead of the picturesque silk and satin robes he had hitherto worn. Liang-Chang and his staff now wear Prince Albert suits, and appear at the legation and on the street clad like their fellow European and American diplomats.

The growth of electric transportation in Great Britain has excited as much wonder in England as the swift development of the industry in America has done here. A British government report says that the increases in a little over twenty years—two decades practically cover the change from horse to electric locomotion—have been especially significant. The capital expenditure has grown from $20,475,069 to $368,261,881, the number of passengers from 146,000,000 to 2,907,000,000, and the net receipts from $1,221,277 to $25,675,946. Of 1744 miles of line belonging to local authorities, 1530 miles are operated by those authorities themselves, or, in a few cases, by other local authorities.

The much-talked-of Trans-Sahara Railway, preparations for which have been somewhat lagging lately in consequence of the lack of public encouragement, has now merged into a far more promising scheme—that of a trans-African line, traversing the entire continent, from Oran, Algeria, to the Cape.

The length of the permanent way will, when completed, be about 6500 miles, enabling a journey from London to the Transvaal to be made in nine days, and one from Antwerp to the Belgian Congo in five days.

Nearly 2000 miles of railway have already been constructed in the south of the continent and about 375 miles in the Province of Oran, leaving a little over 4000 miles to be laid.

The great obstacle is still recognized to be the crossing of the desert between Algeria and the Soudan, which is about 1250 miles of absolutely barren ground. The suggestion has been made to use the annual inundations of the Niger and Irrigate, by means of dams, the immense tracts of country north of Timbuctoo. If this be feasible, it is said that all serious difficulties will disappear.

Meanwhile steps toward the realization of this trans-African railway are to be taken at once by an exhaustive survey of the desert zone through which the line would run. When this work is accomplished, a feature which presents considerable difficulty will have vanished, and it is felt that the problem will take a more tangible form.

For the purposes of the survey a large scale map is now being drawn up at the expense of the French government.

ROOSEVELT'S CHANCES.

[The Argonaut:] Mr. Roosevelt's chances of success would appear to stand upon a better foundation if we had not before us the concrete results of his political efforts in the campaign of 1910, immediately following his return from Africa. In his own State of New York, it will be remembered, he espoused the cause of Mr. Stimson, candidate for Governor, and put into the campaign the full measure of his energy and influence. Mr. Stimson was beaten by a Democratic candidate who in addition to other handicaps had to bear the weight of a quasi-affiliation with Tammany Hall. In Massachusetts, a State normally Republican, Mr. Roosevelt appeared in opposition to Foss, candidate for Governor, and in support of Lodge, candidate for re-election as United States Senator. Foss was elected. Lodge barely scratched in, after coming nearer to defeat than any New England Senator of established position in half a century. In Connecticut, a Republican State, Mr. Roosevelt made a single speech directed wholly to to the purpose of defeating Baldwin, the Democratic candidate for Governor. Mr. Baldwin was elected. In Ohio, a Republican State, Mr. Roosevelt spoke in behalf of Gov. Herrick, candidate for re-election. He went so far as to attack personally and vindictively the Democratic candidate, Judge Harmon. Harmon was elected by a heavy majority. In Indiana Mr. Roosevelt made special efforts for his friend Beveridge, candidate for re-election to the Senate. The Democrats elected the Legislature, thus putting a quietus upon Mr. Beveridge's hopes. Mr. Roosevelt even went out to Iowa to make a speech for his friend, Congressman Grilke, in the Second District. Mr. Grilke was defeated, while all other Republican candidates for Congress were elected.

This record is hardly calculated to inspire faith in Mr. Roosevelt's powers with the country. Political authority he had undoubtedly in the period of his Presidency. It was manifested in a thousand ways—some of them not the nicest of ways. But Mr. Roosevelt out of office has never been a potent figure in politics, not even in his own State. And it is to be remembered that when Governor of New York he did not find the hardihood to match lances with Mr. Platt, and it is further to be remembered that he only accepted the nomination for Vice-President in 1900 when it had become evident that his re-election to the Governorship of New York was an impossibility.

"LANDSLIDE" SEEN AGAIN.

BELASCO COMPANY DOING THE ADAMS PIECE.

Barriscale, Melville and Ober Win Principal Honors in Comedy of Propaganda — Other Theatrical News—Critical Mention of Vaudeville Programmes.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

"The Landslide," Austen Adams's comedy of socialistic consideration, which was recently presented at the Auditorium, is being given by the Belasco Theater Company again this week.

The story of the play, the fortunes of the characters and the philosophy of the whole have been previously considered.

The honors of the present production are borne by Bessie Barriscale, as Miriam Polowska; Emilie Melville as Cynthia Brevoort, and Robert Ober as Burden Pell.

As the propagandist Polowska Barriscale is indeed delightful and sincere, even though one can't agree with all her isms. She puts over a convincing touch of sincerity in the part. Miss Melville plays the lady of aristocratic mien, and makes a distinct success with the part. Mr. Ober as the gentlemanly Pell delivers a large-sized section of convincing character. Mr. Gibson seems ill at ease in the role of Nicholas Broome, and—probably unconsciously—commits offenses which would scarcely be charged to a person of his intelligence and knowledge. Broome would scarcely converse with a cigar in his mouth. The people would prefer absolute abstinence to the privilege of full American citizenship. Besides, there seems little prospect of citizenship.

The Southern people are justified in being hurt over the act of a St. Louis firm in placing the picture of Gen. R. E. Lee as a label on a bottle of whisky. Gen. Lee was not only a total abstainer, an advocate of total abstinence, but a Stonewall Jackson induced President Davis to prohibit the sale of liquor in the federate army and throughout the Confederacy.

Bernhardt in "Camille," and Rejane in "Mme. Sans Gene" will appear at the Hamburger Majestic Theater next week.

But both these great stars will be seen. They appear in films. Bernhardt was paid $20,000 for a single day's appearances before the moving shutter.

Speaking of the Rodeo—Deane Dickason has a little Rodeo all his own on the Empress stage this week that is causing just as much fun as the real thing.

This is in Cliff Berzac's comedy circus and the particular bucking individual is "Maud" the mule, who might have been named "Nitroglycerin," for it would have been much more appropriate.

With "Maud" and several young men who attempt to ride her bareback, including two colored gentlemen who are on the payroll and who deserve to be, "Maud" is the star feature of this week's fine bill. The act also shows some unusually clever and beautiful ponies.

Another big fun hit of the new bill is the friend Harry Van Fossen, a German comedian who calls himself a Dutch comedian who calls himself a Hebrew comedian, but who never for a moment resorts to the ofttimes suggestive stories or time-worn methods of most exponents of minstrelsy. Van Fossen's stories are funny, and moreover are entirely new. He is also a dancer of no mean merit, and his methods are worth seeing.

Another unlooked-for hit on the bill is Bert Donnelly, who, as a shadow-dancer, is a genuine artist, and provides a most amusing fifteen minutes with simply his hands and the spotlight.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

It is seldom that a baseball player who has won fame upon the diamond ever gets over on the stage, but Sullivan and Considine have found four baseball players, who, while not particularly famous on the diamond, have nevertheless provided a very clever act for their entrance into vaudeville. They all have fine singing voices, making an excellent quartette, they have much bright dialogue, clubhouse slang and funny stories, while their baseball game at the finish of the act is original and most amusing.

The Princess Luba Miroff is a versatile and beautiful young woman who one minute sings ragtime in a fascinating manner, the next minute hands you a bunch of Venetian melodies and then goes into a cleverly executed and beautifully costumed Russian dance.

Kitty Ross, the "girl from Alabama," displays some brilliant costumes and sings some delightful southern dialect songs.

The new bill is completed with some uncommonly amusing motion pictures.

Our rotund friend, Fred Wyckoff, returns to his own this week at Pantages. It is less than six months since Wyckoff gave his jovial impersonation of the "Mayor of Tanktown" here, and the return engagement finds him even a stronger favorite than his last appearance. Very few vaudeville performers get sufficiently familiar or famous to entitle them to the initiatory round of applause. Wyckoff is one of the exceptional few. He has much new material in his "Tanktown" monologues, and the new stuff is just as good as the old.

Two acrobatic numbers are contestants for first honors. The Three Emersons appear in bathing costumes, their act being scheduled as "Fun in a Swimming Pool." The pool is painted on the back drop. The act is distinguished by features exclusively its own. One of the Emersons makes a flying leap from a spring board, a half somersault and comes to a head balance on the cranium of another member of the team. Much of their best work is impossible of adequate description in the limited space of a newspaper review. The Five Merkels are also unusually good. The two women in the act and the comedian attract particular attention.

From the standpoint of dramatic art the best thing on the programme is the lunatic impersonation of McGrath, the male member of the team of McGrath and Yeoman. McGrath fulfills all the specifications of real life insanity. Miss Yeoman sings acceptably, but not wonderfully.

Tom Kyle and Company have a comedy based on the susceptibilities of women to sea-sickness, the weakness of sea faring men for widows, and the natural or ascribed coquettishness of widows. Their stage setting is novel and their dialogue amusing. Elmore and Raymond have a singing and dancing number in the olio. They are a good-looking and well-intentioned couple.

"A barking dog never bites; but watch out for the sleepy-eyed mongrel."

This adage aptly illustrates the case of Happy Harrison and his mule, Dynamite, appearing this week at the Adolphus Theater.

Dynamite is a little mule, weighing about 400 pounds and of the most quiet and unprepossessing appearance. He always looks as if he wanted sleep. His ears lop over; his head hangs down. But when anyone attempts to mount him, Dynamite becomes a veritable bundle of concentrated energy and force. His name fits him. So much confidence has Happy Harrison that his "meal ticket" cannot be ridden that he has a standing offer of $1 a minute to any man of or under 130 pounds who can ride him. It is, of course, obvious that Happy is playing safe since he would retract his offer were his mule ridable.

At yesterday's performance were two cowboys from the Rodeo. As Happy and his mule appeared, and Happy stated his offer and invited riders, said one of them to the other: "Well, I swan. A dollar a minit to ride that lil' feller! Sa-ay, that's pie for me. Watch me!" He walked up the plank to the stage and, after a few minutes' maneuvering, grabbed Dynamite by the neck and ears. In a trice he was on Dynamite's back. The little mule responded instantly and became a flying nightmare, bucking and tossing and kicking for all he was worth. In fifteen seconds the cowboy connected with the stage floor, and Dynamite brayed derisively.

Was the cowboy discouraged? Not so you'd notice it. "You wait," he said revengefully to Happy. "I am going to bring the bunch here Thursday night and we are going to break you. You'd better draw a bunch of silver dollars from the bank."

"You're on," replied Happy, smiling. "Bring them all on. The more they know about breaking broncos, the easier they are for Dynamite. Aren't they, sweetheart?" he added, patting the mule on the neck. And Dynamite answered by tossing his head high in the air and braying at the discomfitted cowboy.

Plenty of good music and songs, effective stage pictures and funny situations characterize "A Night in Chinatown," musical comedy offering at the Princess Theater this week. The story of the play tells of the adventures of two Irishmen in the Chinese quarter where their wives accidentally find them. The fun that results is infectious. Charles Le Roy and Edmund Flynn shoulder the burden of the mirth-making, aided and abetted by Miss Eleanor Courtan, as a gay young sprout; Miss Elsinore Richmond, as a jealous wife; Oliver Bunday, as a Chinese merchant; and Donald Stewart, as a church deacon whose habit of telling the truth gets others into amusing difficulties.

The musical features are numerous but the best hits of the show are Miss Courtan's "Ching-a-ling," a graceful Chinese specialty including a pretty dance; Miss Anna Cameron's "Heavenly Eyes;" Mr. Le Roy's "Girls, Girls, Girls;" Mr. Bunday's "Since Texas Tommy Shot the Grizzly Bear;" and "Posey," by Miss Richmond.

With the rythm of the oriental dominating in the Salome dance introduced last night as a new specialty by La Bella Guillermo, well-known eastern performer, a popular feature was added to the show. La Bella Guillermo did her dance with a native grace that was charming.

Preparations are being made by the management of the Grand for a gala presentation of "The Girl and the Boy," Saturday afternoon when the fiftieth performance of Walter De Leon's musical comedy will be celebrated. Souvenirs will be given to all the ladies and children in the audience. The souvenirs are in the nature of a surprise, and nobody connected with the theater is allowed to divulge what they will be. Suffice it to say, however, they will be most appropriate.

With but two exceptions there never has been any theatrical attraction played by one company in one theater for fifty times in Los Angeles.

Charlotte Greenwood still remains the fascination at the Orpheum Theater. It isn't mere fun that Miss Greenwood gives us—though she scatters that with lavish hands—and feet, not to mention legs—but a subtle sort of vaudeville presentation of the new art, the bizarre posters of the modern Munich madmen of the brush and the wild painters of Paris, pictures from Jugend and Le Rire.

The graceful ladies in Pouchot's flying ballet might once have been Prosperina's messengers with Ariel, so like pretty floating fairies are they, gliding through space in many intricate measures. One of them even floats over the audience almost to the balcony, as if on wings. And when a flock of white doves is let loose from the gallery, to flutter to the heads and shoulders of the fairy-like girls, the enchantment is complete.

Another fairy appears in "Betty's Bet," an inconsequential but altogether charming one-act comedy by Maud Tarlton Winchester. This is Miss Ida O'Day (oh, you beautiful doll!) stenographer pro tem., in the law office of a certain susceptible Mr. Holmes (cleverly played by Frank Dekum) for falling in love with the big-eyed Betty, pink ribbons, bonbons and all? Well I guess you don't. For no properly-constituted man could possibly have helped it. Miss O'Day is a lovely infantile Betty and John Hines is vastly amusing as Bobby, an office boy. In fact, the pretty playlet is very prettily played.

Of sterner stuff than "Betty's Bet" is Tom Barry's "In Old New York," an episode of the East Side, which is remarkably well staged. It's a concentrated melodrama, zigzagging between direst tragedy and funniest farce, and gives Harry Beresford and Hattie Carmontelle excellent opportunities (which they don't neglect, you may believe) in the character parts of Mr. Copp and Mrs. McGovern—the one a genial old philosopher, the other a cantankerous Irishwoman. John de Weese's Matt Brady, a typical Bowery boy is also well done.

Julius Tannen is billed as a chatterbox—but he's a whole trunk of quips and cranks, a gentlemanly, smiling punster, the joker of the pack. Tannen has a nice smile and a very nice voice. His method is his own, and it "carries" to the topmost row in the gallery of the gods.

With Charlotte Greenwood, the holdovers of the week are Millet's models, Walter Hampden in "Blacknall." Leona Thurber and Harry Madison.

For the first time, the Kinemacolor Theater has found it necessary to run a color film two weeks. So insistent was the demand for the views of Niagara Falls that public opinion had to be considered, and it is running again the current week. And well worth while it is. But in addition, an otherwise completely new bill is shown, including a remarkable series of views of the Nile taken during a Cook's Tour steamer trip. Another travel series shows views of Algeria—like the others, of course, all in color. Both countries are picturesque and quaint, and the colors bring out the native life at its best. A fine film of novelty nature is one showing in color the birth of spring flowers, depicting their opening and brief life. Many of these blossoms are not native here, but all are singularly pretty. A pageantry episode is a novelty, and still another is a film showing poultry feeding, also in color. The bill this week is especially varied and of unusual quality. Mme. Planquette is still the soloist, and the lectures given fully explain each film.

A new seven-act Sullivan & Considine bill opened at the Empress Theater yesterday to the usual three capacity audiences. The new bill is said to be one of the best that the Empress has housed in many weeks, having as its three features, Cliff Berzac's Comedy Circus, The Four Baseball Players in "Twenty Minutes in the Clubhouse," and Harry Van Fossen, the minstrel man.

PYTHIANS TASTE CHICKEN.

Arrowhead Lodge Gives Happy Entertainment With a "Tennessee Rooster Mulligan" as One Feature.

Arrowhead Lodge, No. 298, Knights of Pythias, gave its second big affair since organization, last night at No. 320 South Main street. It was a social night, at which were gathered the Pythians of the city and entertained with a "Tennessee rooster Mulligan with frills." The Mulligan was the feast and the frills consisted of various vaudeville selections and lectures by leading local Knights.

There was a gathering of nearly 500 Knights and friends, many of them members from the East and visiting here.

The programme was opened with a song by the dramatic tenor, S. A. Ingalls, followed with music by Armstrong's orchestra, after which the address of welcome was made by the Chancellor-Commander of Arrowhead Lodge, J. M. Lampert, who gave all a welcome and spoke of the growth of the order throughout the country.

Comedian W. R. Kilgore followed with a song, and he was repeatedly called back by the audience. Following this was an address on Pythianism by Charles D. Whalen, the orator of Arrowhead Lodge.

Then came the vaudeville parts by the Blackburn Musical Comedy Company. Among the numbers of special note was the German comedian, Dick Rowe, who brought down the house.

The Tennessee Mulligan, prepared by an artist in this line, Gordon, was then spread, and a unique and satisfying repast it was. The tables were decorated with rooster heads and feathers, and the taste of chicken was in the Mulligan.

The address of the evening was given by the Chancellor-Commander of Helmet Lodge, No. 25, Stanley B. Wilson. C. H. Hodge entertained with sentimental ballads.

The committee in charge of the evening consisted of C. L. Whitesides, chairman, W. R. Kilgore and F. L. Hart.

Every month this lodge intends to put on an entertainment of some kind for the benefit of members in the city and visiting Knights.

FOUR THOUSAND TO MILLION.

How the Price of a Spring-Street Corner Has Advanced in Thirty Years—Offer Yesterday.

Realty circles were keenly interested yesterday in a rumor to the effect that a local company had purchased the northeast corner of Sixth and Spring streets from the Howe estate for $900,000. This holding one of the most desirably located sites in the downtown district, enjoys the unenviable distinction of being the only great business corner that has never lost its original village atmosphere, its sole improvements on the valuable Spring-street frontage consisting of shacks of a generation ago given over to catch-penny businesses entirely out of keeping with the metropolitan advance all around it.

The rumor resolved itself into the fact that the company had, through Harbert & Butterworth, made the owners of the corner a verbal offer of $900,000. This has not been accepted, according to George Howe, executor of the estate, who stated that the asking price has been and is $1,000,000.

"We have had probably twenty offers for the property in the past twelve months," said Howe, "and several of them have been approximately as high as that received today from the Los Angeles Investment Company. In no instance have these offers been made in writing.

"I am not saying," he continued in answer to a question, "that we wouldn't sell for less than $1,000,000 if the offer should be accompanied by something that looked like real money, nor am I saying that we would consider any alternative proposition at all. The heirs of the estate must settle that question and I am only one of them. We have had offers, not only to buy but to lease the property, at terms ranging from ten years to a century and at rental figures that would stagger theordinary lessee."

"We have made the offer of $900,000 for the property and we mean business," said President Elder, of the investment company last night. "Our offer is none the less sincere because it is not in writing, either. I consider $7500 a foot on Spring street, for that is what it would figure up to, a good price for the holding. If it should be accepted, the company would at once erect on the site a modern steel-frame office block of not less than twelve stories."

The Howe corner has a frontage of 120 feet on Spring by 155 feet on Sixth. The lot was acquired by the family thirty years ago as a home site and the original dwelling still stands on the Spring-street frontage. This price paid was $4000.

The property was offered for sale fifteen years ago at $1000 a front foot, but no buyers appeared, and the price was regarded as preposterous. If the corner is not sold within the next few months, its owners declare they will probably improve it with a one or two-story "tax-payer."

has created such a demand in the short time it has been on sale in this city, that even the druggists are amazed.

This is because it is sold on its merits and it does exactly what is claimed for it.

It breaks up a cold if taken at once. It is an absolute panacea for sick and bilious headaches. It enables you to get rid of the pangs caused by indigestion. It sheds that furred coat on your tongue that is unseasonable and unpleasant symptom of stomach, liver and intestinal disturbances.

It quiets your nerves by enabling you to digest and assimilate your food, by regulating your liver, kidneys and bowels.

Remember, it is not a drastic purgative, but simply a soothing, herbal, tonic regulator.

All you have to do is to try it—at the small price of 25c for a box of 100 pellets. At all drug stores. The slogan is, "Yes, my child, it's good."

SAN DIEGO JUSTICE WANTS PAY FOR THE CEREMONIES.

FIRM in the belief that he is entitled to fees received for performing marriage ceremonies Township Justice Solon Bryan of San Diego, is in Los Angeles to perfect an appeal from the District Court of Appeals to the State Supreme Court. He is accompanied by his counsel, Adam Thompson, and his official stenographer, Norton Langford. The Court of Appeals recently ruled that under the county government act of the Legislature Justice Bryan is on a salary and is required to perform all the functions connected with his office for said salary.

Under the State law he is allowed to charge at least $3 for performing a marriage service. The money he derived from this source he held for himself. District-Attorney H. S. Utley maintained that such receipts should revert to the county. Bryan was mandamused by the County Auditor and at the trial hearing before Judge W. A. Sloane the latter ruled that the justice was entitled to the fees.

The Los Angeles Court of Appeals reversed this decision and issued an order that Justice Bryan pay to the county all moneys received by him through marriage ceremonies from the time he assumed office, January 3, 1911. Justice Bryan had thirty days in which to comply with this order or appeal. He decided on the latter course and came to Los Angeles to confer with the law firm of Hunsaker & Britt to conduct his case before the Supreme Court.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glycerin compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient cure.

McCAREY OFFERS KILBANE $50,000 FOR TWO YEARS' WORK.

Principals Who Figure In Novel Offer.

Uncle Tom McCarey (Above) and Johnny Kilbane, To whom he offers $50,000 for two years' salary.

M'CAREY'S OFFER TO JOHN KILBANE.

"To Jimmy Dunne, No. 2606 Detroit avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

"Offer you $50,000 for exclusive services for J. Kilbane and yourself for the next two years, dating from hour of your acceptance.

"I would require Johnny to box Abe Attell and as many high-class featherweights as I could develop.

"Also to fill all stage engagements made by me and to take the principal part in moving picture plays that I have on hand.

"This is a big gamble for me, but I am willing to take a chance.

"What do you say?

"Tom McCarey."

Gambling Chance.

CHAMP WOULDN'T SELL TWO YEARS OF HIS LIFE.

Johnny Says He Can Make More Money on His Own Hook Than by Being Actor, Picture Star and Kept Fighter for Los Angeles Promoter and Declares McCarey's Offer Has No Inducements for Him.

TOM M'CAREY wired Johnny Kilbane, yesterday, the most extraordinary offer that ever went to a fighter.

For $50,000 cash, Uncle Tom proposed that the featherweight champion become a sort of hired star; to fight whomever the fight promoter named; or to turn moving picture actor or vaudeville headliner at the word of command.

But a paltry $50,000 for two years' work didn't look good to Johnny Kilbane in Cleveland last night; so Uncle Tom McCarey won't have a champion of the world working for him after all.

Up to a late hour last night, McCarey had received no reply but a special dispatch to The Times from Cleveland stated that Kilbane had decided not to accept the offer.

"I figure that I can make more than fifty thousand dollars on my own hook in two years," Kilbane is quoted. "At least I don't want to sign away what will probably be the most profitable two years of my fight career."

Although it didn't look good to Johnny, the offer was one that would make the hair of the most blase plunger stand on end. The risks for Uncle Tom—had the offer been accepted—would have been enormous.

Had Kilbane accepted and continued to play in luck, the profits from virtual peonage might have been whopping when you consider the moving picture dramas in which he was to play the leading part, the vaudeville show he might be called upon to head and the boxing matches he might engage in.

On the other hand, McCarey was taking a long chance.

In a week after contracting to pay the champion $50,000, Kilbane might have been defeated by Attell or some one else; and the $50,000 contract wouldn't have been worth a canceled postage stamp.

Any chance blow in a fight, a slip of the foot or a flash of sunshine in his star's eyes might have brought ruin to the Los Angeles promoter.

Uncle Tom is probably doomed to disappointment in regard to his offer; but he will be saved considerable wear and tear. To sit at the ringside and watch some husky ruffian hammering $50,000 worth of your property would be, to say the least, harrowing.

Should Kilbane fall into ill health or break an arm or suffer any other accident; or should some reform stop boxing in California, Uncle Tom would have had the distinction of burning up 50,000 smacks for absolutely nothing.

For a good many years, Johnny has been living on the lean edge of the rind, fighting for little or nothing to get to the top. Now he is determined to rake in all the honest money there is in sight. From the attitude with which both Jimmie Dunn and Johnny Kilbane went East, it is very probable that Kilbane already has contracts on hand that would make it impossible for him to give McCarey his exclusive services for the next two years.

Horsemen Busy.

RICH PURSES FOR FLYERS.

Harness Horse Association to Have Big Meeting.

To Spend Large Sum for Stand at Park.

Local Horsemen Guarantee the Stake Money.

BY GREY OLIVER.

"Take it from me, Los Angeles will be on the racing map from now on and some of the live local sportsmen of this city will prove it to the skeptical before the next six months."

This was the declaration last night of Shirley Christy, secretary of the Pacific Coast Fair and Racing Circuit, who is in this city for a few days on his way home to Phoenix.

"To prove this I will state that five men of this city have guaranteed $20,000 in stakes and purses for a six-day trotting and pacing meet here in the second week in October. In addition to this they have started out to raise no less than $15,000 with which to build a grand stand at Exposition Park and C. A. Canfield has started the subscription with $5000. Los Angeles will certainly have a grand harness meeting this fall and I predict the same success for the entire Coast Circuit of twelve cities in which more than $300,000 will be offered horsemen in stakes and purses."

Acording to the programme $20,000 will be given the pacers and trotters at the coming meet and those who have guaranteed this huge sum are C. A. Canfield, W. A. Clark, Jr., Clarence Berry, W. G. Durfee and L. J. Christopher. They have not only promised the money but will see to it that work is commenced next month on the new grand stand at the park.

FINE CARD OFFERED.

Get Ready.

DILLON GIVES WARNING TO HIS WHITE HOPES.

BY GREY OLIVER.

"WE are going to keep Driscoll, Enz and Laird and probably a few more, but none will be dropped until at least a week or two after the season starts."

Some of the white hopes on the Los Angeles ball team may or may not see the ax in this, but a few might as well look a leedle oudt. No one knows what baseball managers will do when they have to do something, but some of the bushers might as well get the parachute ready for you can never tell when someone may be asked to jump overboard.

"We will start the team with Dillon, Page, Metzger and Howard in the infield, and Lober, Core, Daley and Heitmuller in the outfield," remarked Dillon yesterday. "Then we have Smith, Boles and Brooks as catchers and in the pitching department there are Leverens, Nagle, Tozer, Chech, Halla and Slagle.

"I intend to keep Driscoll, for he is a fine prospect and should develop into a good ball player and probably this year at that. Laird is a snappy young fellow of promise and I may hang to Enz. Bigando is a nice little shortstop and would be a better one if he could hit the ball.

"Of course it is far too early to even guess what we will do in a month from now for any player is liable to be badly injured in any game, but the ones I have named will doubtless be in the regular line-up of the team when it begins the season, barring unforeseen happenings. I do not know what Core can do or how he will show but he has a good reputation. We will know in another month what we will do or at least by May 15."

COLLEGE BOYS SCARED THE OAKS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Oaks had the scare of their lives today. Bud Sharpe brought his men in from Livermore to play the University of California and the collegians were so strong that the final score was only 3 to 2 against them. In fact but for the nervousness of the Blue and Gold and the two hits of Bert Coy, there is no telling what might have happened, as the Oaks couldn't seem to hit the ball and only got six bingles off Forker, the California twirler.

Left-hander Parkin and Martinoni pitched for the commuters, the former working four innings and allowing but one hit, Martinori struck out the first six men who faced him and then allowed a single and a double which with the squeeze play gave California two runs. Judging from the comment, the Oakland fans do not think so much of their club after today's spectacle.

Bert Delmas, who was secured on a trade from Los Angeles for Pitcher Flater is expected to report at once. The score:

Oakland	3	6	2

Batteries—Parkin, Martinoni and Tiedemann, Forker and Stoner.

CHIEF BENDER IS HIT BY ATHLETICS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 19.—"Big Chief" Bender, loaned to the San Antonio team of the Texas League, lost today's exhibition game to the Philadelphia Americans. When Bender went in to pitch in the fifth inning the score was 6 to 5 in the locals' favor. In the seventh the Philadelphia players got six hits off Bender and scored five runs. The game ended 10 to 7, in favor of the major leaguers.

MRS. J. V. ELIOT LOSES CHAMPIONSHIP BY DEFAULT

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE first round matches for the championship were played off on the Los Angeles Country Club links yesterday.

As was almost inevitable, Miss Katherine Harley of Redlands defeated Mrs. Frank Griffith with a rather sweeping victory, 5 up and 4 to play. Miss Harley continued the previous day's steadiness of play, and her driving was in that confident, capable class that blithely carries all the bunkers it intends to carry, or obediently remains this side of them at command. Mrs. Frank Griffith was putting well, but as Miss Harley was no means poor in this respect, it served her to small advantage.

A surprise came in the default of Mrs. J. V. Eliot to Mrs. L. M. Kennett. This was, indeed, relinquishing the championship honors without a fight. Thus both of last year's champions, Norman Macbeth and Mrs. Eliot, step down in the semi-finals, in this year's events.

Miss Katherine Mellus was playing very much better yesterday. She seems to have got back into the swing of things and to feel more confidence in herself. Mrs. Cochrane was not by any means playing poorly, but Miss Mellus defeated her by 4 up and 3 to play.

Mrs. Van Dyke was also the victor in her match, beating Mrs. Bishop by 2 up and 1.

This leaves Mrs. L. M. Kennett and Miss Harley to meet in the semi-finals today, Miss Mellus and Mrs. Van Dyke also playing together.

CONSOLATION EVENTS.

The consolation event also takes place today, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Eliot, Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Perley being eligible.

In the second flight match Miss Clark defeated Mrs. Perley by 2 up, after a most interesting match. They are both from San Gabriel and are in the habit of playing together, so that both players showed to the best advantage, considering the difficulties of the course.

Mrs. Requa, who drew a bye, plays Miss Clark in the second flight finals today.

TODAY'S GOLF.

Annandale: Invitation tournament.

Nine a.m.—First round match play for all flights.

One p.m.—Second round match play for all flights.

Los Angeles: Women's championship.

A. M. semi-finals for championship.

P.M. consolation, 18-hole medal play.

Tomorrow, Thursday, will see the California Women's Golf Association match, eighteen-hole match play against Bogey, for which several more women visitors are expected. So many of the women players are scared at the idea of taking part in a championship event, who will enthusiastically enter a lesser contest, so Mrs. Harry Kearne of Riverside will be one of those to arrive today for the final play. Mrs. Chase may also come, and it is hoped that Miss Margaret James will be one of the players.

Really the women need not have been so sensitive about their scores in their qualifying round. In the men's invitation tournament at Annandale there was a whole flight well up in the 100's and the men were perfectly shameless about it. This should give greater confidence to women players in future, and they should remember that only by entering the many various tournaments will they ever become really proficient in the gentle art.

Should the championship finals result in a contest between Miss Harley and Miss Mellus, they will probably have a large gallery to spur them on to great deeds. Both players are tall and of exactly similar build, both have sunset tresses, very blue eyes, and both excel at driving. If Miss Mellus can steady down on her putting it would prove an equal contest with Miss Mellus having the advantage of playing on her home links.

At Annandale.

M'LAUGHLIN WINS TROPHY IN QUALIFYING ROUND.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

THE Annandale Country Club has a genius for giving highly successful invitation tournaments. The women's event recently met with unprecedented success, and now comes the men's with nearly 150 entries. Many of the visitors are newcomers from the East and Canada, as well as from the surrounding clubs.

The qualifying round produced four complete sixteens, and in addition there were many shy creatures who preferred to be represented by "No card".

Michael McLaughlin heads the qualifying list with the very excellent score of 77, two better than Armstrong, the double champion. The caddies were betting on him noisily when I arrived and when later he was proclaimed the winner of the Qualifying trophy, the young rascals danced a wild hornpipe. If he is as popular with the members as he is with the caddies he must surely suffer from an embarrassment of affection.

His card was as follows:

Outward:	5	4	4	6	4	4	3	4	4—38
Home:	3	7	4	3	4	4	5	5	3—38

"The most interesting thing about that score," he said, meditatively, as it was being inscribed on the board, "is the very remarkable way in which I messed up those two bad holes and Trojans in Trim.

CINDER SQUAD HAS BIG TASK.

Cromwell's Men in Pink of Condition.

Throop and Swiggett Most Likely Winners.

Varsity Baseball Team's Last Game Today.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The Trojan athletes, who are going to make the northern trip this week for games with Stanford and Berkeley, were put through their paces with much gusto yesterday by the coaches in charge of the squads. Dean Cromwell has his track men rounding into the pink of condition and when he sends them into the fray with the men up North the home rooters can expect to be proud of the results.

The track team will have to carry the heavy burden, as it will be pitted against the entire university in each case. The northern trainers always use all the men possible in every event, so as to give them a good tryout before the intercollegiate meet, when the two northern rivals clash.

Therefore, the thirteen cinder men, who are going to represent the Trojans, will be sent against a large field in every race and field event, this, of course, will make the competition all the harder. The large entry list from the northern universities will give all the second and third points to the enemy, while U.S.C. will have to be content with the split in first places and the resulting second places when the northerners take the first places from the star men on the visiting squad.

THROOP IS FAST.

Throop is going at his best now and when he opens up in the North, will be running in the best form he has shown so far this season, and as far as that goes, in the best form he has shown for over a year. He is getting away from his marks well and has developed his old-time finish in the last forty yards. In the race last Saturday, when he took the measure of "Fui" Woods of California in both the 100 and 220, he was going at a 10 flat gait and a 22 flat pace, but the strong wind and the slow track naturally cut off the needed fifths to make these marks stick.

While speaking of the tracks, we might say that when it comes to comparing records between Stanford, Berkeley and U.S.C., no definite line of comparison can be determined, for the simple reason that the northern trails are from a second to two seconds faster than the local cinder path in the middle-distance races, and in the sprints there is about a difference of one to two-fifths of a second, so the fact that all the U.S.C. men have been going slower than the men up State, does not mean that they are going to be left far in the rear.

Take Tipton, for instance. His best time is 2 minutes and 4 seconds on the U.S.C. track, but in all these races he has shown a clean pair of heels to men credited with much faster time, and so it stands to reason that when he gets on a speedy trail he will slip a few of the seconds from the time.

SWIGGETT AT HIS BEST.

Swiggett is in better trim now than he was for the Berkeley meet and he knows that there are a bunch of long-distance veterans in the North, who are just naturally itching to get his number. He has beaten Crabbe of Berkeley and Dodge of Stanford and now both these worthies are looking for him, and Woods of Berkeley is also nosing about for a chance to get a crack at our little wonder in the eight-lap stuff.

The remainder of the U.S.C. team is o.k., and will make the northern bugs sit up and take a deal of notice. Some reputations are going to be made on this trip and likewise there will be a few ruined, but we hope that all the latter cases will not be past recovery and further, that they will be fit the northern camp.

Both Stanford and Berkeley will send their full teams against U.S.C., and Pomona in these track meets, as one will want to show the other up. Beeson, Allan and others who were not able to make the southern trip, will be on hand for this meet and further the freshmen of Berkeley will also be lined up against the south, thus making a formidable number of stars.

VARSITY NINE HAS CHANCE.

The baseball team will not have such a hard time, as all that can play at one time on a diamond aggregation is nine, so the local men can hew them down one at a time, something like Horatio at the bridge.

The U.S.C. team plays the Vernon second squad this afternoon on Bovard field, and this will be the last real game before the clashes with the north. Coach Burrell will use several of his varsity pitchers this afternoon for, as the time draws near for the games with California, he does not want any of his three heavers to get bad. The fact that the college players have the Vernon men on the home lot has put a lot of confidence in them and Hap's recruits will have a rough time, according to the talk peddled around the campus yesterday afternoon.

TENNIS TEAM PICKED.

The U.S.C. tennis team, which will meet Stanford University Monday and Tuesday of next week on the Palo Alto courts, will be composed of Newell, Weller and Oxnam, of the College of Liberal Arts and Dixon of the law school. Miss Lily Kincade and Miss Wellbourn will compete in the women's events.

Dixon won his place on the team and his trip north by defeating Chaffee and Morrow in straight sets yesterday afternoon on the U.S.C. courts. Chaffee failed to land a game in the first set with Dixon, but forced Dixon to a deuce set in the second, the lengthy law school representative taking the set and match 7-5.

The warming up Dixon secured in his match with Chaffee prepared him for everything Morrow could show and both sets went to 6-2.

The southern Carnivals are confident of making a strong showing against their northern rivals. Three men will play in the singles events, Newell, Weller and Oxnam. The Stanford representatives in the singles events will be Murray, Morgan and Sheldon. Newell will probably line up with Murray, Weller will play Morgan and Oxnam will meet Sheldon. In the doubles Weller and Oxnam, Newell and Dixon will probably be the combinations.

CAPT. MADDOCK OF U.S.C. PLAYS NO MORE BALL.

It was announced last night that Roy Maddock, captain and catcher of the University of Southern California baseball team, would not be able to make the trip North with the Trojan ball tossers, as he is still unable to leave the hospital, where he has been confined with a bad case of blood poisoning, due to a broken finger, sustained in one of the practice games earlier this season.

Roy has been out of the game for three weeks and it was thought he would be O. K. for this trip in the capacity of assistant coach to Len Burrell, but he had a turn for the worse last night and will not be out again this season.

"Nig" Miller of the law department will be taken in his place and will be used in the outfield, one of the regulars being held in reserve in case Hap O'Connor goes bad or gets a bump. Hap has a big job to catch all the games while in the North, but if anybody can turn the trick it will be Hap.

ENTRIES FOR STANFORD MEET TO CLOSE EARLY.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 16.—Entries for the seventh annual high school track meet, which is to be held on Stanford oval, April 13, and for the "prep" tennis tourney, April 12, are to close April 5, according to a decision of the board of governors today. Entries are coming in so fast that unless the board has several days in which to handle the crowd it is likely that confusion would be the result on the day of the meet.

As yet no team entries have been received from the South, but the high schools of Los Angeles again are being counted on to enter men.

Each team will be permitted to enter three men in each event. The relay teams are to be composed of five men. The discus throw is to be added to the regular events and points will be counted in this event. The javelin throw also is to be held, but no points will be granted, the event having the same status as the discus throw heretofore.

Bert Kerrigan of San Francisco, formerly a prominent athlete of the Multnomah Club, has been engaged as starter of the meet.

Boy Athletes.

AUSTIN FEAVEL WON TRIP TO TIMES CATALINA CAMP.

Hotly Contested "Home Meet" of the Fifty-second-street School Brought Out Hundreds of Cheering Spectators—Even the Girls Caught the Thrill and Went Into the Races.

BY ARTHUR LEE.

ONE of the most closely contested home school track meets of the present grammar school series was held at the Fifty-second-street school Tuesday afternoon at 3 p.m. under the direction of Principal White and Physical Director Dr. F. W. Townsend. The meet was a conspicuous success, both from the way the boys of each division contested the various events and from the enthusiasm and interest shown by both the pupils and teachers in the races and jumps.

Each boy who won a race or jump was heartily cheered by hundreds of admirers. All had their individual boosters. In the jumps every boy was cheered as he cleared each successive height.

Austin Feavel, 925 West Forty-ninth street, was the winner of the capital prize of the meet, which was an eight-day vacation trip to The Times Catalina Camp, which opens June 29.

The spectators gave their first round of cheers when Earl McGarry won the junior fifty-yard dash on a rough street in seven seconds. Ralph Sturgess only got third in this race, but came back and surprised McGarry by winning the 100 in fourteen seconds. Roy Carter, who took second in both the short dashes, came home a winner in the 220-yard dash in twenty-eight seconds. McGarry came home first in 302-yard dash and Sturges continued the fierce see-saw race for points by winning the high jump. It was Carter's turn next, and he took both the broad and shot.

The competition in the senior division was just as keen, but all the excitement was for second and third places, as Feavel was always well out in front in the races and only lost the high jump after four boys, who were tied for first, started to jump off the tie. Raymond Whitcomb made a beautiful jump and cleared four feet, three inches in good form, winning the event.

So great was the athletic enthusiasm that the girls got the fever and wanted to race. In the girls' senior forty-yard dash, Vivian Clark won in five and two-fifths seconds, which is just as fast as the boys' race. Helen Mathews just beat Agnes Norberg out for second by six inches.

The girls' junior forty-yard dash went to Edith Delmonico; Adrian Campbell and Ruth Pfieherdt took the other places.

The presentation of the blue, red, and white ribbons to all the juniors and seniors in both the boys' and girls' divisions, who won first, second and third places, were made by Prof. White.

The girls were just as proud of their ribbons as the boys and rightfully so, for they ran faster. The next thing will be a girls' track meet (maybe.)

The officials of the meet were Dr. Townsend, timer and judge; Prof. White, judge and referee; H. Gillett, clerk of the course; Arthur Lee, starter.

BY GREY OLIVER.

Los Angeles, 8; Occidental, 1.

Nothing to it yesterday out at the Occidental campus.

College boys are nice little fellows but they had no more chance yesterday with the Angels than they would have trying to beat Pierp Morgan out of five cents.

The principal reason was that almost every time they swung at the ball it wasn't there and this, too, with Dillon using a tryout pitcher. This one was Gober and but for his wildness in the third inning the College boys might have been shut out. In five innings he allowed but three singles and each in a different inning and then Leveners took his place for the last four innings and gave them but one scratch single.

Altogether the Kids had hard sledding, but they put up a fine fielding game, the only blunder being made by the shortstop. They made up a nice little bunch of fielders and they might have had stage fright in going against a bunch of leaguers.

Young Mister Allen heaved for them and did very good work, except in the fourth inning, when he gave a pass and was rapped for a home run, a triple and a single, which netted four runs. The Angels made enough runs in the first inning to win with and they got plenty in the fourth.

Bigando showed up in good shape at short and Bush Stevens was there in the catching line. For Oxy Bishop played a pretty game in left and had seven outs, while Kirkpatrick showed in a nice double play, catching Driscoll's fly in right in the first inning and doubling up Daley at the plate.

In the first Bigando was safe at first when Lawson juggled his grounder, got to second on Page's pass, stole third and both men scored on Daley's triple to center. In the third Gober's triple to right and Bigando's sacrifice fly scored another run. Driscoll opened the fourth with a single, advanved on Laird's pass and both scored on Metzger's triple to right, Metzger being chased in a moment later by Howard's homer to center. Lawson's second error of Bigando's grounder, a stolen base and Daley's single scored the last run in the eighth.

A pass, sacrifice, a wild pitch and a scratch single scored the only run Oxy made, which came in the third.

The game served as a good workout for the Angels, but there was nothing particularly exciting about it, except a grand stand catch by Bishop in left in the seventh inning. Stevens rapped a long fly toward the left field fence over Bishop's head, but after a long run and with the wind blowing the ball back, Bishop managed to block it with his left hand and when it bounced off his mitt he caught it before it touched the ground. It was a regular circus catch.

Cooney started to play first base for the Angels, but was spiked in the first inning by Blount and had to retire. The wound was only a trivial one.

The Angels are to play Oxy at Washington Park this afternoon.

WRESTLERS TO MEET WEDNESDAY.

William Demetral, the Greek wrestling champion, and Paul Schmidt, the German-Boer grappler, arrived in town yesterday from San Francisco where the Grecian mat artist wrestled Zybysco, the Polish champion, and won a handicap contest from the foreigner. Demetral and Schmidt are matched at the Walker Theater Wednesday night, where they are to wrestle best two out of three falls, catch-as-catch-can style.

Manager Harry Burns, who is staging the contest, has arranged to have a pair of jiu jitsu wrestlers to exhibit their prowess in their art as a preliminary. The Japs that are to compete are Kakubansan and Toyonomoro.

SUTTON BIG STAR IN BOWLING WORLD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 17.—There is something in the name of Sutton in the bowling world. Two members of the Sutton clan, Larry, of Rochester, N. Y., and Phil of Louisville, Ky., are leading three of the four events in the American Bowling Congress tournament, now in its final week.

With a score of 679, Larry Sutton rolled into the lead of the individual event a week ago. Today Phil Sutton, paired with Nelson Owen of Louisville, hung up a score of 1259 for the premier position in the doubles. Half an hour later Sutton scored 628 in the singles, which gave him first place in the all-events with 1843 pins.

Phil Sutton's total is five pins better than the mark made by Al Sallander of Chicago, who had led the all-events since the third day of the tournament.

The score made by the Kentucky appears to be winner of the first prize. In the eleven preceding tournaments his score has been beaten but once, Al Schwoegler and F. Schuler of Madison, Wis., getting 1306 in the tournament of 1903. Last year Hartley and Fowler of East Liverpool, O., won the honors at St. Louis with 1246.

Sutton was the main factor in making the big total.

WEDNESDAY MORNIN

Mr. Wa

Joe Rivers felt pretty badly about hitting Jack White after the bell rang in their recent fight. Joe seamed to feel worse over it than White.

Joe said yesterday afternoon, "I was surprised when I went back to my corner after it happened. Willie Rooney told me that I had hit Jack after the bell rang. The only way that I can account for it is that a moment before I was taken to my corner, White and I were in a clinch and we were talking to each other. The bell must have rung at that time and I did not hear it. I looked around and found Rooney in the ring and asked him what he was doing there.

"Willie said, 'The bell rang.'

"I went to my corner and Mr. Eyton walked over to me and warned me to be careful. I could hardly believe even then that I did such a thing. But when he said so, I believed that I had done so and insisted in walking over to Jack's corner and apologizing for it, but Rooney would not let me do so.

"Why should I foul Jack at that time when I knew that I had him beat?

"That is the first time I ever did such a thing in all my fights and am very sorry that it happened.

"If Jack had beaten me, I would be the first one to shake hands with him. When I fought Dixon, he fouled me several times and I never complained until he kicked me and then I thought he was going too far.

"I sincerely hope that my friends will believe that I did not hit Jack intentionally. I did not hear the bell ring."

These things often happen in a fight and should be overlooked unless it is absolutely intentional or when the man hit has his chances jeopardized. It is rarely done intentionally.

Willie Rooney appeared on Spring street yesterday afternoon in his new checkered suit that he won from Joe Rivers.

Rooney bet Rivers that he would knock White out inside of twelve rounds.

Joe said that he did not think he could do so before the seventeenth and took the bet. When Joe came back to his corner after putting White down in the second round, Rooney said to him, "You do not need me any more. I am going out and order that suit right now."

Joe replied, "I think you have me trapped and you win."

During the minute's rest between the tenth and eleventh rounds, Rivers said, "I am going to knock him out in the next round." But he missed it by one round.

Rooney appeared in front of Al Herreswald's Monday morning in his new suit and as soon as Joe Levy got a peek at him he said, "Are you a fight fan or are you one of Billy Van's theatre company?" Willie is surely proud of that hot suit.

Dick Wheeler left for Chicago Monday afternoon on the 3:15 train and was accompanied to the train by Joe Rivers in his machine with Joe Levy, Willie Rooney and his brother, Sam Fratella and Andy Rivers. Dick is going back to see his folks and try and get a match with any of the welterweights in the East. Dick should make good in that class and his friends all wish him good luck.

Beyrl Hatton, the little Los Angeles featherweight, is hot after Battling Chico. He met Joe Levy on the street a few days ago and asked him for a match with Chico.

"What weight can you make," said Levy.

"One hundred and fifteen pounds," said Hatton.

"You are on," said Joe, as he walked away.

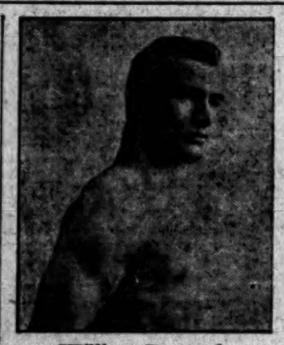
Hatton looked disappointed and said, "That is the last I will hear of that. I have been after Chico for a year and Levy will not give me a chance at him. I will meet any boy in this part of the country at that weight." Hatton is a good boy and would make any one of the preliminary boys hustle to beat him in that class.

Frank Mantell is under the management of Jack Doyle and will train at Jack's training quarters. He will begin his boxing next Thursday afternoon. Jack Herrick, who is matched to fight Mantell, will probably train down at Shaw's gymnasium at Venice.

I do not believe that all this talk about Ad Wolgast and Joe Rivers meeting on the coming Fourth of July will come true. I got it straight from Jim Jeffries's mouth, that he has made arrangements to go to Alaska with Wolgast on a hunting trip that will cover three months' time. Just to give Ad a chance to get back into good solid health and strength. Wolgast goes a lot on what the big fellow says and that is pretty sure to happen.

If all accounts are true, they will not leave until after the month of July. That would not bring them back until after, or the latter part of the coming October. Ad would be foolish to get right into the ring with such a tough boy as Rivers before he has tried himself out on a couple of second raters. If he listens to the big fellow's advice, he will not enter the ring before next New Year's Day with Joe Rivers and this seems like the best thing for him to do.

The theatrical work that Ad is doing at the present time is not doing him any good physically. Late hours and electric lights are bad for a champion that is trying to come back. If we can get Wolgast's programme straight as to what his intentions are, let us give it straight to the fight fans and cut out this bull about a Fourth of July meeting.



William Demtral,

Who will wrestle Paul Schmidt at Walker's Theater Wednesday night.

William Demetral the Greek wrestler who has appeared in Los Angeles and San Francisco recently in bouts will meet Paul Schmidt a big German-Boer grappler who comes to Los Angeles with a good record. The bout is to occur tonight at Walkers Theater. Schmidt has 40 pounds the advantage of Demetral in weight, but the latter has a much wider experience and is understood to have a better knowledge of the game. In addition to the two wrestlers there will be an exhibition of Jiu Jitsu by two local Japanese wrestlers. As a curtain raiser Fred Johnson will wrestle C. A. Forman for the lightweight championship of the Pacific Coast. Harry Burns will referee all of the contests.

Hugh Mehegan, lightweight champion of Australia is to tour the United States this summer under the management of Joe Woodman. Woodman says that he will issue a challenge to all of the prominent lightweights in the United States immediately upon his arrival. Joe Rivers preferred.

Gustavus T. Kirby president of the Amateur Athletic Union who has just completed a tour of the United States is enthusiastic over the prominent athletes which the Pacific Coast will send to the Olympic Games in Sweden. He thinks that Ralph Rose will be one of the mainstays of the team and that Bellah, the pole vaulter from Portland, Snedegar the javelin thrower from San Francisco Horne, Smithson and Donohue of Los Angeles and Edmundson of Seattle will surely make the American team.

Harry Brewer of Kansas City a welter weight has been matched to fight Pete Shaughnessy fifteen rounds in Oklahoma City and to also meet Ray Bronson for eight rounds in St. Louis.

The U. S. Revolver Association is planning some legal action to make it possible for a man fond of revolver target practice to carry a revolver with him at certain times. Secretary Crabtree of the Association says that the laws are entirely too stringent.

"Big Bill" Shirley, the infielder of the San Francisco team is reported to have been released to Spokane of the Northwestern League. Shirley is to report at the Walla Walla training camp Thursday.

Pat Keller of Milwaukee knocked out Joe Homeland of Chicago in the second round of their fight Monday night at Quincy, Ill.

Ministers in Kenosha, Wis., have appealed to the Governor to stop the fight between Hugo Kelly and Eddie McGoorty which was to have occurred Wednesday night. The promoters say that the fight will come off as per schedule.

W. K. Vanderbilt's "Marmara" finished first in the Prix de Ville Chelive at Paris, France yesterday. His "Faventia" won second in the Prix Andree for three year olds. The distance was one mile.

Yesterday's session of the American Bowling Congress in Chicago resulted in no change in the leaders in singles, doubles and other events. Rochester, N. Y., and Louisville still hold the premier positions.

Freddie Daniels of St. Joseph won the decision over Harry Buckles of Omaha last night at St. Joseph, Mo., in the third round of a fifteen-round go. The referee stopped the fight after Buckles had been knocked down four times.

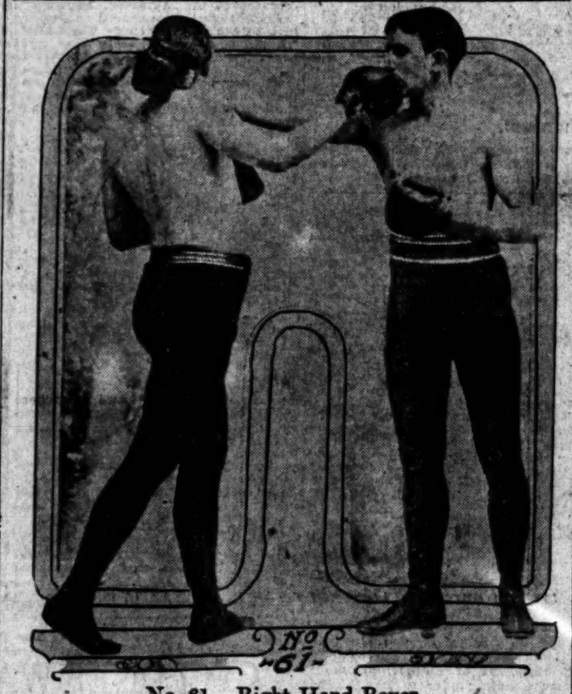
Van Court's Boxing Lesson.



No. 61.—Right Hand Boxer.

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW

BY BERT SMITH

Leon T. Shettler is housed in his new building on Pico street. No he has not dropped out of the automobile business by any manner of means, but for the first time in his business career he is working. The Apperson cars are here and Shettler is preparing to hand them out, but in order to keep in touch with his prospects he must keep in touch with the phones and with his working force. The Apperson salesroom is a busy place with the "Big Chief" issuing orders at the rate of ten a second. No lunch for Shettler these days, but a good sound sleep at night after a hard day's work.

Wild Bill Ruess has hit on another daredevil plan. This time instead of the electric chair it is the magnetized tonneau of a Pope-Hartford. When Bill kindley asks you to take a ride in his car be as polite as possible, but refuse to ride with the man who won the last Baldy road race. Now for the reason and its a serious one. Wild Bill has been using his head for the first time in many weeks.

Electric wires are conducted to the rear seat of the Pope-Hartford in such a way that the man or woman who takes a seat is handed a jolt of about 100 volts of electricity. The wires are of eight volts and sixteen amperes. This makes a combination hard to go up against. The car looks innocent enough. The wires are concealed under expensive seat-covers. Now Bill is not in the habit of giving seat-covers with the Pope-Hartfords he sells, but he has been liberal this time. There is the secret. Ask Bill to remove the covers before you take the ride or you will let out a yowl that would make a Comanche Indian blush.

This is not publicity. Two Pope-Hartfords were stolen at the "doings" at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Friday night. Frank Young lost his handsome touring car. Five minutes after he learned the car had been stolen Frank purchased an auto-lock. Too late. It is the old story. Lock the stable door after the horse is stolen, get a lock after the car has been "swiped." Now of course the way Wild Bill would explain matters is that the thieves were wise and knew how to select a good car. Of course many other machines were on the streets at the time the Popes were taken.

Danny Whitman, the Overland hustler, is certain that the rain-making stunt, pulled off by Gordon Kelly, was the goods. It brought the raindrops, but best of all, it brought the sales. Since that stunt Kelly is selling the cars at a clip that bids fair to keep him one of the high men on the floor of the John W. Leavitt Company's branch. Business is good is the report of Manager Whitman.

John S. Mitchell, president of the highway association, will address a big mass meeting of the national boulevard boosters tonight at Pomona. Division officials of the El Monte, Pomona and Ontario organizations will address the gathering.

Tells How Impossible It Is to "Dope" Genius.

Can't Average Better Than One in Three.

Charles T. Dazey, the dramatist, whose newest play, "Captain Lafitte," will have its first production on any stage at the Burbank Sunday afternoon, spoke feelingly and intelligently yesterday regarding the emotions of a playwright on the occasion of an important new production.

"It is utterly out of the question to give any adequate idea of the feelings a dramatist experiences when a new play is being given its initial performance," he declared.

"You might as well ask President Taft how he feels when the election returns come rolling in next November and he begins to add the totals which will decide whether he or a new tenant will have the next four years' lease of the White House. Or, better still, try to imagine the feelings of the hero of Stockton's immortal story 'The Lady or the Tiger,' as he waited for the door to open from which would emerge the lady of his love or a ferocious tiger, ready to devour him.

"It's very much the same with a playwright on a 'first night,' except that in his case the lady is labelled 'success' and the tiger 'failure.' No such lottery ever was known as that in which the ticket is a new and untried play. It contains about 150 typewritten pages in all—and they may be worth their weight, not in gold, but in pearls or diamonds, or they may be more valueless than blank paper on which they are written. They may have the vitality which will enable them to live twenty or thirty years and pour in a golden flood which may reach a quarter of a million dollars, or they may bring bitter disappointment to the author and heavy and hopeless loss to the management.

"And this result hangs largely on that fateful first performance. Do you wonder that the author sometimes hasn't the courage to be present when his play is having its first actual try as to its worth?

"I, for one, did not attend the opening performance of my most successful play 'In Old Kentucky.' After long months of labor, I had become satiated and thoroughly saturated with the play. I had lost all sense of proportion. I couldn't see it from the view-point of the spectator—to be frank, I firmly expected failure and was most surprised—agreeably, of course—when the good news came.

"One would think that a playwright who has had some twenty plays produced would become more or less callous and hardened, so that he could see the child of his brain hanged, drawn and quartered with a fair degree of equanimity, at least. But it doesn't work that way at all. If the dramatist were at all like that, he couldn't write plays.

"I have never yet seen the really fine actor who didn't suffer tortures on a first night. And it is still worse for the author. He has not only his individual fate to consider, but is responsible for the lavish outlay of time and money on the part of a trusting manager; he is responsible for success on the part of a score of able actors and actresses and above all, he must answer to the public who have spent their money to see his play. And no amount of faithful labor can insure that all will go well.

"James Keene, the speculator, originally from California, now a famous manipulator of big deals on the New York Stock Exchange, once said that with all his experience, and his power of securing inside information, he couldn't hit the market right more than four times in seven. That's altogether too large a proportion for any dramatist. One out of three is more near the average.

"So it is that a first night is just cause for trepidation. The chances are all against you. If you are a playwright worthy of the name, you will have spent many weary months—perhaps years—in the careful development of a logical plot; you will have taken a most extreme care that the characters shall each speak and act in keeping with his own individuality, for you know that plays cannot longer succeed by force of striking incident or plot alone. The people of your play must live and breathe; they must seem real, or all illusion is gone and your play falls to the ground of its own weight. Then, too, it must appeal to elemental human nature, to great basic emotions, so that it will interest equally the peanut-munching boy in the gallery as well as the immaculately-garbed occupant of the orchestra chair.

"Is it any wonder that an author on a first night is as nervous as a new prima donna on the occasion of her first appearance? Yet, by a saving provision of nature, there is always a faint hope—some straw to which the dramatist frantically clings. In the case of Capt. Lafitte, there are several of these life-saving straws. I start with the immense advantage that several of the characters are real and have been drawn by history in colors as strong as any dramatist can use, and in situations more striking than any dramatist is likely to invent. Imagine a hero like Lafitte, who is both a pirate and a patriot—for he was a gallant, handsome, fascinating gentleman, and at the same time a great rogue. Imagine such a man who is also a lover of freedom to such an extent that even when outlawed by the American government, proscribed and relentlessly pursued, he still has sufficient devotion to principle to reject the magnificent bribes offered by the British, and to send information to Gen. Andrew Jackson of the English approach, and then to fight under him so bravely at the battle of New Orleans that he received a full pardon, and the thanks of Congress for his valiant services.

"Book after book is full of the stories of Lafitte's romantic exploits, his princely hospitality, his strange fascination and the really great things he did for his adopted country.

"I am fortunate, too, in having Gen. Andrew Jackson for another character in my play—Jackson was a man of such tremendous strength, such a strenuous type, so elemental a dynamic force that the 'Terrible Teddy' himself looks the good-goody boy of the Sunday-school book, beside him. Jackson's brain was a powder magazine, full of tremendous latent forces, ready to explode at the proper moment—his thoughts were swords and his words were bullets.

"Speech after speech of his has been transcribed into the play without the alteration of a syllable. No dramatist could improve on them. He had his tender and beautiful human side. No man could be more terrible in wrath. Witness his execution of six poor mutineers, who, thinking their terms of service had expired, left the service without being properly mustered out. This incident is left out of Jackson's life by some foolish and partial historians, but I found it of great value as justifying the dramatic portrayal of his stern and relentless devotion to his duty as he saw it.

"Then, also, I found in history, the striking figure of Casa Calvo, the Spanish ex-Governor of Louisiana, who was plotting against the Americans in the hope that the English would conquer Louisiana and restore her to Spain, and so he might be Governor once more. Also, there is the interesting and pathetic figure of the little drummer boy of New Orleans—in fact, the materials offered were overflowing with color and romance. The creoles, themselves—the descendents of the old French and Spanish families—formed a magnificent background in the dramatic development, proud, passionate, resentful of the bargain by which Napoleon had sold them to the United States. Their loyalty for a time trembled in the balance, though in the end none fought more bravely for the American cause.

"Then there was that fascinating and always interesting problem of why should Lafitte, after having led a lawless life for so many years, show so strong a devotion to principle and duty. Undoubtedly it was largely through the man's inborn love of liberty, but the traditions of his career warrant the assumption that there was even a stronger motive—that great compelling love which sometimes comes to a man and leaves him no choice except to follow the monitions of his better self.

"All of these advantages were of great assistance in the construction of 'Captain Lafitte.' Real men and real issues, yet I have called it a 'melodrama,' because any play which crosses the limits of parlor comedy seems to be so esteemed. But the term melodrama does not necessarily imply an impossible blood and thunder story. Life is full of incidents which would be called melodrama on the stage. Not long ago, a mother, after saving two children, rushed back into the flames and received fatal injuries in rescuing a third child. Just the other day, an Italian nobleman threw himself in front of his King and became a living shield against an assassin's bullet. A great battle like the battle of New Orleans and the stirring incidents thereof could hardly be portrayed in a comedy—hence 'Captain Lafitte' must be called a melodrama.

"So, with all these great advantages, 'Captain Lafitte' will see the light, next Sunday, and the press and public of Los Angeles will put upon it the stamp of either success or failure. One thing I have learned, when that verdict comes, if it is favorable, to receive it as an inspiration for still better work—if unfavorable, to accept it calmly without bitterness or resentment, and with language of the old frontiersman, 'to pick my flint and try again.'"

WANTS K. O. BROWN FOR CALIFORNIA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Gleason of San Francisco, Cal., who is now here in New York after seeing Knock-out Brown defeat Matty Baldwin and Young Erne of Philadelphia, made a very tempting offer to Dan Morgan, manager of Brown, to come to the Coast and engage in three twenty round contests, with three of the best lightweights that he can get to meet the New Yorker. He wants Brown to box Welsh, Abe Attell and Joe Rivers of Los Angeles, beginning December 25.

KID BURNS LICKED.

NEW YORK, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Goodman gave Kid Burns an artistic trimming during ten rounds of fast milling at the Fairmont Athletic Club tonight. At the finish Burns's face was not a pretty sight. A big bump under his left eye nearly closed it, his right ear was puffed up like a toy balloon and his nose was all out of shape.

REASON FOR TRADE.

Henry Berry of the Angels has traded Delmas for Pitcher Flater of Oakland because Del did not want to return to Los Angeles. Many of the local sports think the trade was a good one, for the last time we saw Flater here he looked to be a promising heaver. Del is about all in, according to some of the sports, but that idea may be flavored with sour grapes, at that.

YANNIGANS IN FRONT.

GALVESTON (Tex.) March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The second division of the New York Nationals defeated Galveston today, 7 to 0. Marquard pitched five innings without allowing a hit. Tesrau pitched four, allowing two hits. Galveston pitchers allowed thirteen hits.

EASY FOR SENATORS.

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Sacramento Coast League team defeated the Sacramento Athletic Club team here today 5 to 1, in the easiest game of the pre-season schedule that the Senators have played this season. In seven innings the club team was retired without a hit.

Charles Frohman is to produce a new comedy by Augustus Thomas bearing this somewhat long-winded title—"When It Comes Home."

"Bright Eyes," with Cecil Lean and Florence Holbrook, closed in Binghamtom, N. Y., last week.

A new Hartley Manners play will be produced shortly before the author leaves for Los Angeles. This one will be called "The Indiscretion of Truth."

Negotiations have been commenced for a Parisian production of "Sumurun," the Reinhardt pantomime which is coloring all New York.

The life of Pietro Mascagni has been insured by a London firm for $120,000. This precaution was a necessity of the contract made to take an Italian company under iron-bound agreements to London.

Graham Moffatt, the author of "Bunty Pulls the Strings," has been in Minneapolis the past week, attending the American premier of his new play, "The Concealed Bed."

Jane Laurel, a Frohman star, is engaged to marry Robert Jordan, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Jordan of Boston. Eben Jordan is the patron saint of the Boston opera.

The Rodeo.

"CYCLONE" WAS WATERLOO FOR COWBOY CHAMPION.

WITH but four more days' events before the grand culmination in the finals Sunday afternoon, cowpunchers and cowgirls competing for championships in the Rodeo or great southwestern interstate cowboys' contests are worked up to fever heat, and yesterday's events were a series of brilliant exhibitions. The entire programme was carried out rapidly and smoothly and not an accident occurred.

Half a dozen of the most daring riders did extraordinary work in the bucking broncho contest for the championship of the Southwest. Foremost among these heroes in buckskin was Harry Knight, of Phoenix, Ariz. He has conquered everything on four feet until yesterday. Then he met his equine waterloo, "Cyclone," the as yet unmastered outlaw horse, pitching Knight cleanly over the track fence after a splendid demonstration of horsemanship by the cowboy. Knight lost a chance to have his name go down in the undying history of the range. But "Cyclone" retained his own honors. There seems little probability that they will be diminished today, although another attempt will be made to master him.

The potato race tournament, which proved so hazardous to horses and riders Monday, when Art Acord and Dell Blancett were hurled under their mounts, opened the afternoon's sport. Two games were played, J. A. Stanley's Los Angeles team defeating both Dell Eagle's Missouri boys and Hosea Steelman's local team. There were thrills galore throughout the games.

But the potato race tournament was relegated to secondary consideration when the steer wrestlers' contests opened, for some of the cleanest cut, neatest work of the entire meet was witnessed. To the observer it looked easy, so superb were the accomplishments.

To chase a steer on horseback, grasp him by the horns from the saddle, permit yourself to be jerked from your seat and then wrestle hand to horn with the infuriated long horn, is sport that few of the greatest Spanish or Mexican matadors would care to participate in.

Yet Wolfe Verdugo, a cowboy from New Mexico, ran the steer the entire distance down the stretch, caught him and threw him, all in forty-three and one-half seconds. Every time a steer wrestler engages with an animal he takes his life in his own hands. Unlike the matador in the bull-ring, the steer wrestler is not assisted by a score of picadores and banderillas. Half a dozen other steer wrestlers engaged in the "sport" yesterday, but Verdugo made the best time of the day.

HAP HOGAN'S TIGERS WIN ONCE AGAIN.

Hap Hogan's Tigers played a cracking good game with the Los Angeles High School team yesterday afternoon at Washington Park, and won by a score of 5 to 2, the game going for seven innings. Stewart and Cummings were the Vernon pitchers, while Myers heaved for the High School.

The Tigers got their first run in the first inning on a single by Kane and a wild throw by Shortstop French. The High School boys grabbed their two in the third on a single, a pass, a sacrifice and Adair's double to the scoreboard. The Vernons got one more run in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Kane and Hosp were the real Vernon batsmen, while Second Baseman Adair of the High School jammed out a double and two singles.

Hogan's team will practice this morning at Washington Park but will have a rest this afternoon and will probably watch the Angels play the Oxy team at the park this afternoon.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN AND MEN

BY OLIVE GRAY

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: In setting for the face, be careful that you do not overdo. Certain qualities. A few applications of such colors as the muscles to sag, producing wrinkles.

Blessed be a keen sense of humor. It saves many a situation, and lightens many a burden.

I do not mean by this that one should always be looking for the humorous, but to recognize it when seen, is a precious gift.

It is a pleasure, too, when you see or hear anything funny, to have some appreciative friend with whom to share it. Thus is the joke doubled in value and the first experience of it repeated as you share.

But, did you ever try telling your joke to the friend who does not appreciate?

I have one such. Sometimes when I am fairly bubbling with the fun of a situation or an incident, I hasten to pass it on and while I am relating it, she gazes, solemn-eyed; and as soon as I have finished, asks me some question miles removed from the subject of my little story. Thrown back upon the awful suspicion that perhaps I am mistaken in my sense of humor, and thinking that possibly, after all the incident was not funny at all—I usually hasten to find some one else to try it upon; and usually they laugh enough to make up for my other friend's unsmiling face.

I often wonder why I persist in telling her my jokes; but it seems as though there were a certain fascination in continuing to try to wring from her some sign of appreciation.

And Did She?

Sometimes my friend's question is so inappropos as to be quite disconcerting.

For instance, I related to her an incident of school day at the land shower. Two little girls peered over the counter at a booth where postal cards were given away and one of them asked for a card.

The man handed her a card and she, observing her companion peeping smilingly at him, he handed her a second remarking as he did so, "You may send each of your grandmothers a card." The first little maid quietly remarked: "I've dot two grandmothers, too."

"And did she have two grandmothers?" asked my unsmiling friend.

And In Parasols.

Turkish toweling parasols. That is the latest.

Of course it does not call itself "Turkish Toweling" when made in this guise—but argaric, or d'ponge, or some other euphonious name, anyhow there it is, in shades to suit the suiting of the same. In stripes in hats, in parasols—I wonder where next it will appear?

Of Glass.

I will warrant that you have looked many times at those handsome shining ornaments for the hair and have never guessed the material from which they are made.

They look like the millinery paint stones, but smoother and more glistening, although quite as pompously bright and stiff. They are made from fine threads of spun glass, and come in delicate shades.

Of the Bonfare.

The local shops are teeming with beautiful bordered goods for gowns, scarfs and wraps; and the latest fashion magazines are equally well supplied with suggestions for ways of using such fabrics in the new spring modes. One Broadway house, especially, has many beautiful silks with woven or printed borders, which set the imagination forthwith to work, creating garments for their most advantageous use. It takes true art to fashion bordered goods in really new ways.

Therefore we have supposed that certain stores carry particularly excellent goods along some especial line, and others emphasize other lines of articles, we have scarcely been our city "up" to a "specialty store," but we have arrived. Of Black Opals.

The vogue for the peacock feather is the expression in jewelry, and in many instances, the black opal—which is also called "black," has in its depths the shades of dark green and blue of the peacock feather's eye, and as its exponent. For instance, I saw a ring which singulated the most exquisite workmanship, two peacock feathers touching at the setting of the ring, where each eye was represented by a black opal. This was a rare importation.

Of the Transplanted Sash.

The sash, instead of being on the wane, is more than ever popular. In many instances it has changed its wearer, but in others its location; but there it is there. At one side of the back, upon the gown or wrap; or at the back—in front or at the front—it may appear. It may be of the fabric of the gown or it may be of the drapery, entirely extraneous stuff. I am in doubt what to do with the millinery left from anything, use it for a sash." In the whimsical manner in which the sash subject has been taken up by a well-known modiste, with the action to her word.

Combined Sash.

The sash, instead of being on the wane, is ever popular. In fact it has changed its location; but not its there. At one side of the gown or wrap; in the back—in front or at the front—it may appear. Of the fabric of the gown it may be of the drapery, or of extraneous stuff.

I don't know what to do with the surplus left from any-thing; use it for a sash."

In whimsical manner in which subject has been put to a well-known modiste, she listens to her word.

Shoes.

Shoes and buckles forms the Norman. Suited to the woman of the one-time exclusive cloth has found its way to the wrap of greater use, in most cases, by the cross-wrapped belt, which is worn the afternoon gown—and in rare cases upon the costume for evening wear.

The Summer Muff.

Senseless as the fashion may appear, the summer muff seems to have a strong hold. This pretty folderol even comes in fine muslin and net, silk-trimmed and ribbon-befrilled and—well, after all, should we not welcome anything which adds charm to fashion's figure? If we were to insist upon use—the merely useful is usually far from beautiful. What if muffs were at first intended merely to keep fingers warm in zero climates? —they have long since lost such significance—so why should they not take on whatever of frivolity they can find to absorb? Since furs have been, long since, accepted as trimming for lace and chiffon gowns, why be technical with the muff and demand that it be a "warmer?" Let it be of spider webb, if it but "add one cubit" to the beauty of the wardrobe of milady. Who dare criticise?

In Millinery.

While absolute decrees no longer prevail in millinery there is a noticeable shifting of the tall "stick up" which last season stood unfalteringly at the rear of whatever style of headpiece it adorned, and now it almost invariably stands straight at the front. Sometimes the "stick up" does not stick up at all, but rather lies sidewise, giving the flat effect which to some is more becoming.

Fashion's Whims.

Taffetas with the quillings and puffings which so well suit them are extremely chic.

Many blouses of white crepe de chine and satin are relieved by a touch of color.

Ribbon trimmings on hats of straw and taffeta will be used more than any other.

Ribbon streamers tied in the back are another feature of some of the new hat models.

Laces are combined with damasks and velvets to make dainty bags for dress-up occasions.

Frills, pleatings and ruchings are used upon every article on which trimming is required.

The jackets of the new suits are invariably short, the majority showing the cutaway line.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY VORD.

Monday afternoon at the Ebell Club, E. Alexander Powell, with the aid of some extremely interesting photographic slides, gave some inside facts that he picked up in Africa during his experience there as American Consul. He characterized the occupation by foreign powers of the dark continent as the most astounding performance in all history whereby the stealing of a continent, "lock, stock and barrel," by three or four great European powers has actually taken place. He pointed out, on a huge map thrown on the screen, the portions of Africa appropriated by these powers and explained the international chess game as played between France, Germany, Italy and England, whereby France controls 45 per cent. of the total area of Africa, Germany has four colonies—all scattered, much to her disgust—and England's transcontinental railway is held up in the middle on account of the jealousy and rivalry of other powers.

His running comments on the situation, description of places and peoples were of fascinating interest. He told in graphic fashion of the eccentricities of Abdul Hamid, ex-Sultan of Turkey, who dined at any hour of the day in any place where he happened to be when the notion seized him, which naturally kept the royal chef in a constant state of preparation and perspiration. He so feared assassination that every dish had to be sealed and his steward had to first taste the contents, and the windows in his apartments were placed high up near the ceiling to prevent any possible chance of stray bullets.

"The public school, the American phonograph and the American sewing machine are the three great factors of civilization in Africa," remarked Mr. Powell.

Judging from the costumes of the women as seen on the screen, the sewing machine, however, plays a small part in dressmaking down there. The picture of the three most beautiful women in Zanzibar revealed the fact that fashion requires only a couple of yards of cotton cloth at a cost of 12 or 14 cents, wrapped round one without any unnecessary flounces, save the full frills on the ankles, which looked like those the chef at the California Club puts round the mutton chops.

The picture of the huge elephant tusks of ivory, the largest weighing 540 pounds, explained why it is that we look to Africa for our piano keys and billiard balls, and there was an involuntary gasp of admiration when there was flashed on the screen, the view of Zambesi Falls, which the natives call Thundering Smoke, on account of the tremendous spray and roar of the cataract, which is more than three times as high as the American fall at Niagara.

But the thing that perhaps most interested the women was the picture and description of that huge diamond, weighing 3250 carats, found in an African diamond mine, one part of which now reposes in Queen Mary's crown and the other in the King's scepter, and which the Amsterdam diamond cutter shaped for the chips—the value of which amounted to the tidy sum of $150,000.

A wave of laughter swept through the audience when Mr. Powell mentioned his interview with the King of Montenegro, whose six daughters have each married into foreign families of the nobility in Europe. Our American Consul, with true Yankee thrift, observed to King Nicholas when asked what he thought of his country:

"Your Highness, I perceive that you have no exports."

Soberly, but quickly, the Montenegro King made reply: "Ah, you forget my daughters."

Club Notes.

The Matinee Musical Club will hold its usual meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Gamut Clubhouse.

The Shakespeare section of Ebell will serve a shamrock luncheon, in charge of Mmes. Anna Mayo Lane and Charles S. Anderson, next Tuesday, following the discussion of act 2 of "Cymbeline."

Dr. David Starr Jordan will be the speaker at Ebell on the first Monday in April, his topic being "The Outlook for the World's Peace." Guests will be admitted on members' visiting cards.

Philanthropy Plays a Part.

Philanthropy is playing an important part in the realm of club women. The civic conscience has been touched and when a body of 5000 earnest women set their hand and purpose toward the accomplishment of anything it is pretty sure to come to pass. In the Civics Section of Ebell tomorrow morning the subject under consideration will be the housing and care of the city's poor. Mrs. Dana Bartlett will present a phase of the immigrant traffic, a theme she is particularly well equipped to handle on account of her long association with the foreign element of the city in connection with the magnificent work of her husband, Dr. Bartlett.

Mrs. William Baurhyte will strike deep down to the fundamental root of the subject as she is competent to do by reason of her close touch with conditions in the tenement district of Los Angeles. Mrs. Summer P. Hunt will analyze in a practical way some constructive and structural work that may be done along these lines and Mrs. C. L. Michod will tell about a tour through the tenement district.

Another philanthropic programme of the week is that to be presented at the Friday Morning Club, when the entire morning will be absorbed in a study of public philanthropy. Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant will speak of the State Board of Charities and Correction; Mrs. H. C. Stockwell of the Patton State Hospital for the Insane; Dr. Amelia L. Gates of the Whittier State School; Mrs. Seward A. Simons of the Los Angeles County Hospital; Mrs. Henry J. Martin of preventive philanthropy and Mrs. William Baurhyte will close the symposium with the question, "Shall the State Finance the Maternity Hospital?"

She Wants to Know.

It looks as if the Public Welfare Committee of the Honorable City Fathers will have to "sit up and take notice" concerning that set of resolutions sent them some time ago by the Ebell Club women and which appears to have been "smothered in committee." Mrs. E. C. Bellows, president of the club, has sent a communication to J. J. Andrews, chairman of said committee, asking him why and wherefore this strange silence, and gently reminding him that a petition presented by a body of 1200 women is hardly to be turned down without at least some consideration. She incidentally calls attention also to the fact that Ebell is the largest woman's club, not only in Los Angeles, but in the whole United States and Canada.

The women want parkings in our boulevards as there are in Minneapolis and Kansas City, and urge that a definite width be fixed for the roadway which will admit of wide parkings on each side and make all boulevards conform to this plan. They complain that within the last year such streets as Harvard, Hobart and Alvarado have been paved without change in curb lines so that they now present a wide expanse of hard, glistening surface, wholly devoid of beauty. They claim that two-thirds the width would more than accommodate all the travel passing along these streets and the money which has been uselessly expended for paving the other third would have been ample to make of it a beautiful parkway.

The women "want to be shown" why the park commissions in the two cities above quoted have accomplished beauty while only haphazard results have been attained in Los Angeles on an outlay of apparently no less. In the meantime 1200 new citizens are awaiting the reply of the Public Welfare Committee.

PARCELS POST POSSIBILITY.

System Will be Installed Here If Appropriation Bill is Adopted. Would be Boon for Ranchmen.

If the appropriation bill reported to the House of Representatives by the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads becomes a law, a limited parcels post system will be installed in Los Angeles, and patrons of the office served by the fourteen rural routes will be able to secure merchandise mail weighing as much as eleven pounds.

A copy of the bill has been received by Postmaster Harrison, who expresses himself as favorable to the experiment, as there is no immediate prospect of securing general parcels post legislation.

The bill provides for a charge of 1 cent, for two pounds or less on all fourth-class matter, with a graduated additional cost for the transportation of heavier parcels as high as eleven pounds. It is believed the inauguration of even the limited arrangement for the parcels post will be of interest and general good to persons living along the lines of the rural routes and local merchants desiring to use the mails for carrying packages that under the present arrangement are not permitted to be deposited in the United States mails.

EVIDENCE ALL IN.

Final Chapter of Bay City Merchants' Smuggling Trial to be the Argument, Beginning Today.

The testimony in the smuggling complaint against Woo Wai, secretary of the Chinese Six Companies in San Francisco, Wong Chung, Wong Ye, and Wong Wing Sai, was virtually completed in the United States District Court yesterday. The argument of counsel will begin this morning.

The evidence connecting the defendants with smuggling Chinese contrabands was not seriously disputed by them, and some of the most damaging charges along that line were agreed to by stipulation. The defense will be that Woo Wai and his co-conspirators, were induced to enter upon the commission of an unlawful act by Federal officers connected with the United States immigration service.

The only witnesses in behalf of the defense were B. M. Thomas, Internal Revenue Collector in San Francisco; Tung Yung, editor of a Chinese newspaper in that city, and the defendants themselves.

MAGNIFICENT LIBRARY.

Built by a Bequest of Almost Million Dollars, Will be Dedicated on Next Saturday, Charter Day.

On Saturday, the forty-fourth anniversary of the chartering of the State University at Berkeley, the new library, built by the bequest of Charles Franklin Doe, will be dedicated. Including the equipment, the library cost $850,000, and is pronounced a superb architectural monument. It is constructed of white California granite and is roofed with red Mission tile. The building as completed is but six-tenths of its full size as planned, and $70,000 of the bequest of Mr. Doe has been put aside to accumulate at compound interest. When it is sufficient for the purpose, the other four-tenths will be added to the building, when it will accommodate 1,000,000 volumes and provide much additional space for special departments and research work. It now has over 300,000 volumes and almost an equal number of manuscripts, and is open to the general public the same as it is to students of university. It will also loan or exchange books with any other library in California.

HORSE STEALING CHARGED.

The Sheriff received word yesterday that officers at Newhall had arrested Hiram Hofenfelt and Milton Myers, charged with horse stealing. In as much as the boys are under age they will probably be dealt with in the Juvenile Court. It is charged that they stole a horse and buggy belonging to a grocery concern of this city and took a long ride, apparently planning to go far away where they could dispose of the stolen property without detection.

AGAIN POSTPONED.

The hearing before the United States Commissioner Van Dyke of the burglary charge against Charles Dean, who is charged with robbing the Montreal Bank of Westminster, B. C., of $217,000, went over for another week yesterday. It is a question whether the complaint against Dean will be seriously pressed, as his identification is said to be of a very hazy character, and the Dominion government has been slow in perfecting its charge against the suspect.

HANDS BURNING ITCHING, DISFIGURED

Cracked and Swollen. Could Not Sleep. For 2 Years Nobody Could Cure His Eczema. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

905 Lowell Place, Chicago, Ill.—"The trouble began by my hands burning and itching and I rubbed and scratched them till one day I saw little red sores coming out. My hands were disfigured and swollen, and troubled me so that I could not sleep. They were cracked and when the small sores broke a white matter would come out. I could not do any hard work; if I did the sores would come out worse.

"For two years nobody could cure my eczema, until one day I thought I would try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used warm water with the Cuticura Soap and after that I put the Cuticura Ointment on my hands twice a day for about five or six months when I was completely cured." (Signed) Sam Marcus, Nov. 28, 1911.

SCRATCHED UNTIL BLOOD RAN

Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured Little Girl.

2046 E. Ann St., Philadelphia, Pa.—"My little girl's trouble commenced with pimples on her face. Finally she got them behind her shoulders, then in her hair. At night they seemed worse. They itched and burned, and she scratched until blood ran from them. She had long light curls and when they got in her hair I was afraid I would have to have her hair cut. She was nearly crazy. The blood ran down her face and back. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and had not used quite two boxes when she was cured. I think Cuticura Soap and Ointment are worth their weight in gold." (Signed) Mrs. E. A. Cade, Sept. 26, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

At the Land Show.

RARE BLOSSOMS, LOVELY LADIES.

Society Will Invade the Big Tent This Evening.

Utah's Governor Arrives and Is Royally Welcomed.

Visitors Will Do Honor to California Today.

With "California Day" and "Society Night," the Land Show management proposes to crowd a bewildering succession of interesting events into today's programme at Fiesta Park.

Thousands of cut flowers will be distributed to the ladies this evening. Roses, carnations, jonquils and other dainty blooms were secured in large quantities yesterday.

Special decorative arrangements have been provided. The walls will be draped with Turkish rugs and rich oriental tapestries.

Delegations from many surrounding cities are expected to arrive early to participate in the celebration of "California Day."

The show will be opened with a short platform reception to Lieut.-Gov. Wallace and other State officials. Then Creatore will give a programme including many of the numbers for which he has become famous.

The Land Show Chorus will sing "The Song of the Soil," written by Kathryn A. Turney, music for which was composed by Homer Tourjee. These are the prize compositions submitted in the competition held before the opening of the Land Show.

Mrs. A. H. Burlingame, the Westminster woman who composed "California," will hear her song sung by the great chorus. Mrs. Burlingame came to Los Angeles yesterday with her family to hear the rendition of her song, which the assembly voted to adopt as the official song of the State.

The chorus of forty whistling girls, which made a hit last week, will be heard again today, led by Miss Agnes Woodward. This evening's programme will include, "The Land of Heart's Desire," by Mann; "Tzigani Gipsy Dance," by Mrs. Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "Carmia," by Gideon.

"Utah Day," held the boards yesterday. There was a reception to Gov. Spry and his party from Salt Lake City which brought hundreds of former residents of Utah to the Land Show. Directly after breakfast, Gov. Spry repaired to the big Land Show tent. After that he boarded an automobile and saw the sights of Los Angeles and Pasadena.

When Gov. Spry was here last year he visited the beaches. He said yesterday that he was unable to say which holds the greater attraction for him, the foothills surrounding Los Angeles or the seashore.

In the afternoon the Governor and his party returned to the Land Show. At the Utah booth a large crowd was waiting to greet him. He shook hands with hundreds of visitors, distributed red-cheeked apples to rosy-cheeked girls and said some pretty things about the Land Show and the enterprise of this city.

"As long as there is a show here of this kind, I am sure Utah will want representation," he declared.

The Executive Committee of the Land Show entertained Gov. Spry and his party with a dinner at the Alexandria. William M. Garland and Phillip D. Wilson represented the Land Show management. The guests included Gov. Spry, Senator Henry Gardner, Joseph E. Caine, president of the Salt Lake City Commercial Club; J. S. Bransford, ex-Mayor of Salt Lake City; D. A. Swan, J. D. Dunn, M. H. Desky, Prof. L. A. Merrill of the State Medical College, Dr. D. H. Calder of the State Mental Hospital; Glen Miller, a Panama exposition commissioner; J. H. Manderfield of the Salt Lake City Commercial Club; E. L. Sloan, James A. Melville and J. H. Houston.

In the evening the Governor paid his third visit of the day to the Land Show and heard the chorus sing the sextette from "Lucia," and "Cruiskeen Lawn." Florence Wadsworth Wallace sang the waltz song from "La Boheme."

San Diego boosters will take possession of the Land Show tomorrow. A delegation several hundred strong is announced from the southern city. President Collier of the San Diego exposition is planning and Winfield Hogaboom, chief of the publicity department, will lead the delegation. Illustrated lectures will be given on San Diego and the exposition and the San Diego booth will be made the headquarters of the delegation.

makes more aqueduct water available for the reclamation of land having no other source of supply. Nor is Redondo Beach in the district to be supplied. If Redondo should be annexed to Los Angeles, however, Mulholland says it can be supplied by waters recovered in the Clenega region. A notable rise in the ground water has taken place there within a year or two, he shows, and the chances are favorable for the permanence of the supply.

The acquisition of the Chatsworth reservoir is urged because of the necessity of securing greater reservoir capacity than the city now possesses in order ot take care of the winter flow at the lower end of the aqueduct and conserve it for summer use. The plans submitted are based on the assumption that this suggestion will be followed. This, with the San Fernando reservoirs will provide the necessary storage.

HALF-SUPPLY MAINS.

"With the exception of the permanent structures of concrete, the tunnels and reservoirs," the report says, "and the pipe designed for the city's use alone, the mains are designed of a capacity sufficient only to supply one-half the water that will be ultimately required, if distributed at the rate of one miner's inch to seven and one-half acres. The purpose of building the pipe lines on this basis at first is that much of the land to be covered is at present but sparsely settled, and it is but natural to expect that the accretion of population will be gradual and that a very considerable time will elapse before an amount in excess of half the ultimate needs is required. When the time arrives that this first system of pipes shall be outgrown, the water users will then probably be better able to add a duplicate system, which may or may not be laid along the lines covered by the system here proposed.

"In point of fact, the capacity of the pipes here proposed will be able to supply water at the rate of one miner's inch to each ten acres and it may be twenty years or more before any increase in this capacity will have to be provided."

Surveys have been made for both Pasadena and the San Gabriel country, but Mulholland says the question is still an open one whether the city should undertake the building of lines outside her own territory, excepting the matter of what is called in the report "Case I."

FROM THE RESERVOIRS.

Case I will consist of a single line to be built by the Bureau of Water Works and Supply and will have a maximum diameter of forty-four inches, beginning at the dam of the upper of the two San Fernando reservoirs, where a power-house is to be located. It will follow the San Fernando Valley in a southerly and easterly direction on public streets and roads for the most part, crossing the Cahuenga range at the head of Franklin Canyon and piercing the summit of the range by a 4000-foot tunnel, thence descending to the Franklin reservoir site after passing through a small regulating reservoir at the south end of the tunnel. From the Franklin reservoir the pipe line will be laid on public streets to the west boundary of the city at Santa Monica avenue, where it will merge with the city's general distributing pipes. This will be paid for by the Public Service Commission without outside aid will have a capacity of 2000 miner's inches and will cost, exclusive of the purchase price of property, $886,102.

Case II contemplates the building by the city and the Cahuenga district of a joint trunk line as far as the lower Franklin reservoir and sufficient for both their needs. This line would have a riveted steel main of fifty-seven inches diameter and would have a capacity of 4000 miner's inches. The total cost would be $1,176,059, of which the city's share would be $617,683. This is in the nature of an alternative to Case I.

Case III considers the possibility of Redondo Beach and Inglewood being joined to Los Angeles. It would terminate at the northern boundary of the Redondo district near the southwest corner of Inglewood and would provide a supply of 6500 miner's inches.

COULD REACH PASADENA.

Case IV contemplates a branch from the main line, described as Case I, at a point in the San Fernando Valley where the line angles to the south and will give the Providencia and Glendale districts 2207 miner's inches. This line, the chief engineer says, could be extended to the right bank of Arroyo Seco for a Pasadena supply and could be made sufficient in volume to supply also South Pasadena and Alhambra. But this is not according to the elaborate surveys, Mulholland points out, that have been made by Pasadena. So far as Providencia and Glendale are concerned the cost of them will be $378,251 from Glendale, besides an original cost of $158,525. This system will cover by far the larger portion of the district as one distinct unit to which the Aqueduct water will naturally be supplied. "The other districts," Mulholland says in the report, "namely, the Maclay, Chatsworth, Mission and the westerly portion of the Fernando Valley, require separate treatment."

The cost of a pipe-line to Maclay district will be $76,825. The line designed to convey the water to the Chatsworth reservoir is a grade-line concrete conduit, with the exception of about two miles near its westerly end, where a depression occurs that will have to be crossed by an inverted siphon. The conduit is designed with a capacity of 10,000 miner's inches. The Chatsworth main, which is shown on the map, is designed to serve the whole western end of the valley from the Chatsworth reservoir, except such land as will be served southerly from the main conduit itself. The elevated Mission district will be served by a line consisting of permanent concrete work.

NETWORK FOR FUTURE.

"The design of the network of distribution pipes to be attached to these main pipes must be left to the future, as much of the land proposed to be covered is still unsubdivided," says the chief engineer in his summary, "so that no outline of streets exists. It is possible, however, to make a reasonably close estimate of the cost. Assuming average ideal conditions, this cost may range very widely, in accordance with the purpose and quality of the work. A grid-work of sheet steel pipe can be constructed over almost any given area embraced by these districts for about $35 an acre, the mains to be one-eighth of a mile apart or on a system of 660-foot squares. Ideal construction of cast-iron pipe with all the appurtenances required in densely peopled towns, such as fire-hydrants, street-sprinkling hydrants, etc., involves an average expense, under Southern California conditions, of about $125 an acre."

Mulholland speaks in enthusiastic terms of the advantages accruing to the city through the purchase of the Franklin Canyon reservoir sites. This provides that the trunk line across the San Fernando Valley can be operated continuously night and day at its full capacity, regardless of the fluctuations of demand. "Without this reservoir," he says, "the effect of this fluctuation would be to require a main of nearly twice the size contemplated." The fall of 300 feet obtained, he explains, too, will be capable of regulation to meet the widest range of power load variations that are met with in city practice, and, being close to the city, it will not be subject to the interruption of broken lines or other incidents to long transmission. The cost of the two Franklin Canyon reservoirs, by themselves, including dams, gate-tower gates, core-wall, pipe line from the upper to the lower reservoir and covering the lower one, will be $1,057,-448 according to the plans for Case 1 and slightly increased for each of the other projects.

COST PER ACRE.

An elaborate statement consisting of many tables gives the cost of each project, or subordinate project, with an estimate of the cost per acre. A final table shows the cost per acre for distributing through laterals and mains. Through eight-inch laterals at half-mile intervals, the cost will be $8.42 an acre; through quarter-mile laterals, $16.81, and through eighth-mile laterals, $33.66. For the first the spacing of the mains would be three-mile intervals and would mean $7.18 an acre; for the second, at the same intervals of mains, $6.98, and for the third, at six-mile intervals, $6.94.

Some interesting figures are furnished as to the cost of the Chatsworth dam, the total of which will be $556,475, including mains and rights of way. The Chatsworth district will have water at a net cost of $20.38 an acre. The district furnished by the Fernando conduit will get its supply at the rate of $7.98 an acre. The acre cost of the work for the Maclay district will mean $12.19. The Glendale service will cost for construction $25.62 an acre. The cost per acre for their share of the main line to some of the districts, according to the plans that may be finally decided upon by those districts and depending in some cases on whether they come into Los Angeles city or not, will be: Cahuenga, $12.64 to $18.61; Redondo, $11.65 to $12.75; Inglewood, $11.65 to $12.74; Providencia, $5.93 to $7.26; Glendale, $3.26 to $3.88.

Says Mrs. Andrade.

MUST DRESS, EVEN IF HUBBY WON'T SETTLE.

Who's to Pay for Her Clothes?

This is Mrs. A. F. Andrade, wife of the wealthy railroad and realty man, who was in court yesterday over a bill for her fashionable apparel. She explained that she just has to have some clothes even if there is a divorce action pending between her and her husband. Justice Forbes regarded her exquisite costume and costly sables for awhile and then agreed that Andrade should pay.

EXQUISITELY gowned and wearing costly sables, Mrs. A. F. Andrade, wife of a wealthy railroad man and land owner of Yuma, told Justice Forbes yesterday that the demands of society compelled her to dress well and charge the bill to her husband even if they are separated. The point at issue was whether Andrade is responsible for a good-sized clothing account of a local house with Mrs. Andrade. Somebody has to pay and the court decided that inasmuch as the couple are not divorced the husband is responsible. He will probably take an appeal.

The troubles of the Andrades have been in the Arizona courts for some time and a divorce action is now pending in which the husband charges desertion. The court was not disposed to hear any testimony concerning the marital troubles of the good-looking pair but unavoidably some of the history of the other actions crept in during arguments of counsel.

"I simply had to have some clothes," said Mrs. Andrade with a fetching pout at her attorney and a disdainful look at her husband. "After we separated my husuband gave me $150 a month for some time but last July stopped paying me. From that date until January of this year I was thrown on my own resources."

She said she was obliged to buy a cloak costing a mere $50 or so and a plain serge dress for about $30. She said she had a few other things, but was very economical in her purchases. She declared she had carried accounts at a number of Los Angeles stores for several years and saw no reason for denying herself a few things even though not living with her husband.

The attorney for Andrade did not produce any testimony, but several of the lawyers introduced facts concerning the divorce case in order to show the court just the position of the contending parties. According to the contention of one attorney, Andrade filed one suit in the courts at Yuma and this was set aside upon motion of the lawyer for Mrs. Andrade. Later a new suit was filed. An application for alimony was granted but the question of temporary allowance during the six months when it is asserted her husband did not give her money has never been settled.

Cascarets Insure Inside Cleanliness

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowles, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Home on Thirty-first Street Is Robbed and Servant Is Suspected of the Crime.

While the family of Mrs. Ward Moody, No. 2202 West Thirty-first street, was absent from home last night someone, presumably in the confidence of the family, disappeared with a large quantity of jewelry and money aggregating about $1000.

When the police at the University station were called to make an investigation it was discovered that Anna Schultz, aged 45 years and a domestic employed in the house, had disappeared about the same time.

According to the police reports the woman suspected of the theft had been released on probation for having committed a similar robbery.

Of the property stolen last night a diamond ring is valued at $350.

The police are looking for the Schultz woman in the belief that she may be able to throw some light on the robbery.

PRINCE EXPLAINS DURBAR.

Additional interest was added to the production of the "Durbar in Kinemacolor," now being shown at the Auditorium Theater, by the acquisition Tuesday of Prince Sarath Gosh of India to the Kinemacolor forces as lecturer.

The Prince was educated at Oxford University and accompanied the King and Queen to India. Having attended all the principal ceremonies, and being personally acquainted with all the native and ruling princes and East Indian officials, as well as England's representative and European visitors. The Prince is eminently qualified to give a most intelligent description of all the incidents of this wonderful spectacle.

Deaf for 40 Years

What the Acousticon Did for a Man Deaf Forty Years.

"I had been deaf for forty years. I had lost faith in everything that claimed to make me hear. Though I could not hear conversation close to my ear, I can now hear it perfectly anywhere in the room clearly and distinctly.

"THOS. H. HARRINGTON."

We could write books full of reasons, testimonials and the good the Acousticon has done for many a person who through some form of affliction had lost the sense of hearing, but what more earnest statement could be given than that quoted above?

Thousands of deaf people are now enjoying the blessings of perfect hearing through the aid of the Acousticon. What we have been able to do for these thousands we can do for you, for 99 per cent of deaf people can be made to hear with this ingenious device. We will gladly give you a free trial of the Acousticon either at our offices or at your home.

The Acousticon is worn as part of one's dress. You don't need to hold it with your hands. It is inconspicuous. The Acousticon gathers and intensifies sound and stimulates the sluggish organs of hearing so that the deaf may hear. While this article is before you, better clip it out, so that you will have the address, and then call or write at your leisure. BEET GROWERS BY RAID ON S

THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA Beet Growers' Association, alarmed by the attack of the Democrats and Insurgents on its industry, has issued the following statement of facts and appeal:

THE SUGAR QUESTION.

The lower branch of Congress has passed a bill to remove the tariff on sugar and the country is being flooded with misinformation in regard to the sugar situation. There is probably no commodity of such general use as sugar, about which the general public is so poorly informed. Here are a few of the cold, hard facts, which will be of interest to all thinking people.

The people of the United States are the greatest "sweet eaters" in the world. We consume one-fourth of all the world's sugar. Strange to relate we produce only one-sixth as much as we use. In round figures we consume 3,600,000 tons every year, of which we produce the 600,000 tons and import the 3,000,000 tons. This sugar we import all comes in from the tropics as raw sugar and is refined by the sugar trust known as the American Sugar Refining Company. The refining process is a simple one and distributes very little wealth among the American people, as compared with the home-product, beet sugar. From the 600,000 tons of beet sugar now produced in the United States there is paid to the American farmer, workman and supply man about $45,-000,000 or $75 per ton, while the distribution for the three million tons of raw sugar imported and refined in this country amounts to only $30,-000,000 or $10 per ton. In other words, for each pound of beet sugar produced in this country there is distributed seven and one-half times more money among the American people than for the imported and refined product. If all the sugar used in the United States were grown and manufactured at home the farmers and workmen would receive therefrom $270,000,000 while if it is all imported and refined the amount reaches only $36,000,000. It would take 400 factories to produce all the POLITICAL TIPS.

Gov. Deneen of Illinois has had his position for a third term ruthlessly turned down by the Swedish-American Republican League of Chicago, which is a big factor in the Republican primaries, controlling several counties. Senator Charles F. Hurley was indorsed by the league for the Republican nomination for Governor, recommended to the party as the one candidate who can unite the party and lead the ticket to victory or fall. President Taft was indorsed for renomination. In other campaign the league has indorsed Mr. Deneen.

It is said that Vice-President Sherman is not averse to a renomination. He has made no formal announcement of his position, but William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York State Committee, is favorable to him, and it is believed by prominent members of the New York Congressional delegation that the New York nomination to the Chicago convention will be for Mr. Sherman for the second place on the ticket.

Provisions for holding primaries or conventions have been adopted by all but seven of the States of the Union. Roosevelt desire for primaries will be gratified in all but this handful of States.

The rumor that other Democratic presidential candidates had formed a combination against Gov. Wilson has called out a declaration from the Champ Clark press bureau in which it is charged that circulation of such a report will injure the Governor's chances for the nomination. Speaker Clark himself hailed the statement as he declared that it was a malicious lie to charge that he was in combination with any other candidate to defeat Gov. Wilson's nomination.

Senator Percy of Mississippi, who has been asked to resign by the Legislature of his State, says he will not do so. His letter of reply is said to be filled with accusations of cowardice, greed and malignant factional spirit. Moreover, he tells the members of the Legislature that they knew the resolution would not be obeyed.

President John H. Walker of the United Mine Workers of Illinois will support Joseph G. Cannon for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Eighteenth District. Walker has filed his papers in the office of Secretary of State as a candidate on the Socialist ticket. The district contains a large number of coal miners, and Walker is said to be able to carry a majority of this vote. The Socialists filed practically a full State ticket.

The New York World prints the following dispatch from Washington: Secretary Stimson, who made a speech in Chicago tearfully parting with Col. Roosevelt and swearing allegiance to President Taft, returned to Washington today. He was asked about Roosevelt's ominous reply to the Stimson speech issued by Col. Roosevelt. Mr. Stimson refused to talk to the newspapers about it, but to his friends he expressed himself with satisfaction. Putting his hand in his pocket, Mr. Stimson said he had in his pocket a letter from Col. Roosevelt. In the letter Col. Roosevelt congratulated Mr. Stimson on his Chicago speech and says he thinks that Mr. Stimson could take the same attitude under the circumstances."

Col. Roosevelt in the letter also advised Mr. Stimson not to mind what he might appear in the newspapers as saying from Oyster Bay in relation to the speech, as Mr. Stimson would understand that that also could not be taken under the circumstances."

The Republican State Central Committee of Rhode Island has unanimously adopted this resolution:

"That we express our emphatic conviction that the promotion of the prosperity and progress of the nation will best be served by the renomination and re-election of President Taft.

"That we regard the action described as a violation of every consideration of loyalty to the public welfare as well as of sentiment which makes for honorable dealing between man and man, which should upon all principles of loyalty, be binding upon all who have invited the President to undertake the responsibilities of his high office, which he has so ably and efficiently fulfilled.

"That we commend and indorse his policies and progressive action in the interests of his public duties, which have resulted in most beneficial results to the whole people.

If all the sugar used in the United States were grown and manufactured at home the farmers and workmen would receive therefrom $270,000,000 while if it is all imported and refined the amount received is only $36,000,000. It would require 40 factories to produce all the sugar we use and they would necessarily be scattered through the various States. Would it not be wiser to have this $270,000,000 distributed over the country, than to have the entire sugar industry controlled by half a dozen New York refiners? Is it not wiser to promote the establishment of more sugar beet factories by maintaining a protective tariff, rather than to abolish those now in existence and at the same time present the sugar trust with the $53,000,000 now going into the treasury department?

The "high cost of living" is a popular theme, and some imagine that removing the tariff on trust-made goods will reduce expenses. The cost of living is 50 per cent. greater than ten years ago. But the price of sugar is exactly the same. It has not materially increased in price at any time during that period, except briefly last summer on account of a beet failure in Europe, and even then the price immediately went to its regular level when the beet sugar came onto the market. Our domestic competition is the only thing that has kept down the price of sugar, and today we are buying sugar in the United States cheaper than in any country in Europe, except England, where the price is a small fraction of a cent lower than here.

The campaign to remove the tariff on sugar originated with the American Refining Company (sugar trust) for the purpose of reducing the price at which it must buy the raw product. The investigation of the Congressional Committee established beyond a doubt that there is a sugar trust, held in check only by one thing—the home beet sugar industry, and that by removing the tariff and importing all our sugar would be abolishing the only competition the sugar trust now has, and be placing the trust in absolute control of the sugar market of the United States, and presenting the sugar monopoly with the $53,000,000 at the expense of the American farmers and laborers.

Then where would the price go? Protect and promote our home industries.

Bon Voyage!

GOES WITH FLAG IN EACH POCKET.

CHEERS SPEED FRANK WIGGINS ON HIS WAY.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wiggins, the Veteran Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce Leaves on His First Vacation in Twenty-three Years—Given Ovation.

A departing monarch could hardly have been given a more royal and loving farewell than that extended to Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Wiggins, upon their departure for six months vacation yesterday afternoon.

Shortly before train time, directors of the principal civic organization here began assembling at the Arcade station. Former President James Slauson brought several parting gifts, and was followed a few minutes later by an automobile carrying Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins and President H. Z. Osborne. A superb floral piece in which jonquils predominated was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins. The progress of the party was slow because of interruptions by friends, acquaintances and associates, who stopped to wish the veteran booster and his wife a safe and pleasant voyage. The procession of friends and acquaintances moved slowly out to the train, their way cleared by General Passenger Agent Batturs and District Passenger Agent Lathrop, who were there to speed the parting.

E. W. Jones, the first president of the Chamber of Commerce, James Slauson and his successor, H. Z. Osborne, the present head of the organization, under all of whom Wiggins has served, Carl E. McStay, E. W. Skinner, Frank Simpson, E. P. Bosbyshell, D. P. N. Little, Arthur Kinney, H. B. Gurley and a score of others participated in the farewell ceremony. Three hearty cheers were given for the genial secretary and three more for Mrs. Wiggins as the train began to move out.

Just as the train rounded the curve Wiggins appeared on the rear platform waving an American flag to which hearty response was given by the delegation. Apropos of the flag, Wiggins said that he had an American flag in every pocket and every package he had.

At the recent annual meeting, Wiggins was voted a gift of $5000 and was given a six month's leave of absence, practically the first vacation that he has had in the twenty-three years of his connection with the Chamber of Commerce. He was superintendent of exhibits from 1889 to 1897, when he was made secretary and superintendent, which position he has since held. He is recognized as the booster par excellence of all California and has been identified with more important movements for the betterment of this section than any other man.

Stops will be made in his journey at Dallas, Colon, Jamaica, Kingston, Antilla in Cuba, Havana, Key West, Miami, Palm Beach, Ormond and Jacksonville. He will arrive in New York April 15. Following a short stay in Atlantic City, the couple will visit Boston. Abroad, stops will be made at Azores, Madeira, Gibraltar, Algiers, Naples, Rome, Florence, Milan, Genoa, arriving in Lucerne May 23.

Frank Wiggins's Leave-Taking of Los Angeles.

Accompanied by Mrs. Wiggins the veteran secretary of the Chamber of Commerce left by the Southern Pacific yesterday afternoon for the first vacation he has had in twenty years. He goes to Dallas first, and later will travel through the canal zone and finish his rest in Europe. Many friends and associates were at the Arcade Station to see him off.

"Resolved, that we express our emphatic belief that the promotion of the prosperity and progress of Rhode Island will best be served by the election and re-election of Governor Aldrich."

Commending the action deserved the careful consideration of every citizen, as to the public welfare as a sentiment which makes a difference between man and man should upon all principles, be binding upon all Democrats, the President to unquestionable abilities of his high office has so ably and effectively performed and indorses his progressive action in the discharge of his public duties, which is most beneficial to the whole people.

Governor Norris of Montana, who has charge of the Roosevelt campaign, was turned down by President Taft last March in the matter of the appointment of a marshal. Of more recent date was the turning down of Dixon by Mr. Taft in the appointment of a Federal district judge in Montana. The President acted on the recommendation of Judge Hunt of the Commerce Court and other conservative Republicans.

There is more at stake for Senator Dixon in the present fight than the success of Theodore Roosevelt. The Senator's own political future is involved. His term will expire next year, and already there is a determined fight to prevent his return to the Senate.

RATES TO HARBOR POINTS.

The recent sustaining of the decision of the State Board of Railroad Commissioners reducing rates on the Southern Pacific between Los Angeles and San Pedro has had a widespread effect on rates to harbor points. The Salt Lake Railroad has met the reduced schedule to San Pedro, the Santa Fe has been compelled to reduce its rates between Los Angeles and Redondo Beach, and the Pacific Electric has taken a similar action in respect to rates between Los Angeles and Long Beach. As yet the Santa Fe has not reduced its rates between San Diego and Los Angeles.

ALLOWED TO GO.

Justice Young yesterday dismissed the case against James Anderson, a negro who was arrested on a warrant issued about two years ago. The evidence showed that the complaining witness, a loan shark, had not only demanded an illegal rate of interest but had bid in the property of the defendant at a low figure when the stock was put up at auction. The complaint charged that Anderson had mortgaged property not belonging to him and thereafter decamped. While this may have been technically true, the court and the deputy District Attorney did not think the interests of justice demanded punishment.

FINANCIAL NEWS SUMMARY.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—Americans in London, irregular.

J. P. Morgan & Co. purchase Winnipeg Street Railway Company plant for $20,000,000; will expend $15,000,000 on system.

B. F. Goodrich Company stockholders to vote March 28 on increase of stock from $20,000,000 to $45,000,000.

Asquith to have minimum wage bill introduced in Commons today; expects to have it receive King's signature before Saturday.

British Lord of Admiralty says Britain must keep sea power 60 per cent. above Germany's.

Oklahoma State Legislature demand's Madero's resignation.

George F. Baer declares operators are willing to confer with miners again. J. T. Dempsey, representing miners, says they are anxious to meet the operators.

Arthur E. Stillwell resigns presidency of the Orient road.

Representative Underwood declares Supreme Court decisions against income tax are responsible for growth of Socialism.

Twelve industrials advanced .84 per cent. Twenty active rails advanced .47 per cent.

The stock market, while possessing a rather steady undertone, did not exhibit as much buoyancy as in the past few days. The buying of Hill issues and Southern Pacific for a time was quite aggressive, but seemingly distribution in Union, Steel and Reading was being conducted under cover of the strength in the former. London was reported as being a moderate buyer of specialties, but the disposition on the part of the continent at the present time seems to be to take advantage of the present level of our securities and liquidate same moderately, which course doubtless has been accentuated by the labor unrest abroad. The strength of Southern Pacific was traced directly to a favorable statement attributed to a prominent official of the Harriman lines, which in effect was that the physical condition of the property was entirely up to the standard and prospects good. While we feel friendly to the buying side of the stock market, still it would be advisable to confine purchases to the occasional down turns as the element operating on the selling side will no doubt take advantage of any further rally to increase short lines.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS

Although the recent rains affected the markets for produce, grain and fruits, the hay market continues firm at the old range of figures. There has not been the slump in prices usual upon the breaking of a dry spell. This is because there is no surplus hay stock in the State and the present supply, so far as local consumption is concerned, must last until the new crop begins to arrive. In the country, of course, the demand will be lightened by the growth of sufficient green feed. Indications are that the new hay crop will be light and this has helped materially to keep the market up. It is expected that there will be breaks in prices between now and May, but that they will not be sharp.

The feature of the day's business in the produce market was a material advance in most varieties of potatoes. While the demand along this line has been good, and receipts have been liberal, the market has been steadily advancing until most stock is around the $3 mark. Highland spuds were advanced 10 cents per hundredweight and were quoted from $2.50 to $2.75. Salinas were advanced 25 cents to $3. Lompoc went to $3.10 on the best stock. Oregon stock sold from $2.75 to $2.85 and Watsonville spuds were quoted 10 cents higher at $2.75 and $2.85. The market was steady under the revised quotations.

Trade in all lines of fresh fruit was slow. Strawberries were quoted at 20 to 25 cents a box. The advance was due to the light offerings, and an increased demand from the hotel trade. Only extra fancy stock was in demand.

Yellow Newton Pippins led the trading in apples. Some varieties are showing the effects of long storage and on small sizes reductions are made on round lots. Fancy four-tier Newtons continued to sell at $1.75 per box.

Notwithstanding liberal receipts of green vegetables the market maintained a firm tone. The outside demand was good and this served to keep the market in excellent shape. Celery and cauliflowers were best in call at the old range of prices. Bunch vegetables were in excellent demand.

The egg market was steady under the revised quotations of the previous day. There was a good outlet for desirable stock. On Change there was some business at 21 cents. On the street the bulk of the receipts were well cleaned up. Arrivals were 601 cases.

The butter market was firm to steady under heavy receipts. The bulk of the arrivals were of inferior grades. There was the usual jobbing trade in creamery extras and firsts at the top quotations. The market was weak on all descriptions below creamery stock. Receipts were 61,257 pounds.

The cheese market ruled a shade firmer, due to non-arrivals. All varieties were in good demand at quoted prices. No onion or bean receipts came to hand. Both markets were firm. Potato arrivals were 269 sacks.

"Where's My Daddy?"

This is the constant plea of tiny Alfred Ellis, who is in a critical condition from pneumonia at the home of his kindly foster mother, Mrs. George Howe, in this city. The doctor says the child's father must be found if the little life is to be saved.

Pitiful.

FATHER GONE; BABY'S DYING.

WEE TOT BEGS WISTFULLY FOR MISSING PARENT.

Critically Ill With Pneumonia, Four-year-old Child Is Dependent Upon the Charity of Kindly Friends—Foster Mother Must Find Man to Save Little Life.

Homeless but for the charity of kindly persons who have given him shelter, little Alfred Ellis, Jr., 4 years old, lies at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Howe, No. 616 East Twelfth street, in a critical condition from pneumonia.

Out in the world, no one knows where, his father is battling for a mere existence. Not old enough to realize the helpless condition in which his parent is placed little Alfred cries and frets for the absent one.

On March 1 Mrs. Howe was approached by a man who asked if she would take care of his child for a few days until he obtained employment, promising to pay her for the baby's board and care. On the following day he brought some clothes for the youngster and has not been seen since.

Ellis told Mrs. Howe the baby's mother died three years ago and that unable to give his son the full attention and care required he had placed him in a home for children. Finding himself unable to pay the money required, he took the child away and attempted to get several families to adopt it, but in vain. In desperation he left it with Mrs. Howe.

He promised to return last Monday, but did not appear. Now Mrs. Howe, who has a baby of her own to care for, is instituting search for him.

Seen yesterday the baby took delight in having his picture snapped and though the fever burned his round face until his cheeks were flaming he tried to smile for the delectation of the photographer.

Dr. Walter Albert, who is attending the child, gives Mrs. Howe little encouragement for the recovery of his patient. He says the father must be found as soon as possible.

THE CITY'S HARBOR PLANS.

a rather heated debate over the question of Goodrich's employment.

President Gibbon of the Harbor Commission, Commissioner Richards, Secretary Fleming, Chairman Booth of the Harbor Conference Committee, former Harbor Commissioner Braun, President Osborne of the Chamber of Commerce and a delegation of business men waited on the Council and told in unminced terms of the lethargy that has seemed to hold the harbor development in a kind of thrall for the past two years, and urged the necessity of action.

NECESSITY FOR EXPERT.

Gibbon told the Council that when the city applies to the Federal government for an appropriation of more than $750,000 for the deeper dredging, it must be prepared to back up this application with the strongest arguments. He insisted that an expert harbor engineer will be an absolute necessity.

"The terms of this expert are $100 a day," he said, "and it may be that the amount he will charge will be much less than the $5000 we estimate. In two weeks we shall let bids for work involving several hundred thousand dollars and I should like to have Mr. Goodrich here. It is essential that we should make a strong showing at Washington, and to do that we must have a big man as a backer. If we should get a second adverse report we might as well give up the idea of dredging for years to come."

Booth followed Gibbon and startled the Council by announcing that Maj. McKinstry would receive a dispatch from Washington in which he would be directed to proceed with the survey of the outer harbor just as if the Stokey report had never been made.

"We have been trying in our committee," said Booth, "to find out why, in two years, we have not been able to get a plan for our harbor. We must have an up-to-date harbor and it is necessary that we employ the best technical expert available.

"This harbor should have been planned two years ago. Our committee sent a communication to the Council two years ago drawing attention to these very needs. The fact that we have employed Mr. Goodrich will give us an argument to use at Washington."

The Council was assured by Commissioner Richards that there is no hidden criticism of City Engineer Hamlin in the employment of Goodrich.

AN OVERWORKED MAN.

"It isn't fair," he asserted, "to ask the City Engineer to assume the responsibility for every branch of engineering into which this city has been drawn by its diversified interests. We should get the best harbor engineer obtainable for this job."

Gibbon was asked if he thinks such a man as Goodrich should be permanently employed by the city. He answered that it would cost the city $35,000 a year to permanently employ Goodrich, and that the city's engineers will be able to carry out his plans.

Councilman Lusk declared that, whereas he has been averse to the employment of experts, he has completely changed his mind in the present case.

McKenzie said he would like to hear from Hamlin on the subject of the appointment of Goodrich. Gibbon replied that the City Engineer is not opposed to it.

Unconvinced, apparently, McKenzie insisted on having the question referred to the Harbor Committee with instructions to report at 3:30 o'clock. The committee rendered a favorable report and it was adopted. Betkouski voted against this report, declaring he couldn't see the need of an expert. He thought the City Engineer's trip to Europe, when he made a study of harbors, docks and wharves, should have fitted him for the work to be undertaken.

The Harbor Commission will shortly advertise for bids on four separate classes of wharf design for the 2050 feet of improvement on the inner harbor that has already been decided on.

HURRY, MR. GOODRICH!

Gibbon telegraphed to Goodrich in New York yesterday afternoon the result of the Council's action and asked him to be in Los Angeles within ten days or two weeks, to examine important plans which the Harbor Commission now has under consideration.

A dispatch was received from Washington, in which Congressman Stephens is quoted as saying:

"I feel that it is now up to Los Angeles to make such a showing of progress since the report was made less than two years ago as to convince the army engineers that this improvement is not only advisable but imperative. There can be no doubt of the intentions of the city of Los Angeles as to harbor improvement work. It is going to do its share and it is absolutely necessary for the future of the city that the government carry on this work so that we shall be ready for the great increase in commerce that will come to Los Angeles when the canal is opened to commerce."

HIS AIM IS GOOD.

Auto Driver Can't See Building But Manages to Hit It Just The Same. Will Recover.

Wayne Somerville, a young bank clerk, son of Attorney G. W. Somerville, No. 448 Harvard boulevard, who sustained a fractured skull yesterday morning when his auto skidded into a house which was being moved near the intersection of Seventh and Hoover streets, will probably recover, the operation performed at the Hospital of the Good Samaritan having been pronounced a success. The young man is not suffering from a basal fracture, as first reported, the injury being further up the skull.

An investigation is to be made to discover who is to blame for the accident. Two police reports have been made relative to whether the building was properly lighted at night, which do not agree. Patrolman Kiersey, who visited the scene of the accident shortly after it was reported, says he found but one lantern, which was in the rear of the building, and under the Somerville machine, where it was knocked when the collision occurred.

Patrolman Workman who visited the house some hours later, reported finding two police lanterns on the rear of the building, two on the front end and one under the wrecked auto. The officer reported that the machine skidded between sixty and seventy feet before it struck the southeast corner of the building. Central Station officers say the skid marks indicate Somerville was exceeding the speed limit when he struck the house.

DYNAMITE CAPS EXPLODE.

Two Dinuba Boys Seriously Injured While Blasting Tree Holes for an Orchardist.

DINUBA, March 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter Gerow, 21 years old, son of Edward Gerow, a rancher, and Joseph Jones, 19, are lying at point of death in the Dinuba hospital as a result of the explosion of a box of ninety-eight pound precussion dynamite caps which occurred yesterday afternoon while the young men were assisting in blasting tree holes on a peach orchard for Edward Gerow at Sultana.

The men were frightfully riddled with flying pieces of the copper caps. Young Gerow suffered a deep cut on the neck and under the left ear, which severed the jugular vein at the base of the skull. His condition is serious. Jones had the whole right side of his body peppered with pieces of copper which sunk deep into the flesh. A piece of copper entered his right eye and sight is totally destroyed. It is feared that Jones has also sustained internal injuries. The men were removed late last night from the ranch to Dinuba hospital.

PUNISHMENT FIT THE CRIME.

Tulare Has No Jail and Man Arrested for Inebriety Was Compelled to Walk Policeman's Beat.

TULARE, March 18.—Because Tulare has no jail Officer Wheeler, one of the night force of this city, rode herd on a drunk whom he picked up in the business district late at night, and in spite of the prisoner's pleading, Wheeler compelled him to walk beat with him during the entire night. When the morning dawn appeared the offender was given his liberty, a sadder and a much more sober man.

Tulare's predicament with regard to the jail was due to the fact that yesterday the old shack, which has done duty as a Bastile since 1872, was moved away to make room for a new one, a much more commodious and, comparatively speaking, palatial structure.

San Joaquin Valley.

NEEDHAM IS WANTED BY PORTERVILLE GROWERS.

PORTERVILLE, March 19.—Wandering after strange political gods has lost its savor as far as the Central California orange district is concerned, and there is every reason for believing that those who were shouting the loudest for "reform" principles and "progressive" laws will this year be among the very first to scramble back into the Republican band wagon.

Congressman Needham was reported last week to have seriously considered retiring from political life. This announcement was followed by the statement that several "reformers" were planning to take his place in Congress.

Today it is little short of remarkable the number of orange and deciduous fruit growers who have stated it as their conviction that Needham should not be allowed to retire and that he is the one man who can be expected to adequately care for the interests of the fruit growers in the coming Congressional meddling with the tariff.

Tariff reform appeared to have many charms last fall when it was being applied to the other fellow, but the game is not nearly so amusing now that it is proposed to tamper with the duty on oranges, lemons, olive oil and other of the principal products of California.

Orange growers by the score are writing letters to Needham urging him to reconsider his determination not to run and it is announced semi-officially that Needham's name will be found on the primary ballot.

President Taft's Department of the Interior by implication took a rap at the Roosevelt administration this week when the officials of the Tule River Indian reservation and of the Sequoia national forest were advised that land taken from the reservation two years ago and tacked on to the forest as a part of Pinchot's extensive scheme of "conservation," is taken from the jurisdiction of the forestry service and restored to the Indian department.

About 24,000 acres of land, some of which is heavily wooded, is concerned in the order. Various protests were filed when this land was made part of the forest by the Roosevelt conservationists.

In the general order making the change it is stated that the original transfer to the forestry jurisdiction was without proper warrant and that the present order is one made under the general provisions of the United States land laws.

RELIGIOUS COLONY.

Officials of the Sequoia Camp Meeting Association of the Fresno district of the Methodist churches, in a meeting held yesterday devised a plan whereby funds for improvement of the association property on the upper Tule River may be improved in time for use this summer. A number of the officials of the organization were appointed captains of teams to be of their own choosing, the purpose of the teams being to sell stock in the enterprise among the people of the various churches in the Fresno district.

Plans have been approved for the construction of fifty cottages on the property and for the immediate installation of an adequate irrigation system.

This ground, which includes about sixty acres of fine property on the river bank in the foothills, will be for the use of all church societies, as well as for a general camping ground for the summer, this latter use of the tract being open to all who care to make use of the property. It is one of the first projects of the kind ever organized in this State.

Officials of the various teams include Rev. George Steed (pastor of the First M. E. Church of Porterville,) C. H. Turner of Lindsay, Rev. C. H. Rader of Delano, Rev. A. W. Clark of Springville and Rev. A. W. Brink of Visalia.

FEDERAL INJUNCTION IGNORED BY TRUSTEES.

EXETER, March 19.—After defying an injunction from the United States District Court by last night selling the power and light franchises advertised in local papers and which was bought by the Tulare County Power Company for the sum of $100, the members of the City Council are today anything but easy in their minds as to what will happen next.

C. W. Rogers, representing opposition interests to the local co-operative concern, was yesterday refused a writ of prohibition by Judge Wallace in the Superior Court in Visalia. Rogers immediately wired his attorneys in Los Angeles and the writ was secured from the United States District Court. An additional writ was secured late in the afternoon from Judge Allen.

When the hour for selling the bids arrived, Mayor Waddel read the formal advertisement and after its reading stated: "I, for one, am in favor of going on with the sale if we all go to jail for it." The Council voted unanimously to proceed with the sale and the franchise was awarded in due course to the local company.

Legal advice on their position has been secured and local attorneys believe the writ from Los Angeles applied only to the judicial aspect of the case and cannot be made to apply to the sale. In any event, the Mayor and the Councilmen have retained counsel and expect to fight it out to the end if they are taken into court on contempt charges. Public sentiment is distinctly in favor of the local company, and financial aid in large amount has been promised the officials if the matter is taken into court by Rogers.

EARL STANDARD VS. UNCLE SAM.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY BEGINS ON POMONA CASE.

Auditor Mushet, Who Uncovered Extent of Gigantic Steal, Is First Witness — Prisoner Confronted With the Books—Graham to Be Re-elected Head of Bank.

With the arrival of the books of the looted American National Bank of Pomona, and active sifting of the huge defalcations before the Federal grand jury, the government's case against Earl Standard, financial wizard, took definite shape yesterday.

Standard was taken from his cell in the County Jail to the private offices of Assistant United States District Attorney Regan and confronted with the falsified records last night. This followed a long interview with President Graham, of the despoiled institution, and it is stated that Standard admitted without reservation the charges and explained the method by which he was able to get away with the capital stock and half the surplus of a national bank without any one appearing to have known about it. It is further stated that Standard is now ready to go before the grand jury and repeat the statement.

Regan, who has charge of the prosecution, said yesterday that he has so far uncovered no evidence supporting the theory that Standard was not alone in his machinations. The investigatio nis to go on without any presupposed ideas, however, and no guilty person will be permitted to escape.

Two tin boxes, dug up by Deputy Marshal Dingle under an orange tree near the Standard home in Pomona, were brought to the marshal's office yesterday an diater turned over to the prosecutor. They now bear the government's seal and no one has been permitted to see the contents. The latter are said to consist in a number of cancelled cashier's checks.

The case was formally taken up by the grand jury at 2 o'clock with the testimony of W. C. Mushet, who audited the bank's books after Standard had skipped out and first laid bare the size of the steal. Several other witnesses had been subpoenaed but so exhaustive was Mushet's examination that he was the only one questioned. Among the witnesses to appear Friday, the next session of the inquisitorial body on the Standard case, is W. H. Gage, auditor of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of this city. It was here that Standard's "oil account" was kept on deposit.

Bank Examiner E. S. Gatch, who has bought an interest in the bank, stated yesterday that the capital stock of the institution would be immediately increased $50,000, to be furnished by his colleagues and himself and that the number of directors would be increased from seven to ten. He further said that there were unimpaired assets of $100,000 in the bank, making it perfectly solvent in every respect. Fred J. Graham, president of the bank, who it is alleged, has lost $60,000 by the Standard steal, will be re-elected the head of the concern, he declared.

SANTA MONICA BRIEFS.

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—Plans have been accepted and work will be started at once on the construction of two elegant new homes in the Palisades. Both are to be on Alta avenue and each will have spacious landscaped grounds ornamented with rare trees and shrubs. One is to be built for Dr. C. P. Thomas and will cost $10,000. It will be modern English in style of architecture and will contain ten rooms. The other is to be built by E. L. Crispen and will cost $12,000. It will be of the early English style of construction, being of brick and shingles.

Anna M., wife of William Cameron, died this morning at the family residence, Arizona and Cambridge. Deceased, who was 41 years of age, is survived by a widower and eight children. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Charlotte Kisner of this city.

C. E. Douglas, the wealthy Mexican mining man who attempted to commit suicide Saturday, has shown marked improvement. The bullet was removed from the wound and since that operation was successfully performed he has regained consciousness and is growing steadily stronger, and hopes are now entertained of his complete recovery.

Unconfirmed rumors are to the effect that pile drivers and material are on the way from San Pedro and that the work of building the new pier between Marine and Naval avenues will be started at once.

How Nature Makes New Complexions

(From the Family Physician).

It is well known that the human skin is constantly undergoing a tearing-down and building-up process. With advancing years or waning vitality this tissue-change lags; the lifeless, soiled surface skin stays on so long that its owner gets a "poor complexion."

Common sense tells us this dead skin cannot be enlivened by any cosmetic. The natural thing to do is to remove it. It has been found that ordinary mercolized wax completely absorbs the devitalized skin, in minute particles, so gently, gradually, as to cause no inconvenience. This wax, which any druggist can supply, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning. If you'd have a brilliantly beautiful complexion, just try this simple method.
